SIX H[illegible] ON [illegible]ADING CUBA

Govern[illegible] Hits Arms[illegible]

Ob[illegible] Monitor[illegible]

[illegible] Department is [illegible] warnings" to six [illegible] citizen[illegible]

[illegible] Alexander I[illegible] was participate[illegible] [illegible] Cuban [illegible] leaders [illegible] and [illegible] control [illegible] of the United States.

[illegible] handed to him [illegible] Cardoza, super[illegible] Customs agent for the [illegible] District of Seattle [illegible]

[illegible] phone with the [illegible] "The Government I have [illegible] instructed to warn you [illegible] said solemnly that said [illegible] are considered con[illegible] the interests of the [illegible] States."

[illegible] warning added that "all [illegible] agencies of the Gov[illegible] are being advised that [illegible] been given this warn[illegible] that such violations will [illegible] prosecuted or prosecuted."

Penalties Include Prison

[illegible] penalties for violations [illegible] imprisonment [illegible] years and a $5,000 [illegible] offense.

Harvey Sumner, acting co[illegible] tor of Cuban affairs for [illegible] State Department, con[illegible] that such "warn[illegible]" were "in the process of being given" to six Americans.

[illegible] others were identified by Mr. Sumner as Frank Florini, Bill Johnson, Jack Griffin and Geoffey Sullivan. The name of the sixth man was not available.

The Administration's moves against anti-Castro raids were originally instituted last March, when the United States Immigration Department restricted [illegible] 25 Cuban exiles to Florida's Dade County, Miami is in [illegible] point.

[illegible] restricted were considered to be engaging in or likely to engage in attacks on Cuba.

The Government also bol[illegible] the Coast Guard and other Federal agencies in a [illegible] to maintain tight surveillance [illegible] the Cubans.

The six Americans singled [illegible] warnings today have all [illegible] actively associated with [illegible] anti-Castro movement.

[illegible] were informed that the [illegible] States had "evidence [illegible] strongly indicated that [illegible] have been anti-new [illegible] activities in violation of the provisions of the neutrality laws of the United States." These laws [illegible] the removal of ammu-

[illegible] Downed Plane; Questions Costa Rican on Raids

[illegible] HAVANA, Cuba, Sept. 14 (AP)—The Government announced today that Frank Colom[illegible] Ramos, his American wife and [illegible] Costa Rican [illegible] had been [illegible] in southeast [illegible] Cuba [illegible] authorities [illegible]

The newspaper El Mundo said Rodolfo Picado, Jr., son of a former Costa Rican President, was being questioned to determine whether he had taken part in a counterrevolutionary raid on Cuba.

The paper said the authorities had determined that Mr. Picado, a friend of the Somoza family of Nicaragua, was an arms supplier for Cuban exiles in Central America. Mr. Picado was trained at the United States Military Academy. His wife is the former Susan Moir of Glendale, Calif.

El Mundo said Mr. Picado was linked to Gen. Anastasio Somoza Jr., chief of the Nicaragua National Guard and brother of the former Nicaraguan President, Luis Somoza. It said the plane was owned by General Somoza.

The newspaper said the plane had been forced down after flying low over the Cuban coastal city of Cienfuegos, 150 miles southeast of Havana, last Wednesday. The paper made no mention of the plane's having been hit.

It quoted Mr. Picado as having said he had been forced to fly his twin-engine craft over Cuba to avoid a storm on a flight from British Honduras to Miami.

Others aboard the plane were identified as Emilia Bonilla, secretary to General Somoza, and Ramon Jacinto Herrera Cordoba.

"Cuban authorities have been unable to determine whether they [the passengers] have any participation in the trip Picado made to buy arms, and they could be only occasional travelers," El Mundo said. "Cuban authorities are continuing the investigation to determine if Picado has had any participation in recent pirate attacks on Cuba."

The newspaper said Mr. Picado had studied with Mr. Somoza at West Point "and is his partner in a muddy business."

The paper also said Mr. Picado carried a checkbook bearing the name Somoza.

"After questioning and confiscation of documents," it added, "Cuban authorities believe Picado was under Somoza's orders to supply arms to counterrevolutionary groups operating in Central America."

El Mundo also reported that a Cuban agent trained by the Pentagon had been executed by a firing squad. It identified him as Benjamin Acosta Valdes and said the execution was carried out yesterday.

The newspaper said Acosta Valdes had been seized while sending information by radio to an espionage center in Miami. It charged that he had been sent to Cuba by the Pentagon to obtain information about defenses.

Cousin Says Pilot Is Well

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, Sept. 14 (AP)—All the occupants of a private two-engine plane apparently forced to land in Cuba during a flight to Miami were reported to be in good condition today.

The report came from René Picardo Esquival, a cousin of the plane's pilot, who arrived here today from Managua, Nicaragua. The pilot and the passengers were in a hotel and would be allowed to leave Cuba, but he did not know when.

Picado Led Costa Rican Coup

Many Cubans opposed to Premier Fidel Castro are believed to be operating from Nicaragua, which lies about 500 miles southwest of Cuba.

Mr. Picado was a leader of a revolt against President Jose Figueres in Costa Rica in January, 1955. With United States support, Mr. Figueres won.

Mr. Figueres succeeded Mr. Picado's father in the Presidency in 1948 after a civil war.

Mr. Picado was in the United States at this time. He attended Herbert Hoover High School in Glendale, Calif., and later went to West Point. He was graduated in June, 1951, and he married Miss Moir that August.

---

nition and weapons from United States territory without Government approval.

Mr. Rorke, a son of a New York judge, said the Customs Department also had posted a guard on a B-25 plane that he and Mr. Sullivan were using in an air-cargo business they recently started.

"We were warned not to move the plane when we went out to our private hangar at Opalocka this morning," Mr. Rorke said. "All we wanted to do was to move it a few hundred yards nearer to a radio repair shop, and we did it despite the warning."

Opalocka is a former United States Navy airfield adjacent to Miami.

Mr. Rorke said he had been told he could not fly the plane. "But they have not served us with any legal papers," he declared, "and we are going to fly it whether they like it or not."

Mr. Sullivan was said to be from Waterbury, Conn. Both he and Mr. Rorke maintain suburban apartments here.

Mr. Rorke participated in a bombing raid on the former Esso and Shell Oil Company refineries in Havana last April 25.