Moving In

Julie and David Eisenhower, whose belongings were moved yesterday into a $125,000 house owned here by Charles G. (Bebe) Rebozo, won't have any reason to complain about their landlord.

When moving vans pulled up to 7000 Armat Dr. in the Bradley Hills area of Montgomery County, workmen were already on the job refurbishing the three-bedroom home.

A carpenter from the B and A Contracting Corp. said he was there to panel the basement for a recreation room. Also inside, he said, were painters and paperhangers.

Secret Service agents were there to shoo away the curious as the movers unloaded boxes.

Someone has a picture-hanging chore ahead. One carton read: "38 paintings for Julie Eisenhower."

© 1973, The Washington Post/Chicago Tribune-New York News Syndicate, Inc.

Maxine Cheshire 3/6/73