City Mother Gets Note From Russia

A stinky note from Russia built new hope Wednesday for a Fort Worth mother, Mrs. Marguerite Oswald.

Mrs. Oswald received an air mail letter from her son, Lee Oswald, 20, who went to Russia three years ago and is now a Soviet citizen.

The letter wasn't very informative — just personal phrases. But Mrs. Oswald was delighted to know her son is safe.

She said she never knew whether she would hear from Lee again. "I was afraid I would never hear more," she said. "I feel I will hear more now."

The letter carried a New York postmark. Mrs. Oswald was unable to determine where it was mailed.

Mrs. Expected

Speculation on the letter included the possibility it was mailed in the Soviet Union but Mrs. Oswald said she didn't believe the letter was mailed there.

"It looks like it's in Moscow," she said. There is no return address on the letter.

Mrs. Oswald said she went to Russia when Oswald first went to Russia, his mother served Secretary of State Christian Herter, asking the U.S. Sec. Mrs. Oswald said to help.

Mrs. Oswald expressed the thought Wednesday that everyone is entitled to his own life, right or wrong.

Mrs. Oswald said, however, that if her son ever expressed a desire to return home because he had made a mistake, she would make further moves to aid him.

The mother said she gets the impression Lee is happy in the Soviet Union. "I think he's a kind people who have worried and hoped along with me since he went over there."

Passport Turned in At Moscow

BY JACK DOUGLAS

Lee Harvey Oswald, 20-year-old ex-marine from Fort Worth now in Moscow, turned in his American passport and asked for Soviet citizenship Saturday morning.

Oswald, whose mother and brother live here, strode into the American embassy, according to Star-Telegram wire service reports, slapped down his passport on the consul's desk and said:

"I have made up my mind. I'm through."

His mother is Mrs. Marguerite Oswald, a widow who lived at 604 Bristol Rd. until about two months ago, a brother, R. L. Oswald, lives at 7312 Davenport.

Oswald's decision, even his presence in Russia, came as a shock surprise to his family here.
