Writer: Oswald Didn't Kill JFK Dallas Police and the FBI Did

MAR 10 1975

[illegible] Lonnie Hudkins says he helped fabricate a government payroll designation for Lee Harvey Oswald. Page [illegible]

[illegible]

parently was telling the truth when he claimed he did not kill the President, who was assassinated Nov. 22, 1963 in Dallas.

He said tapes of Oswald under questioning by reporters were analyzed on a "psychological stress evaluator" (PSE), a new type of lie detector that examines the human voice.

O'Toole said PSE analysis finds "Oswald was telling the truth," when he told reporters, "I didn't shoot anybody."

O'Toole, who said he posed as a newsman and used an assumed name in Dallas in recent years to gain information on the JFK slaying, [illegible] many pages to the hypothesis that "Lee Harvey Oswald worked as an informer for one or more FBI agents in the Dallas area."

He develops the hypothesis to a conclusion that one or more Dallas [illegible] ing as individuals helped [illegible] frame Lee Harvey Oswald.

O'Toole said Oswald's [illegible] [illegible] the Warren Commission [illegible] was [illegible] [illegible] did not [illegible]

Page [illegible] more than [illegible] amines the stress in the voices of police officials who were involved in the capture and interrogation of Oswald [illegible] [illegible] of the Dallas [illegible] Hall [illegible] President Kennedy [illegible]

O'Toole [illegible] showed [illegible] such people as Lt. Gerald Hill, who led a contingent of policemen [illegible] Oswald [illegible]

O'Toole [illegible] that the police and FBI [illegible] the following [illegible]

[illegible]