OSWALD

105-82555

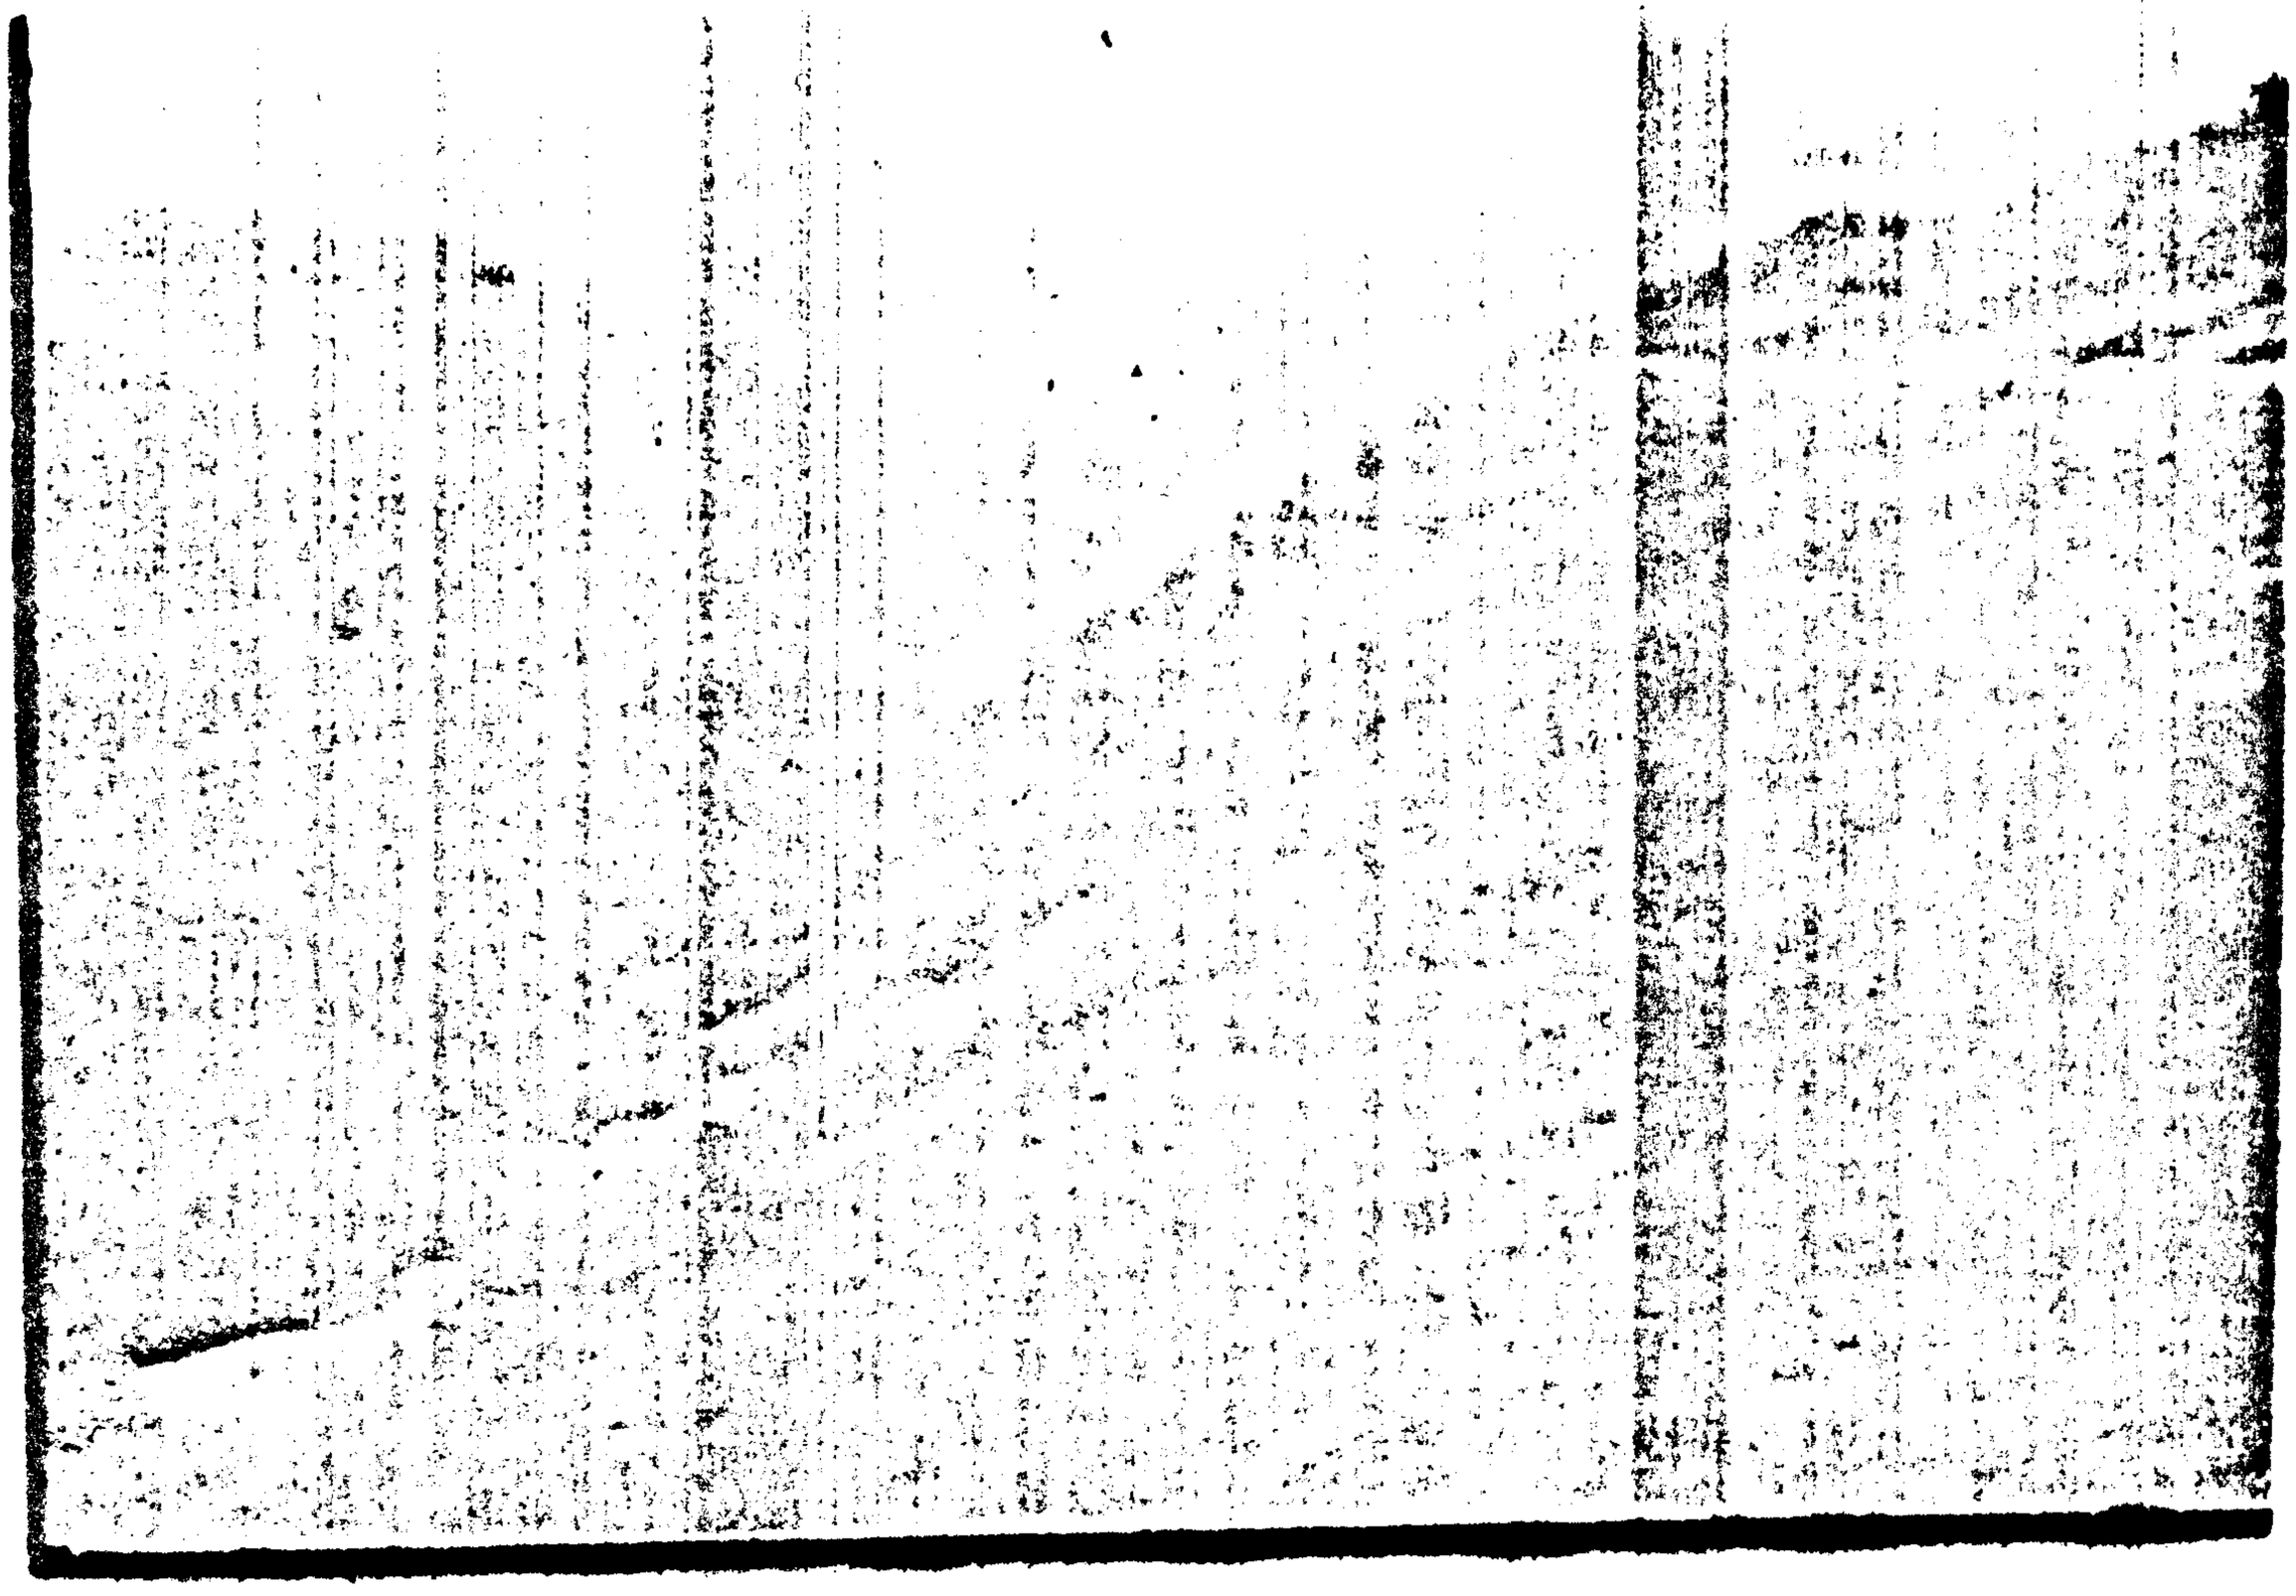
SERIAL 5480 EBF

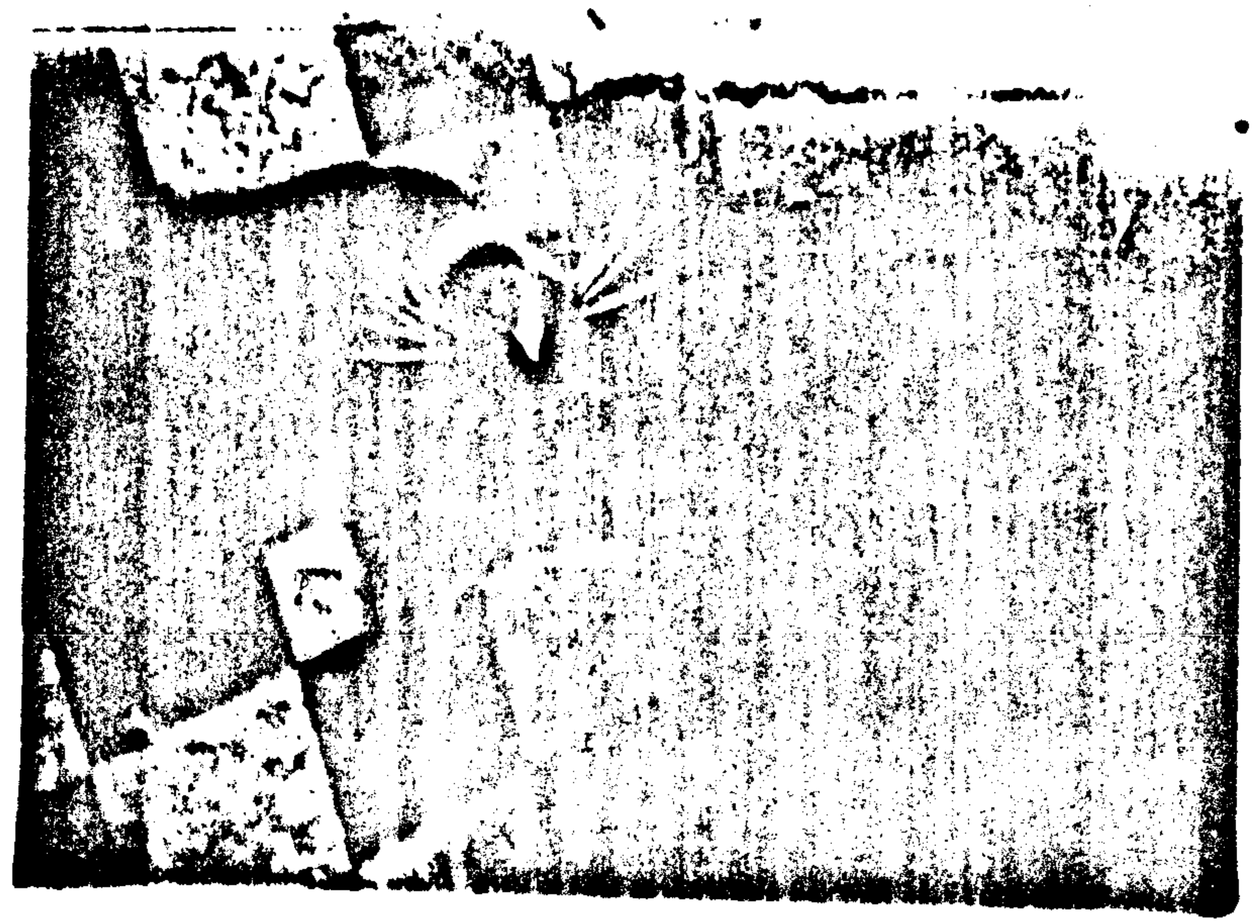
(PART 24)

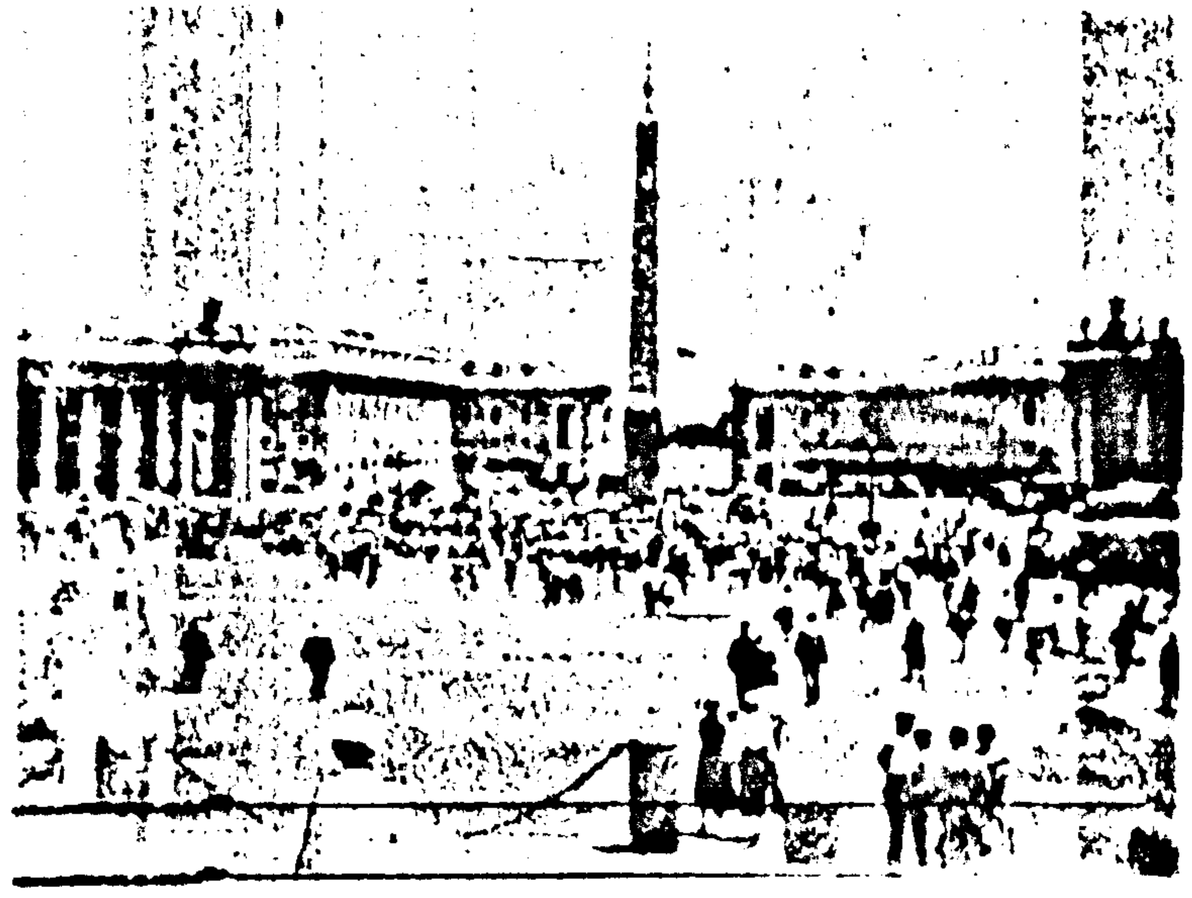
USCPR

377-417

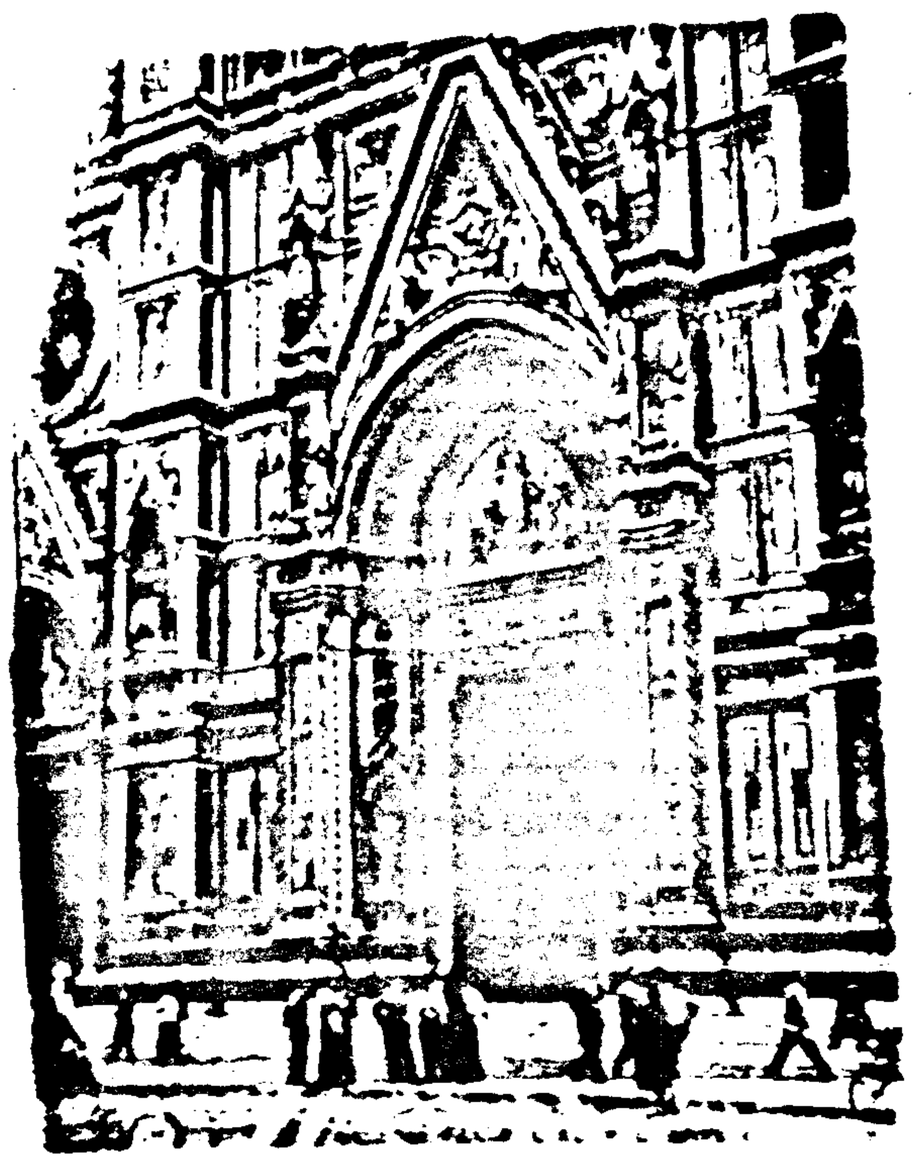
Ok
WS
8-11-84

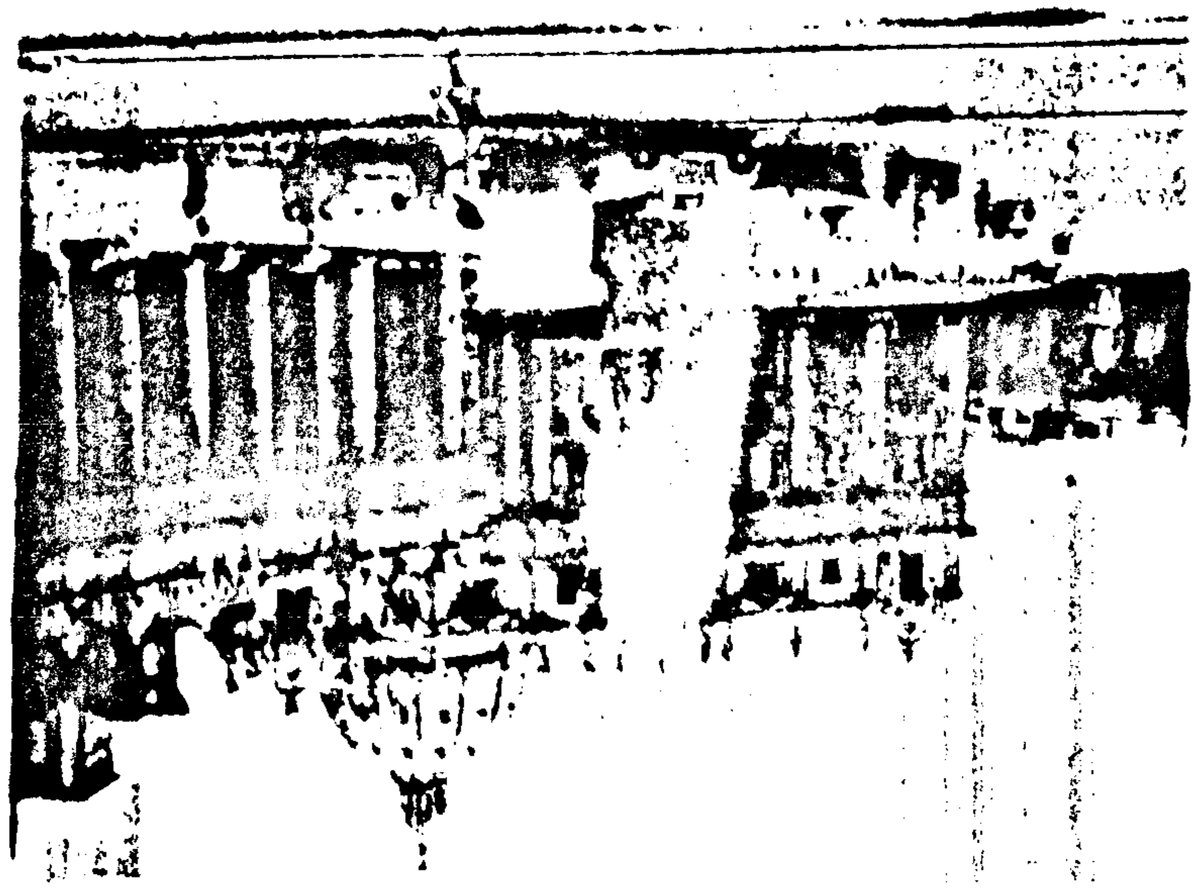




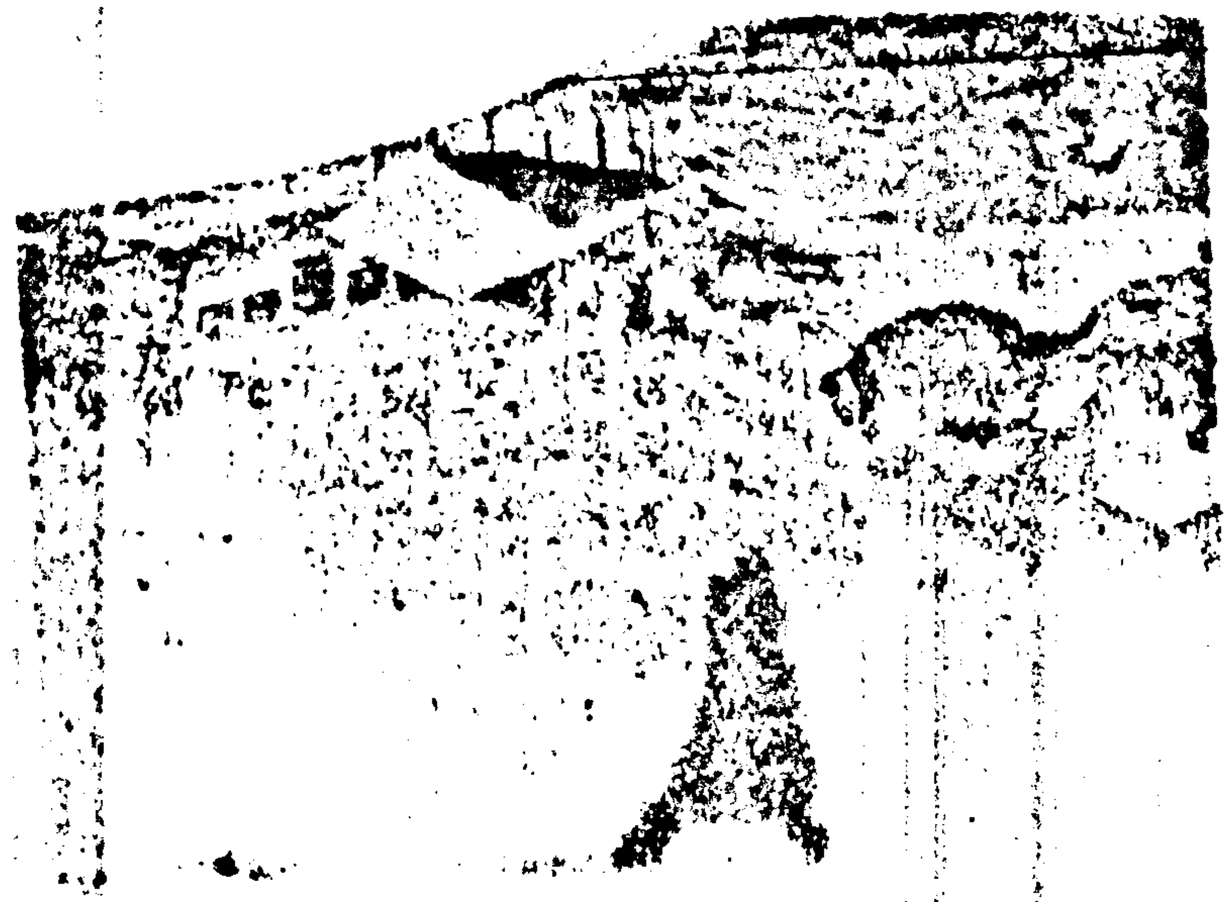


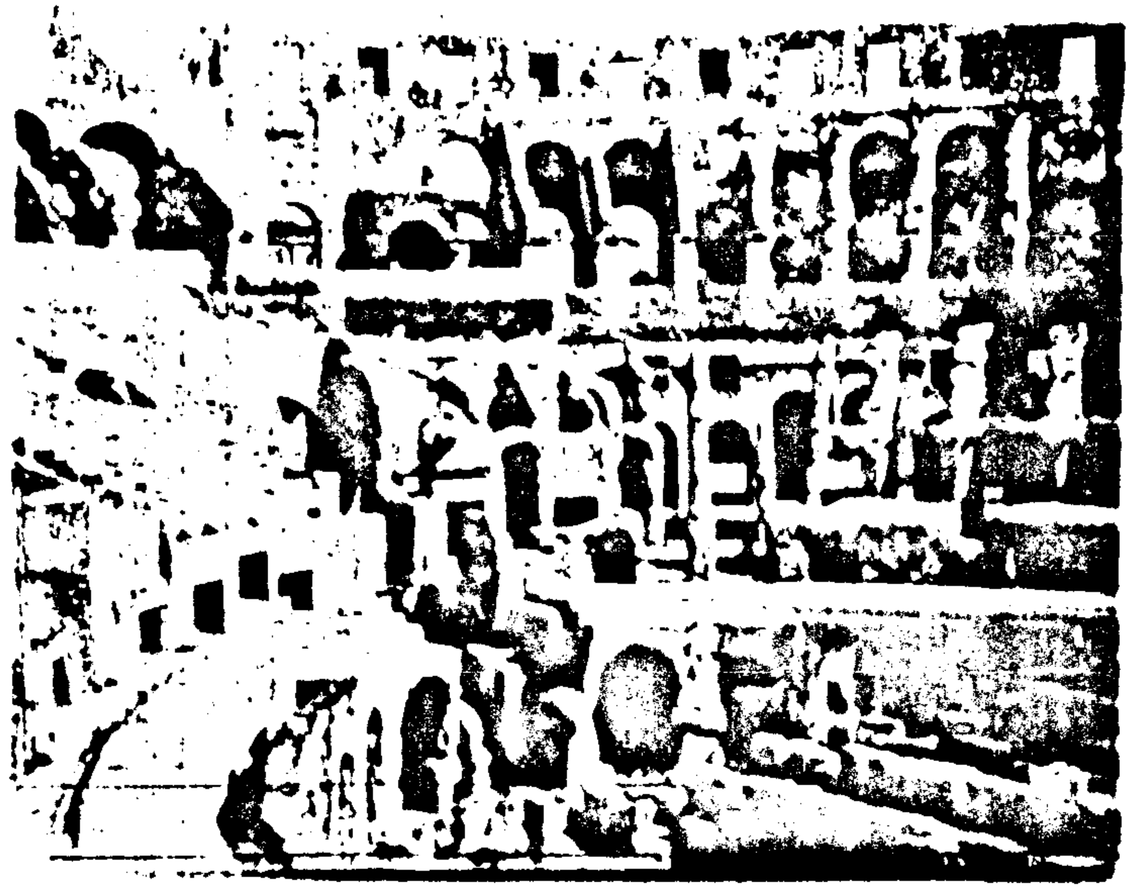
377

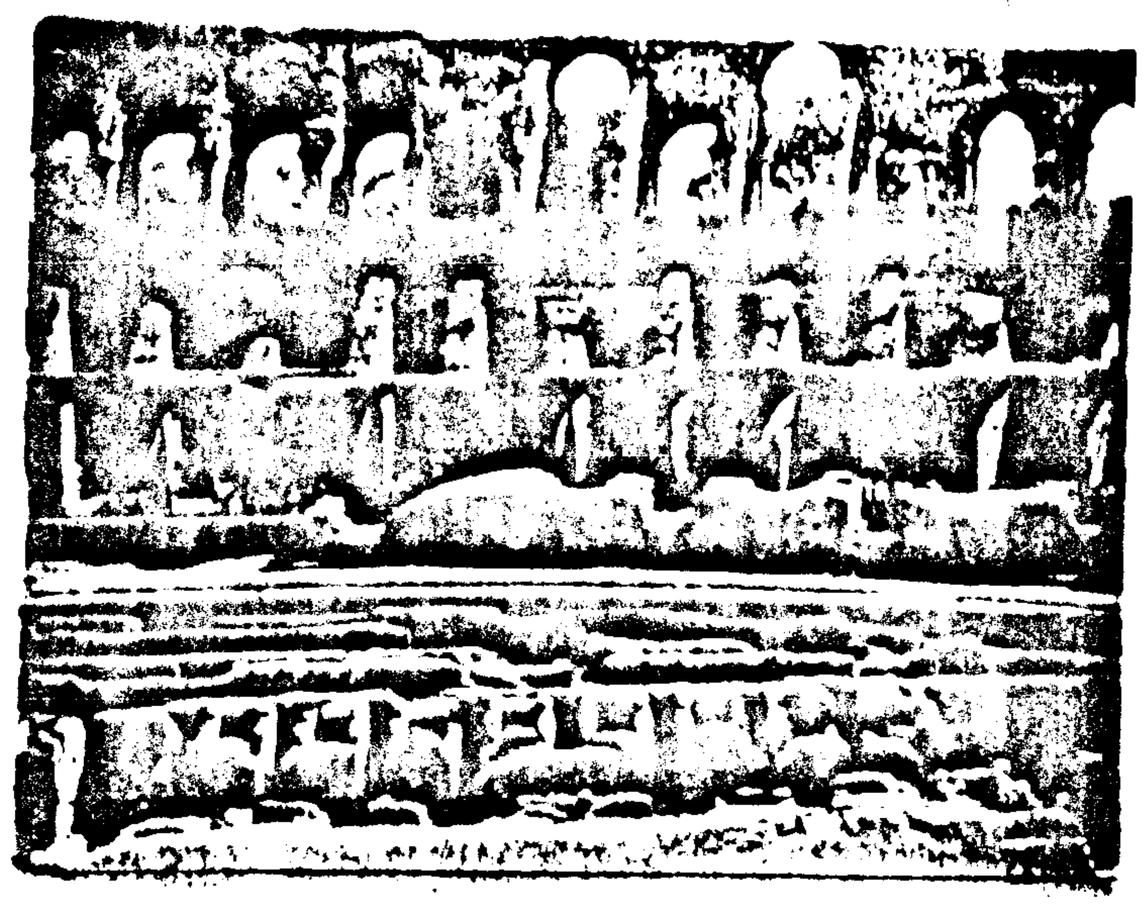


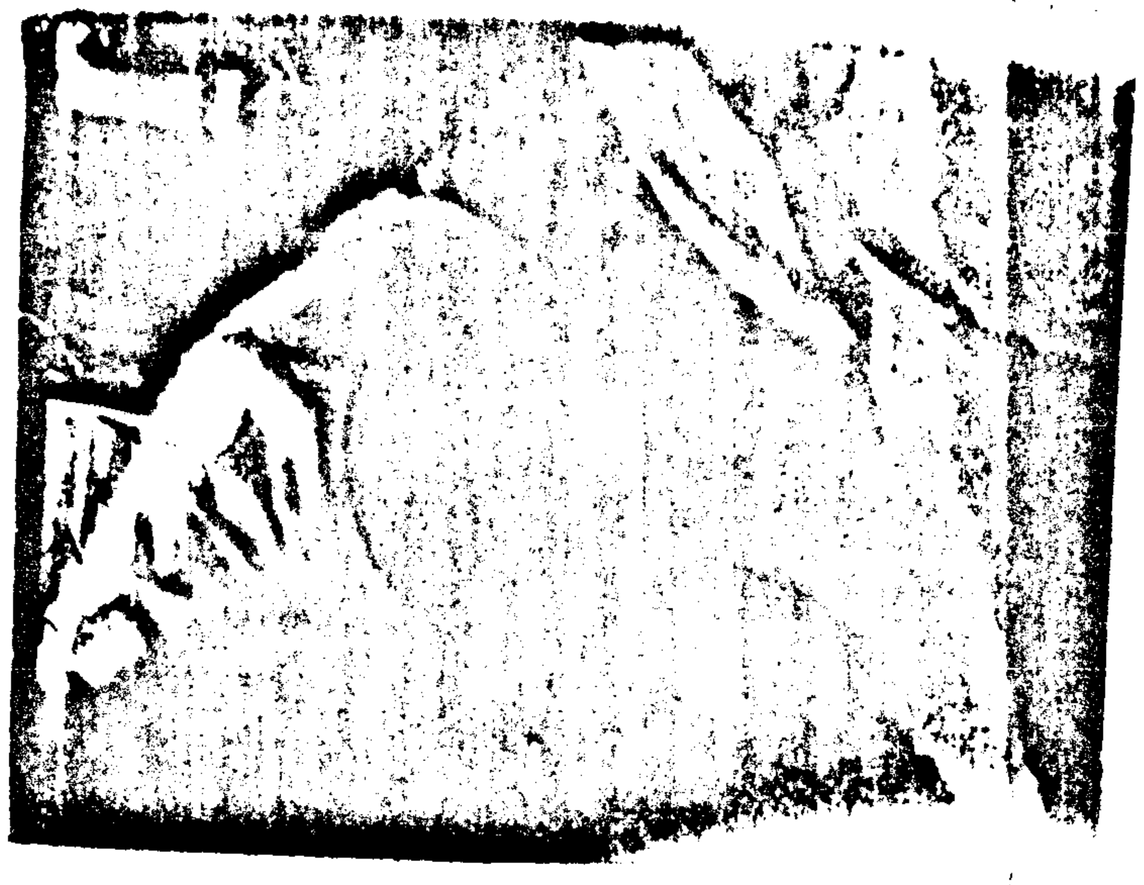


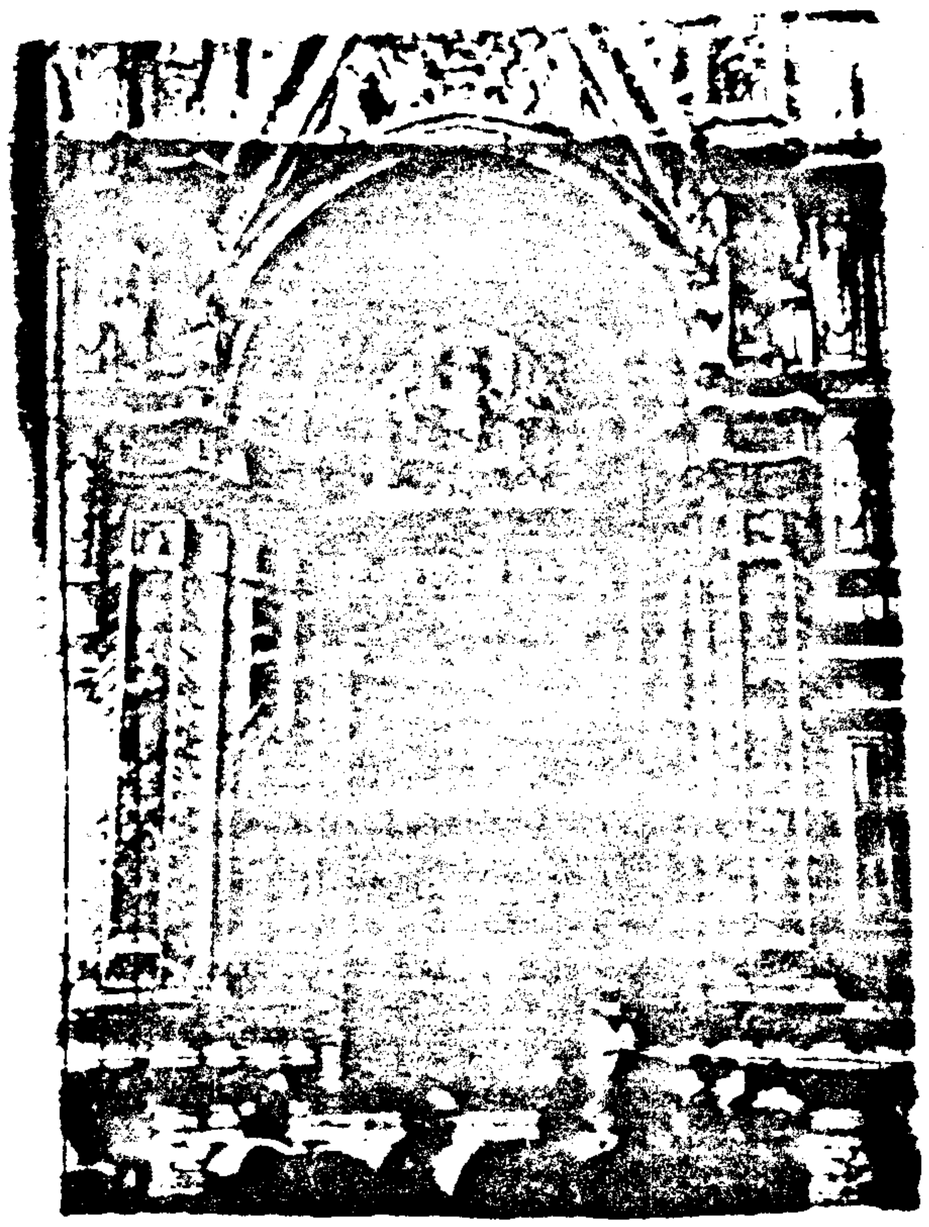
LLE

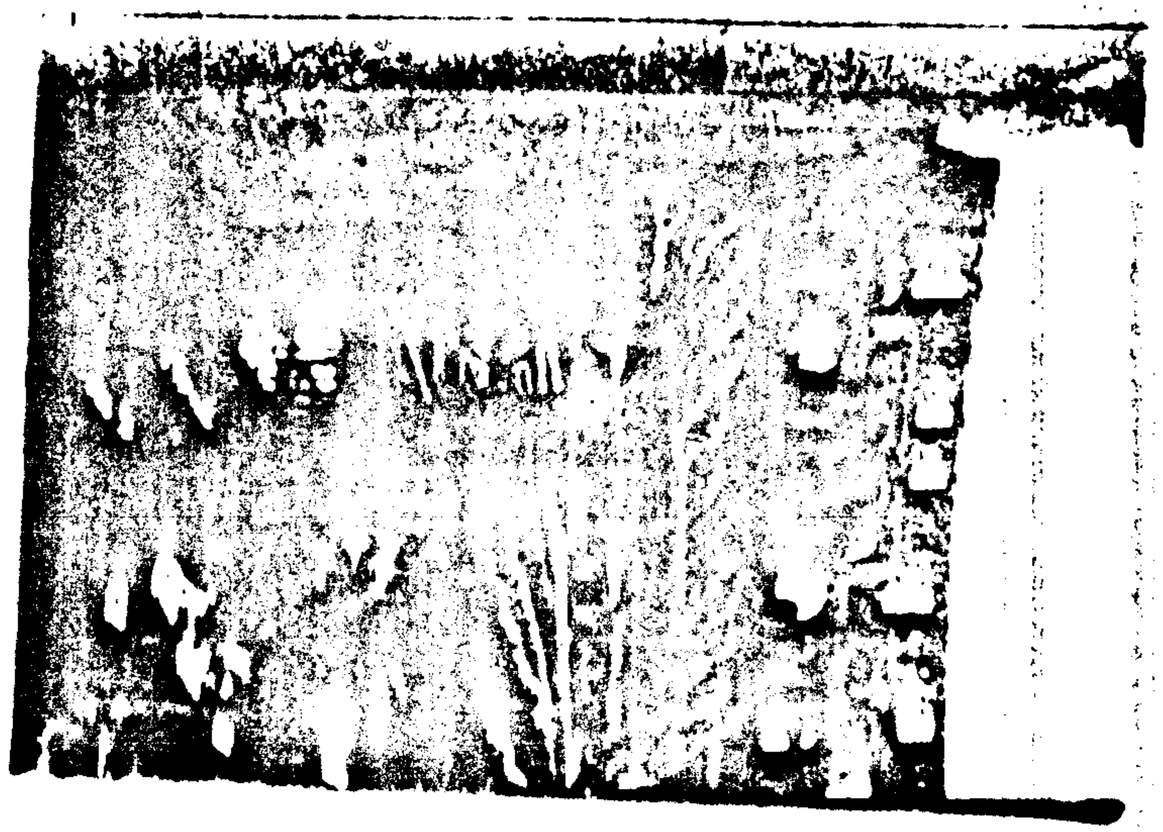


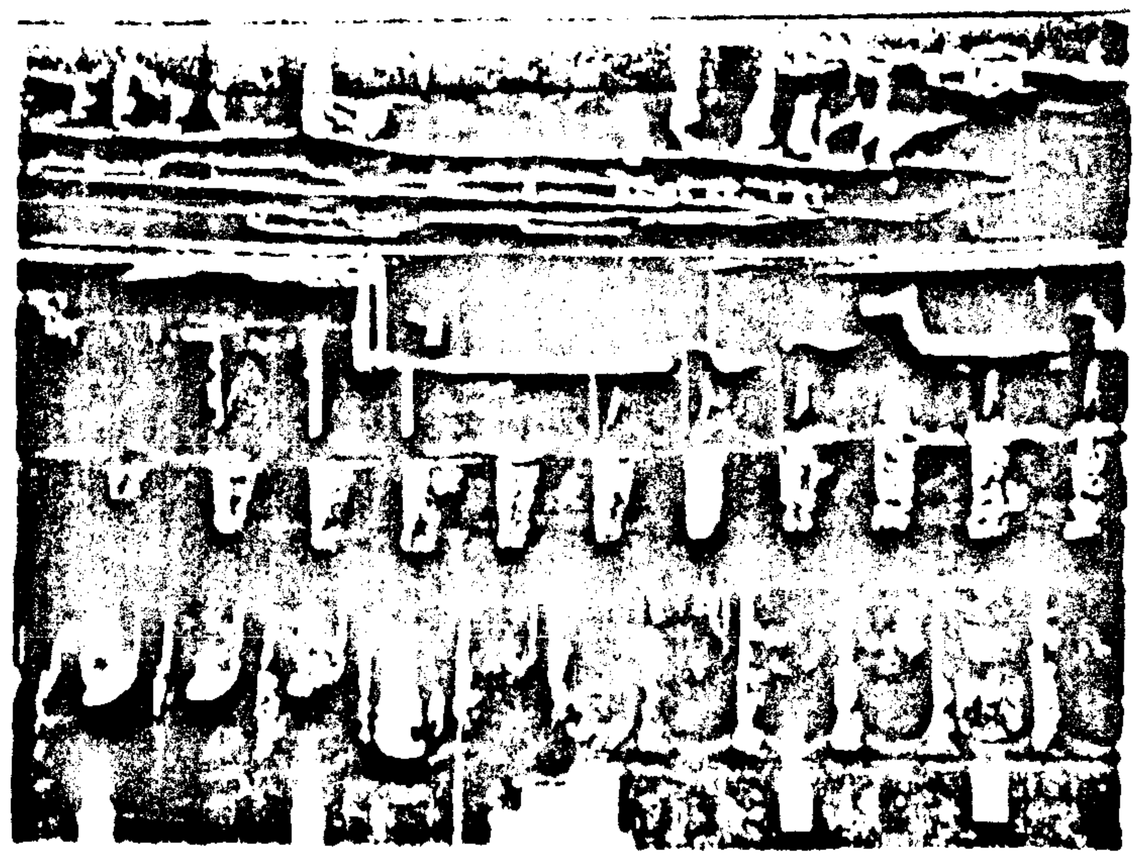


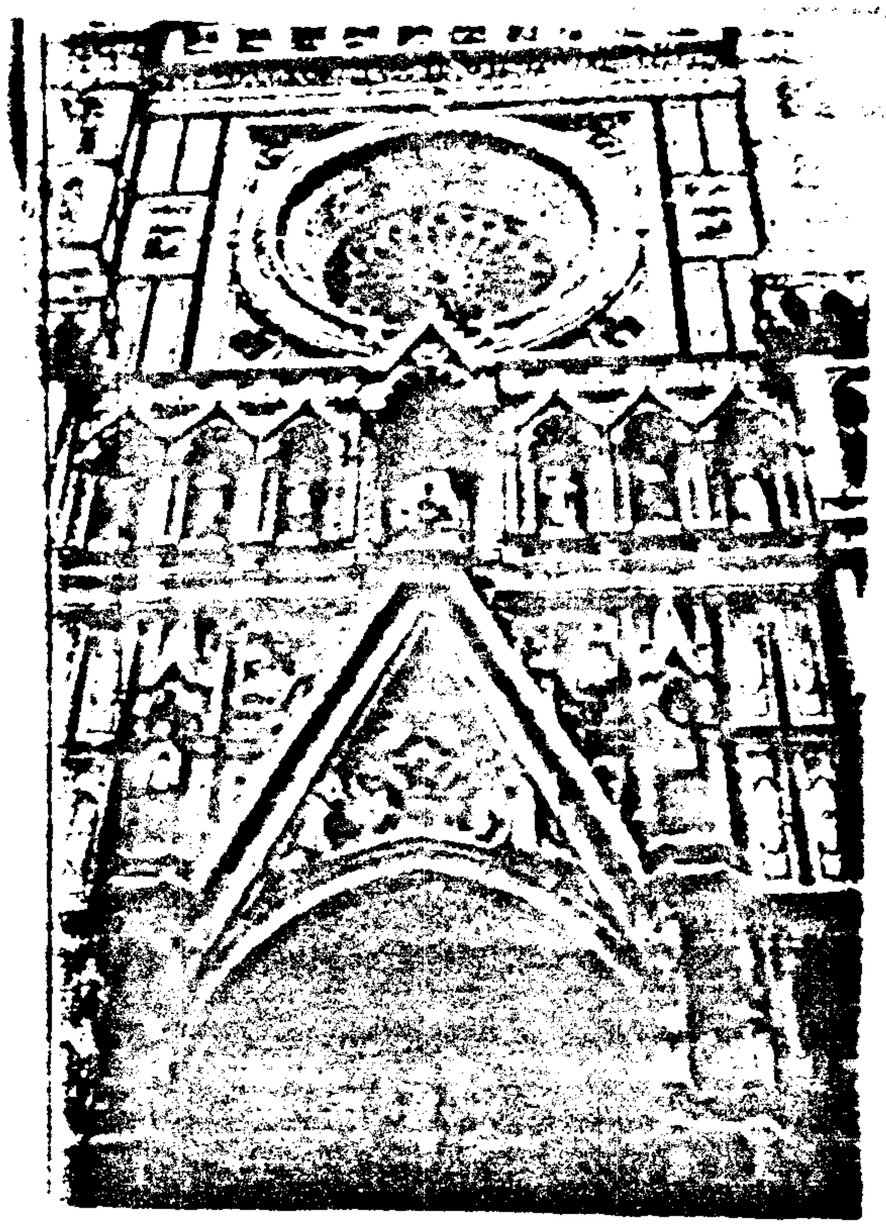


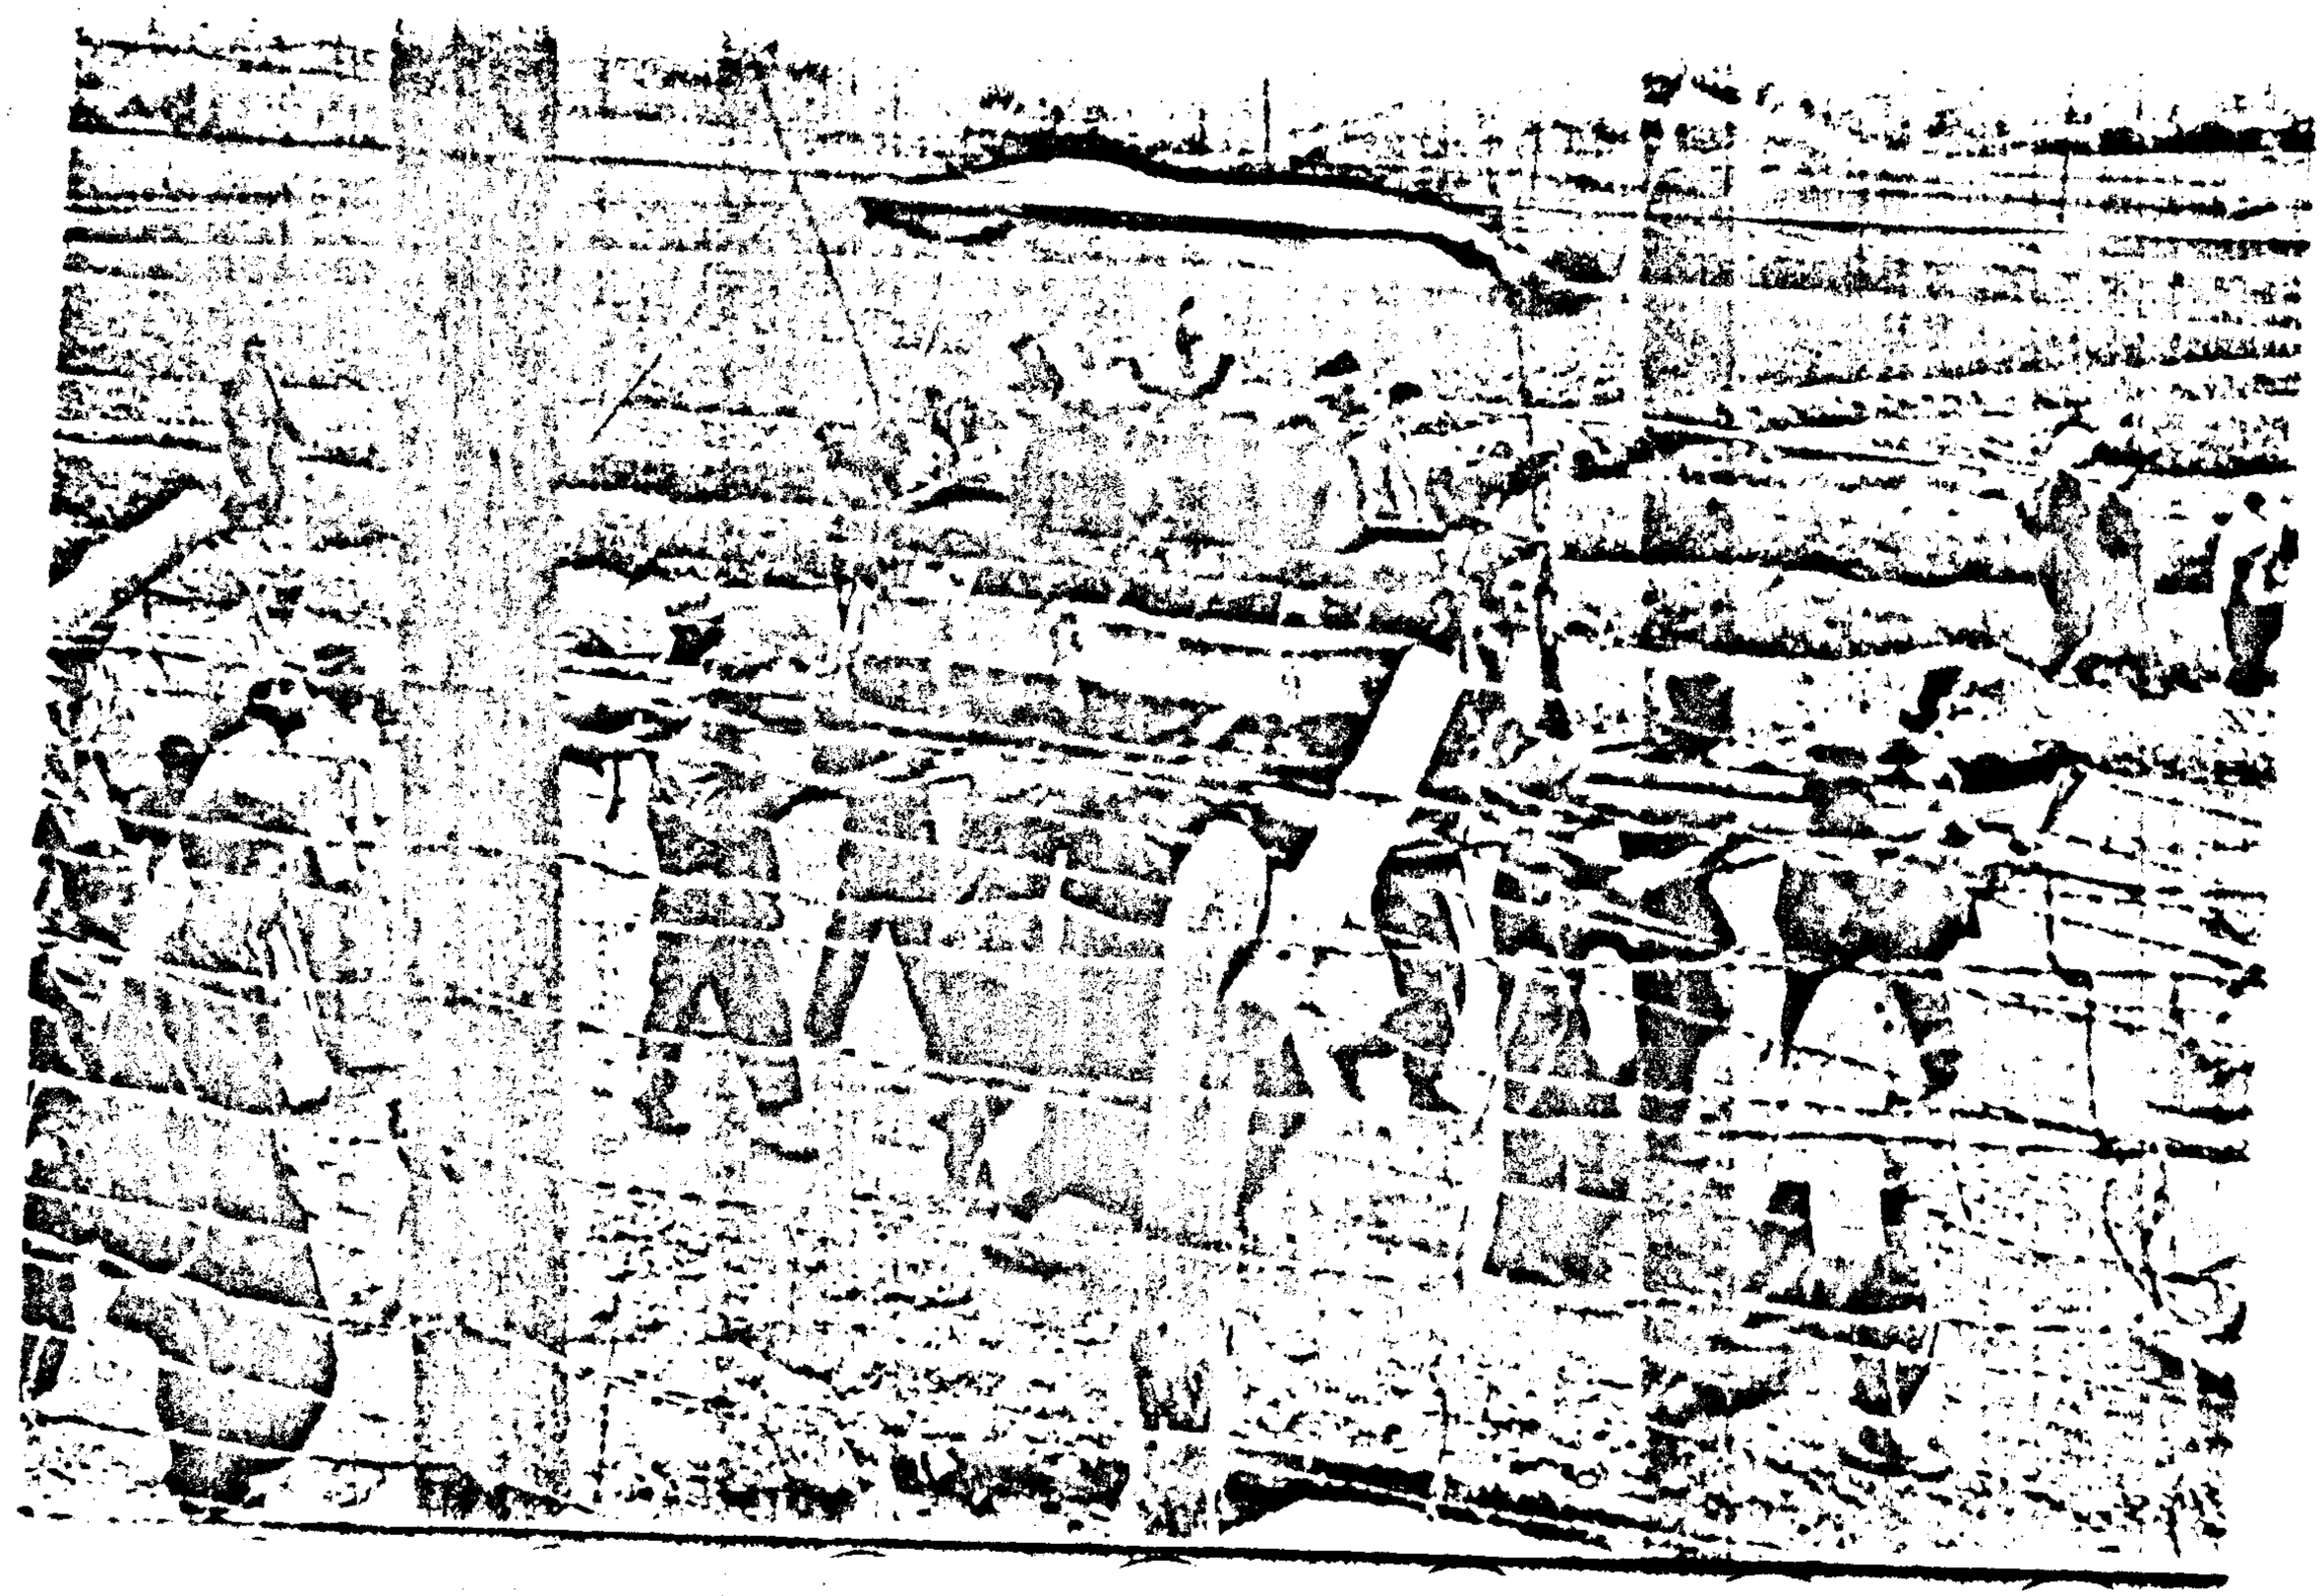


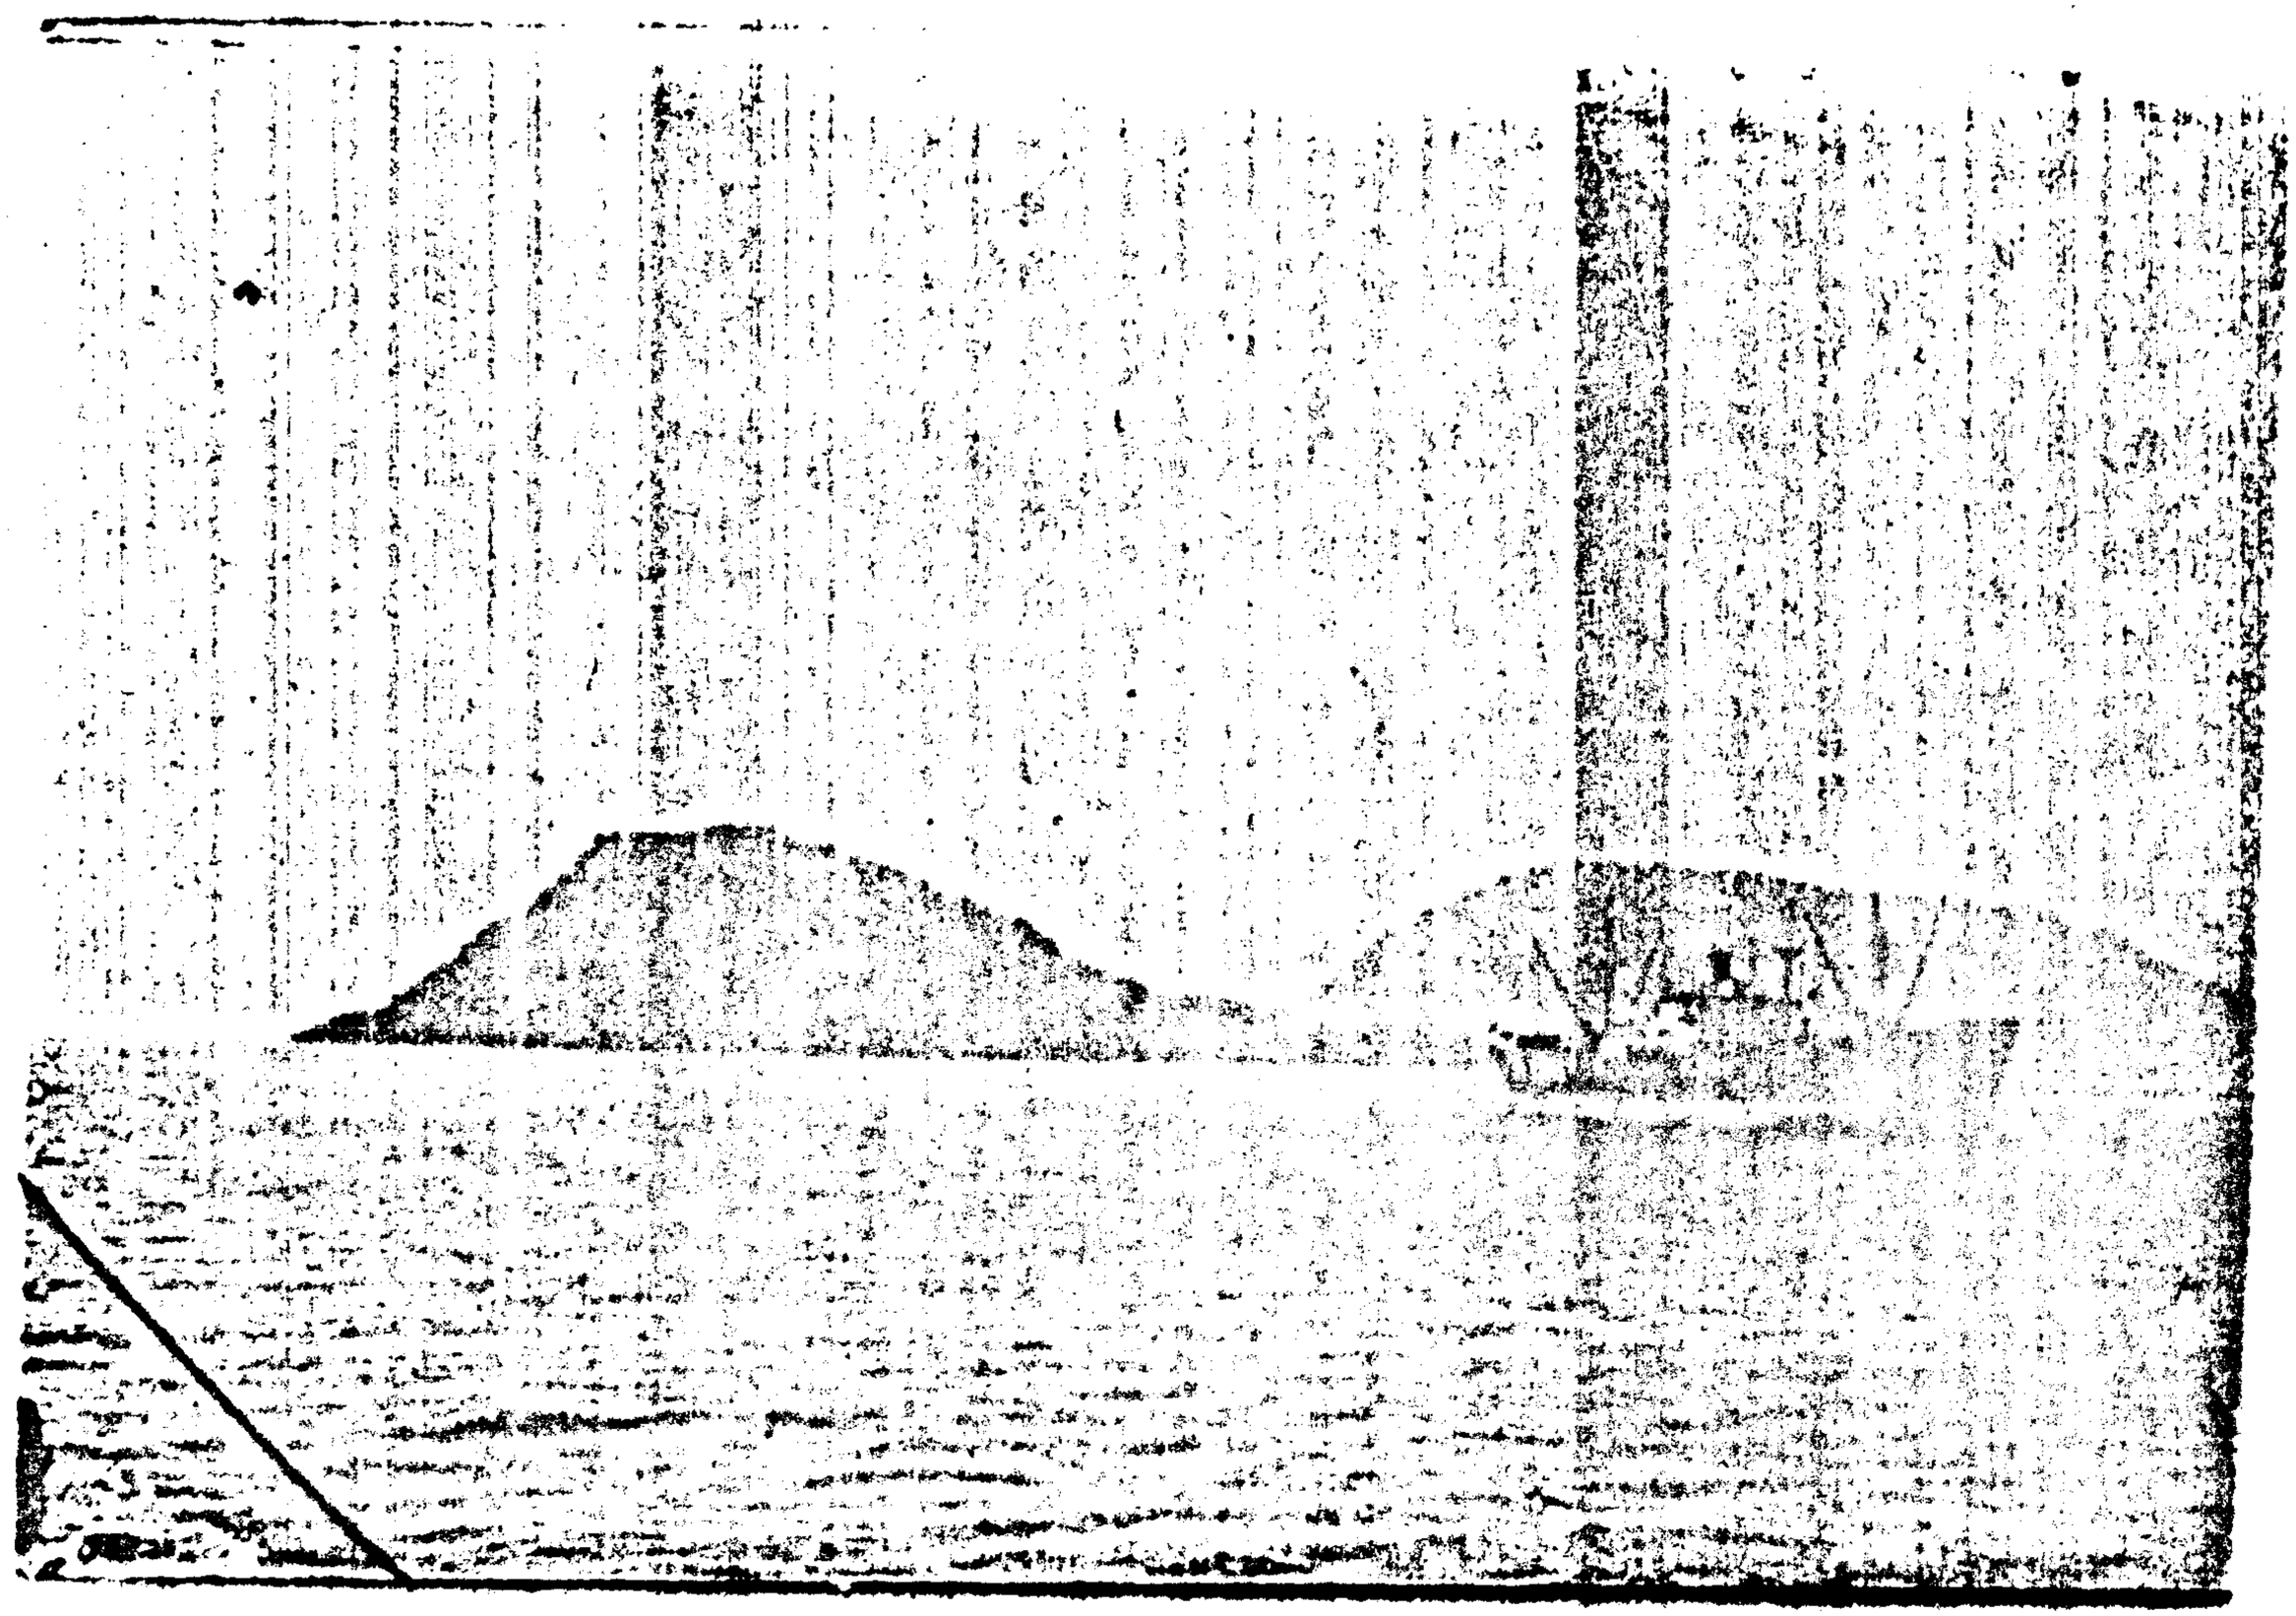


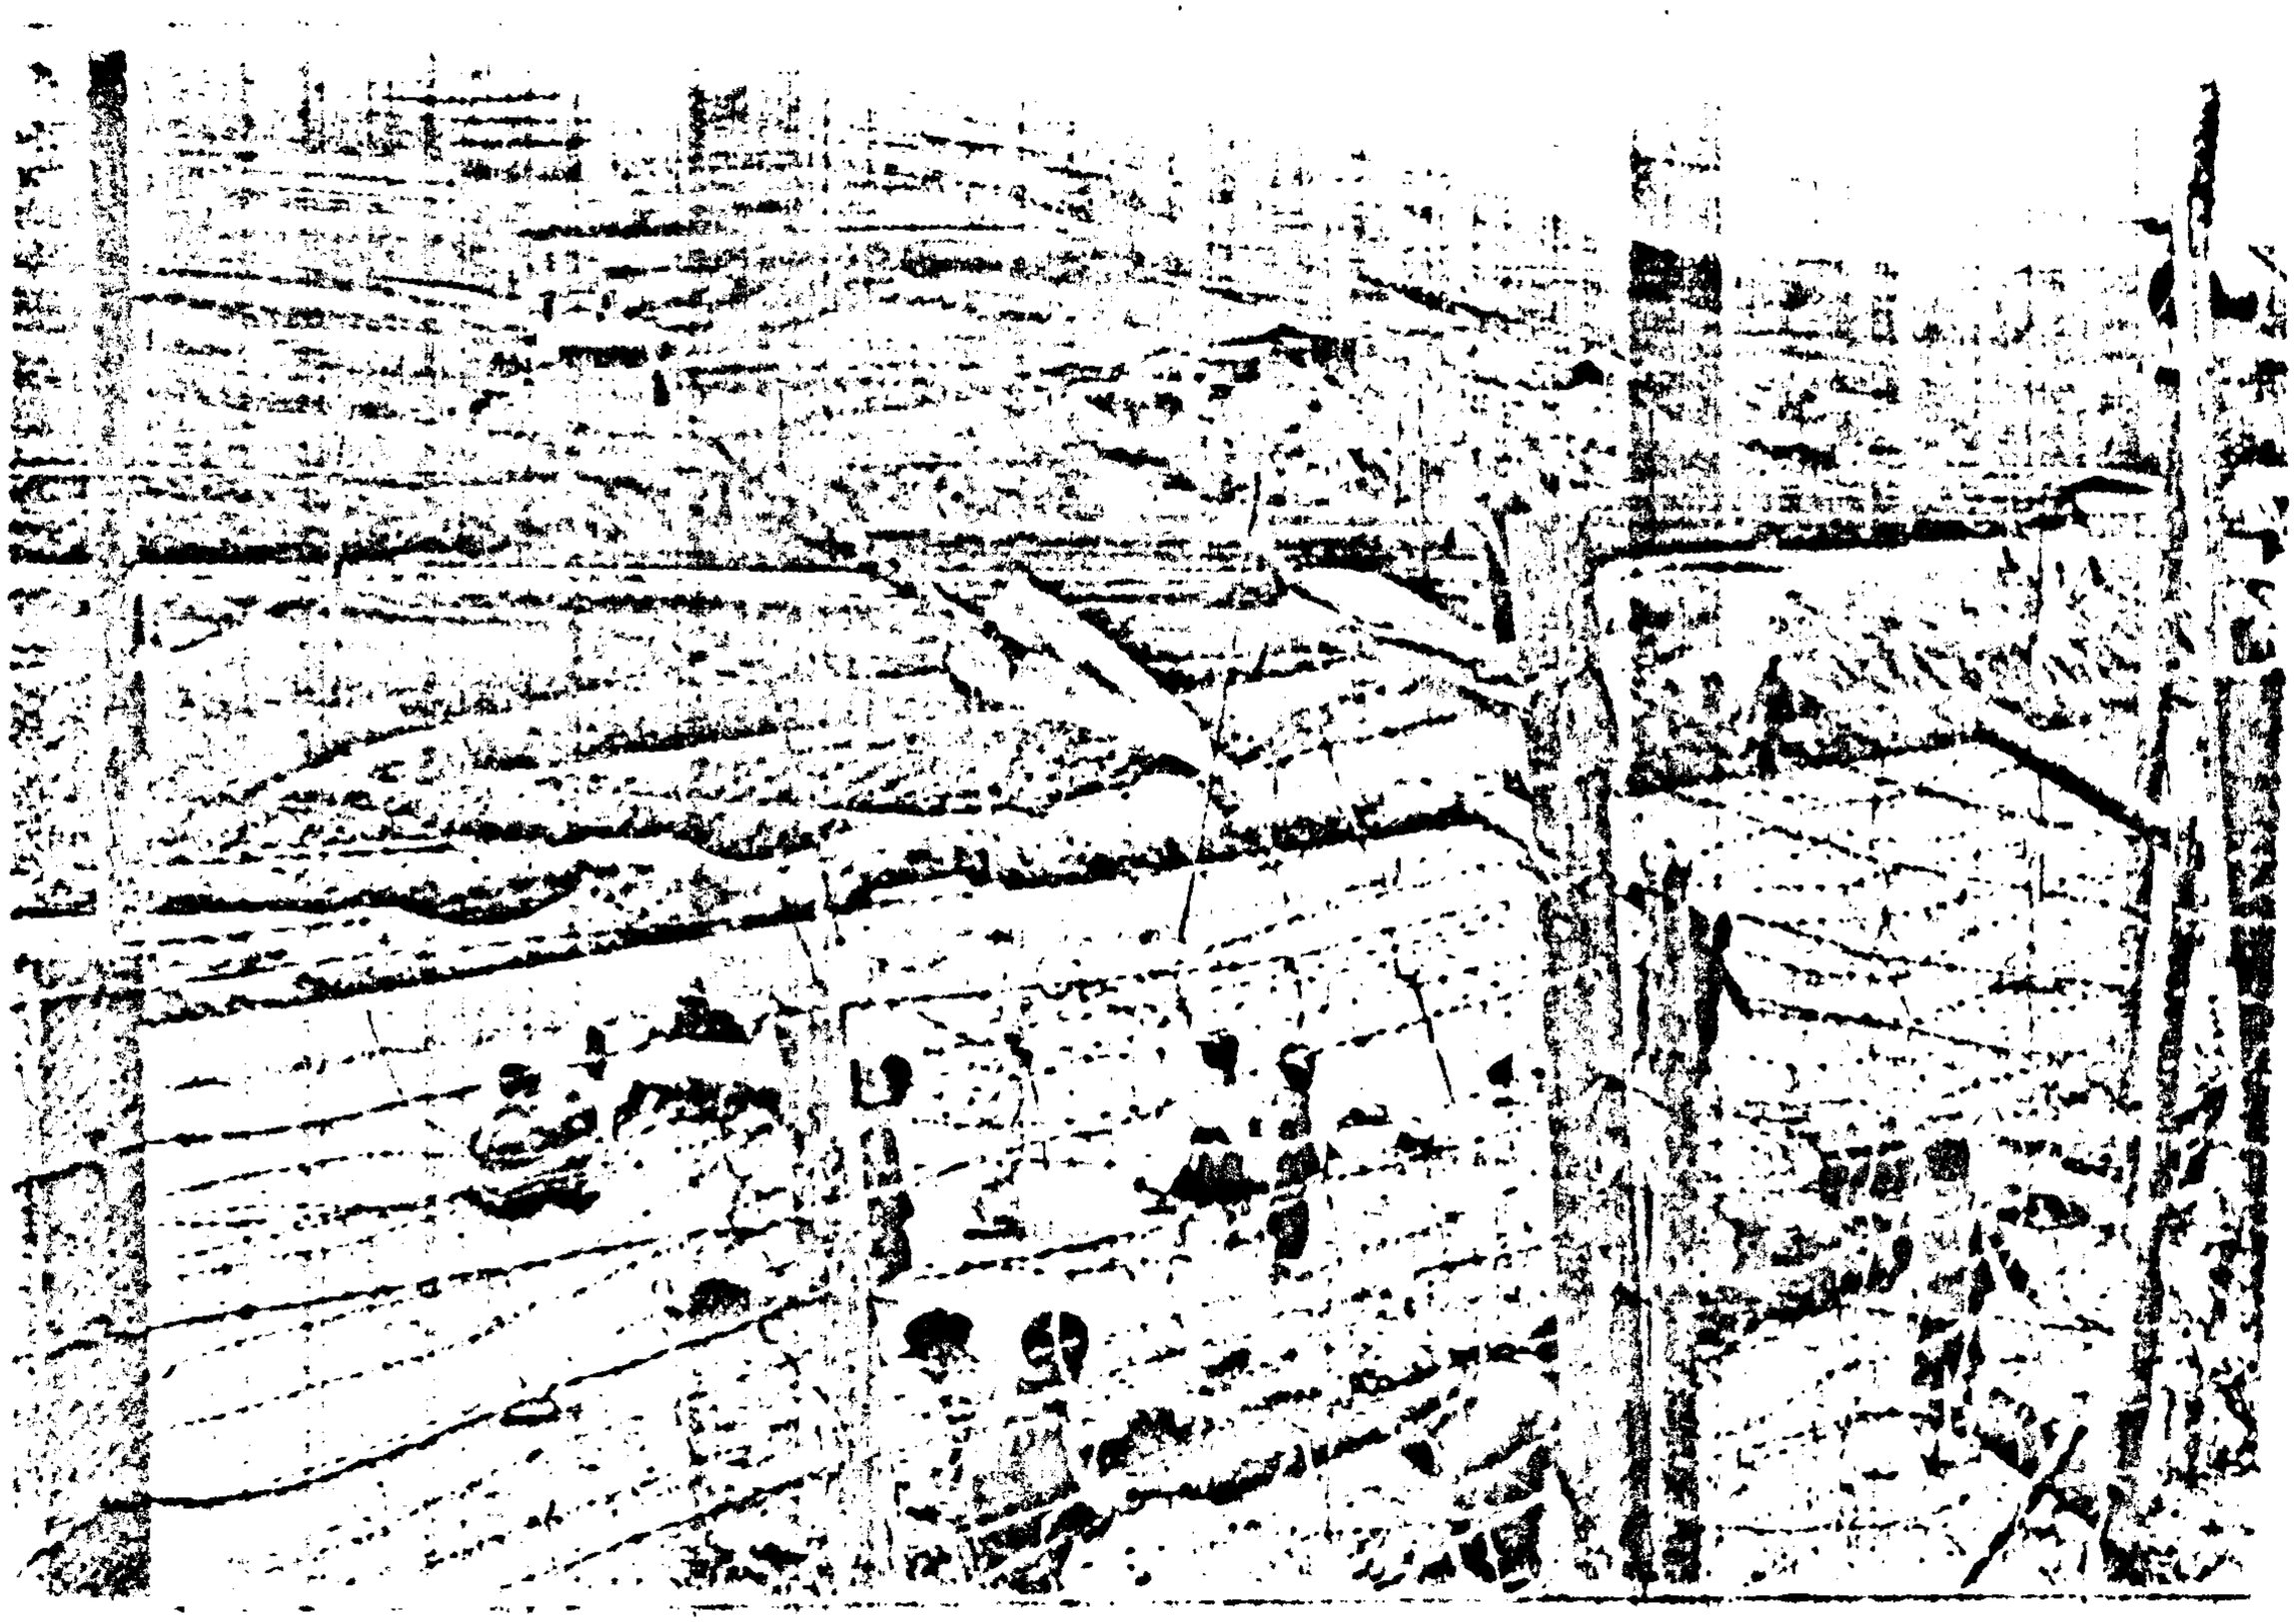


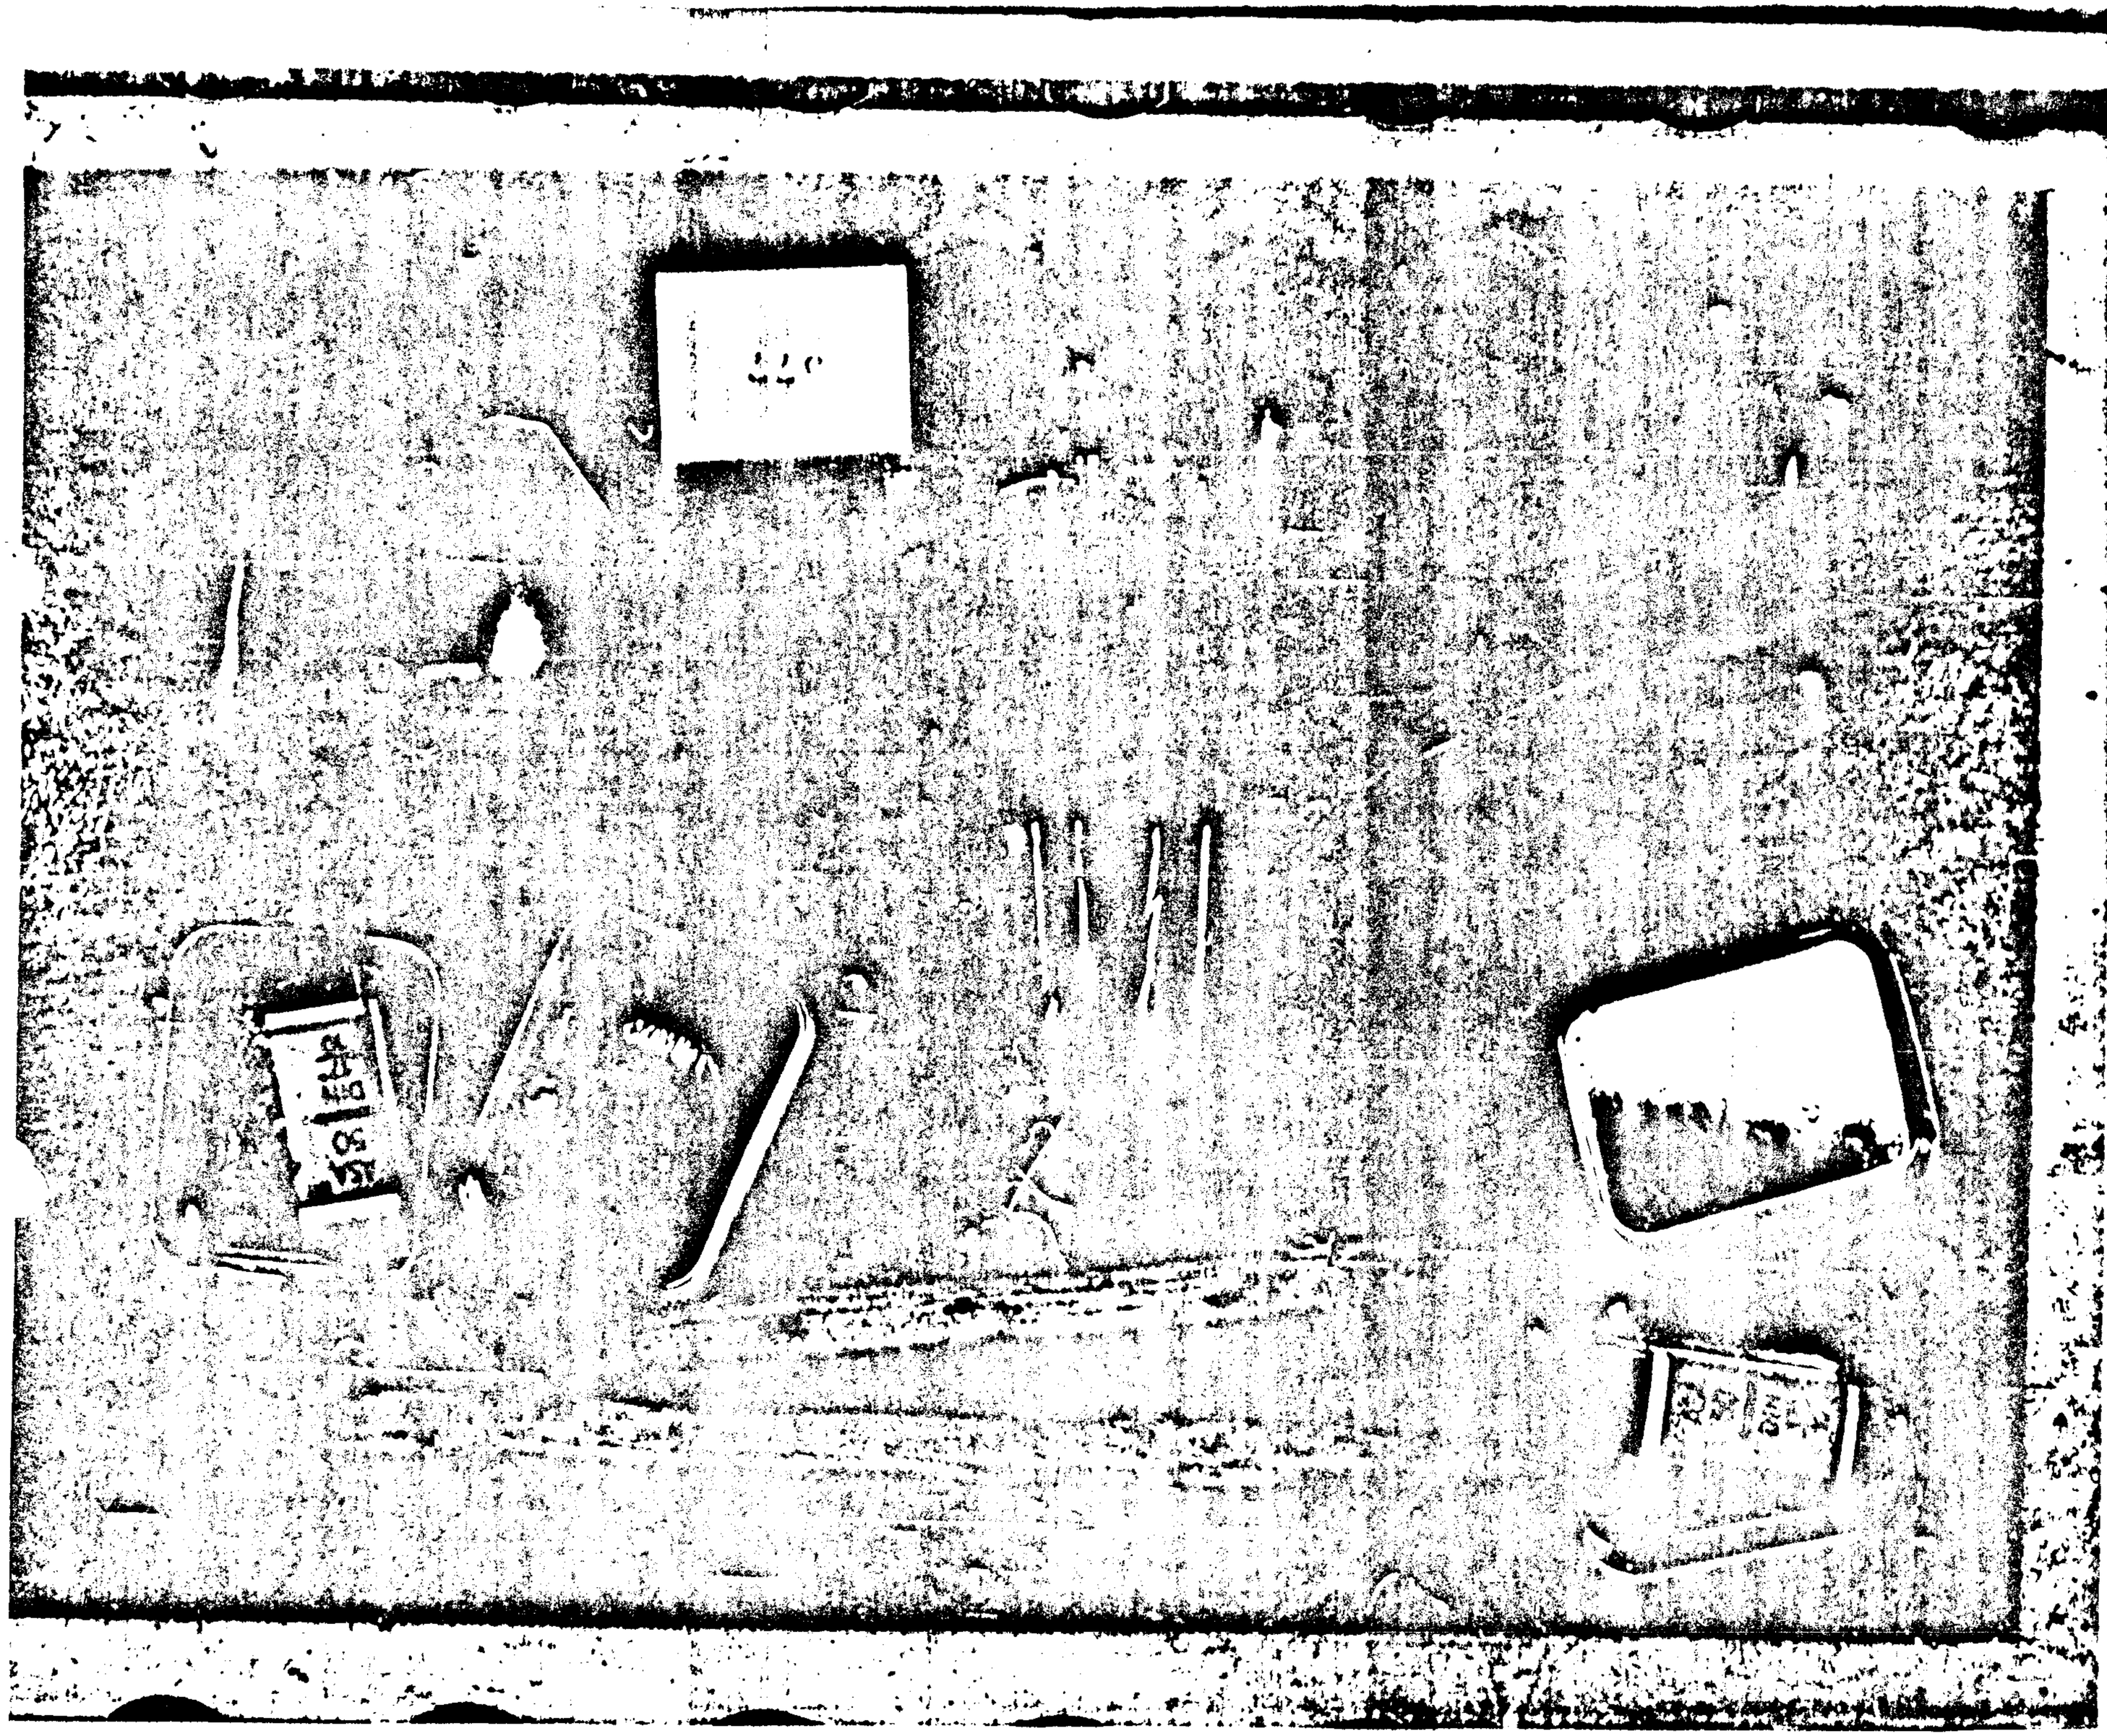


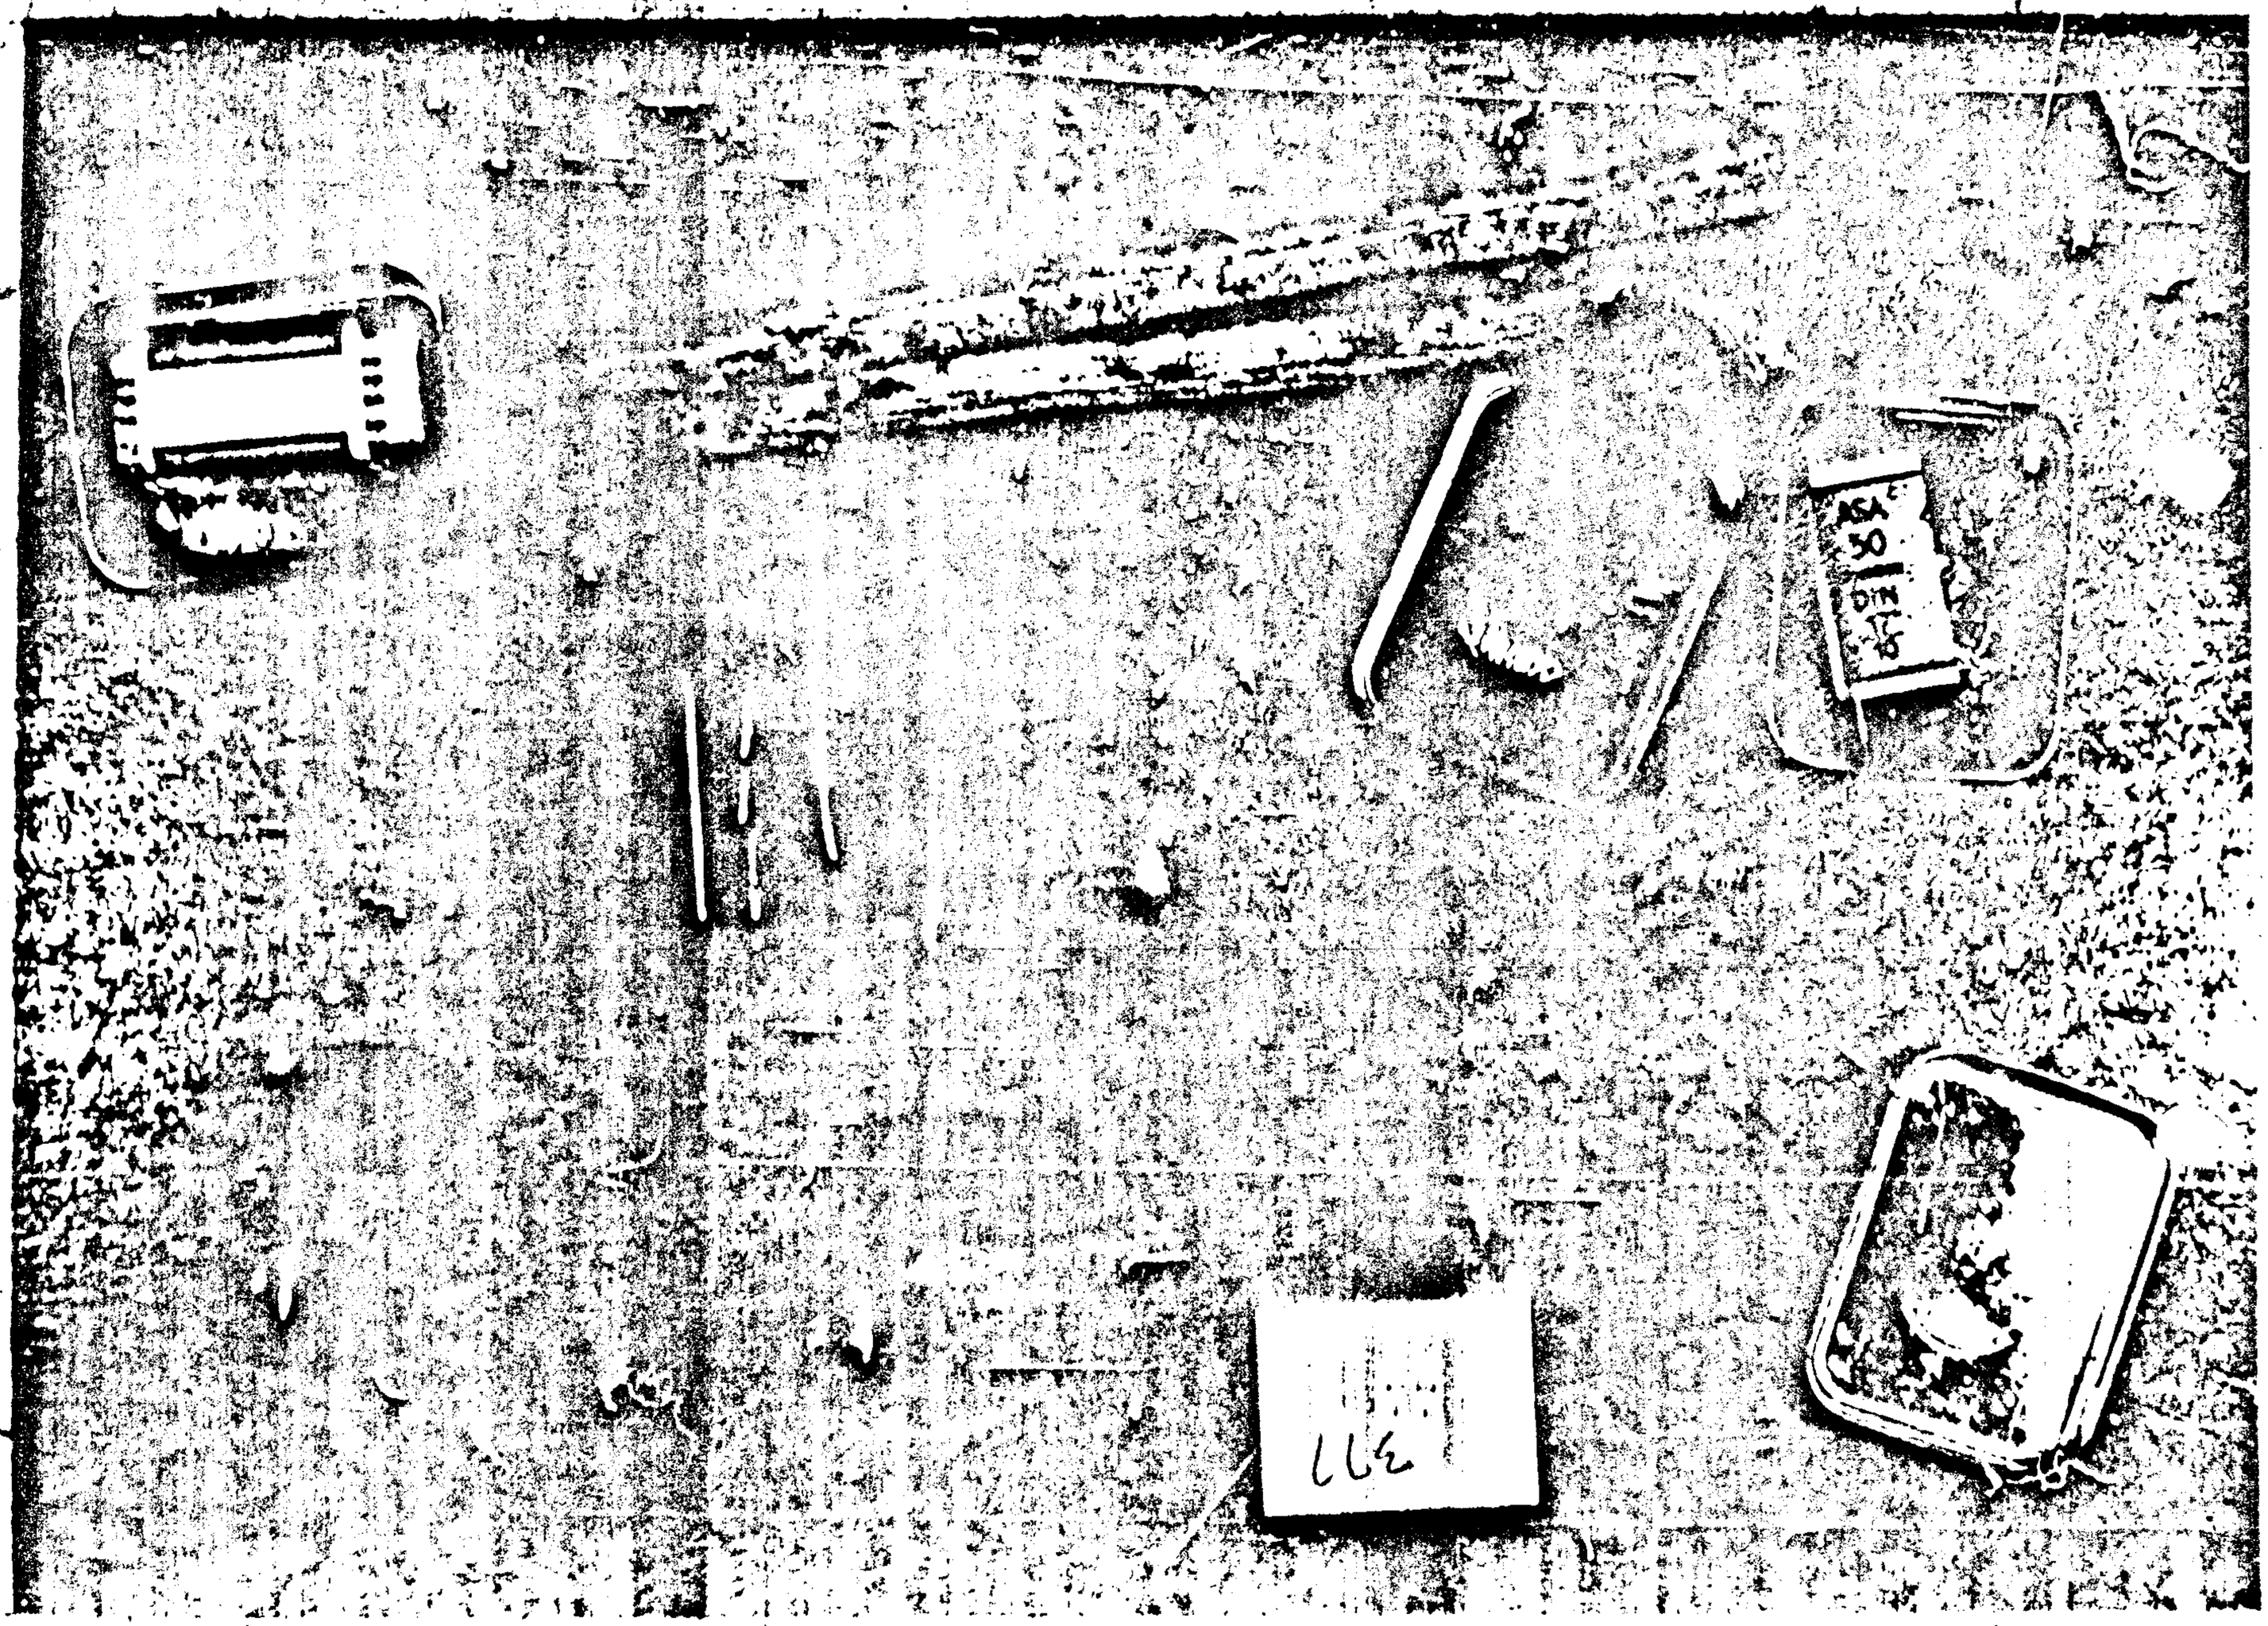




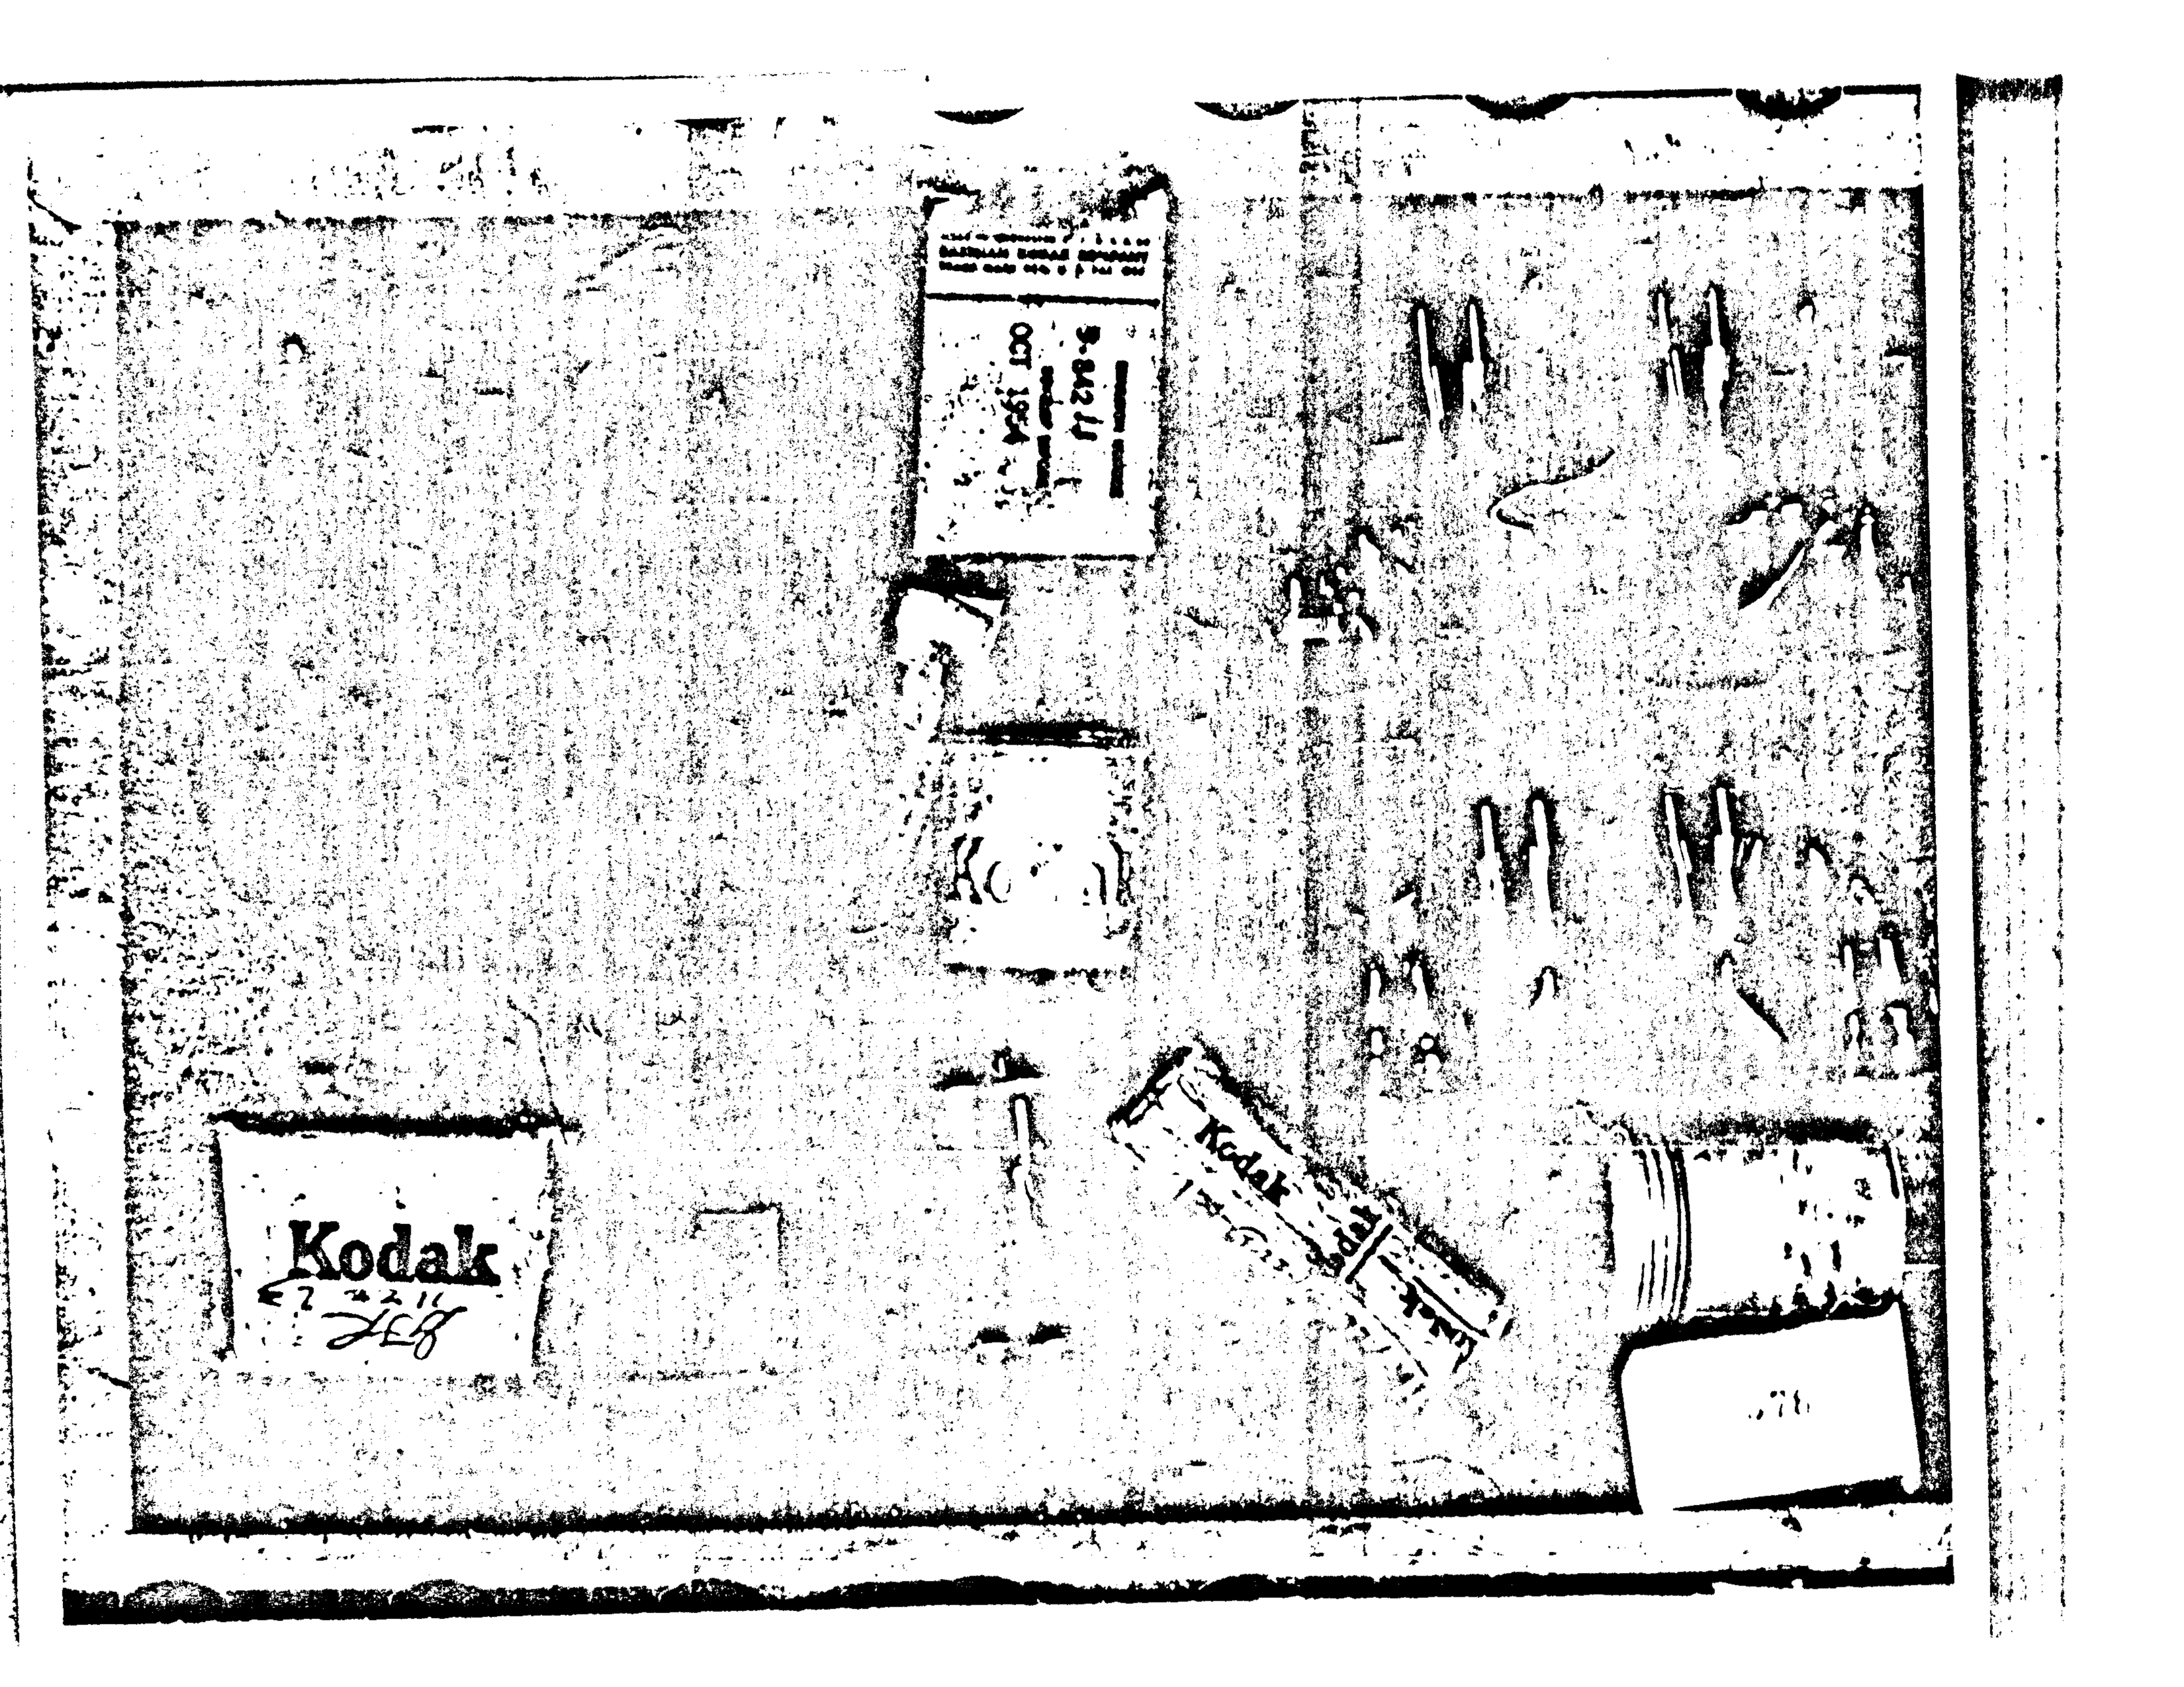




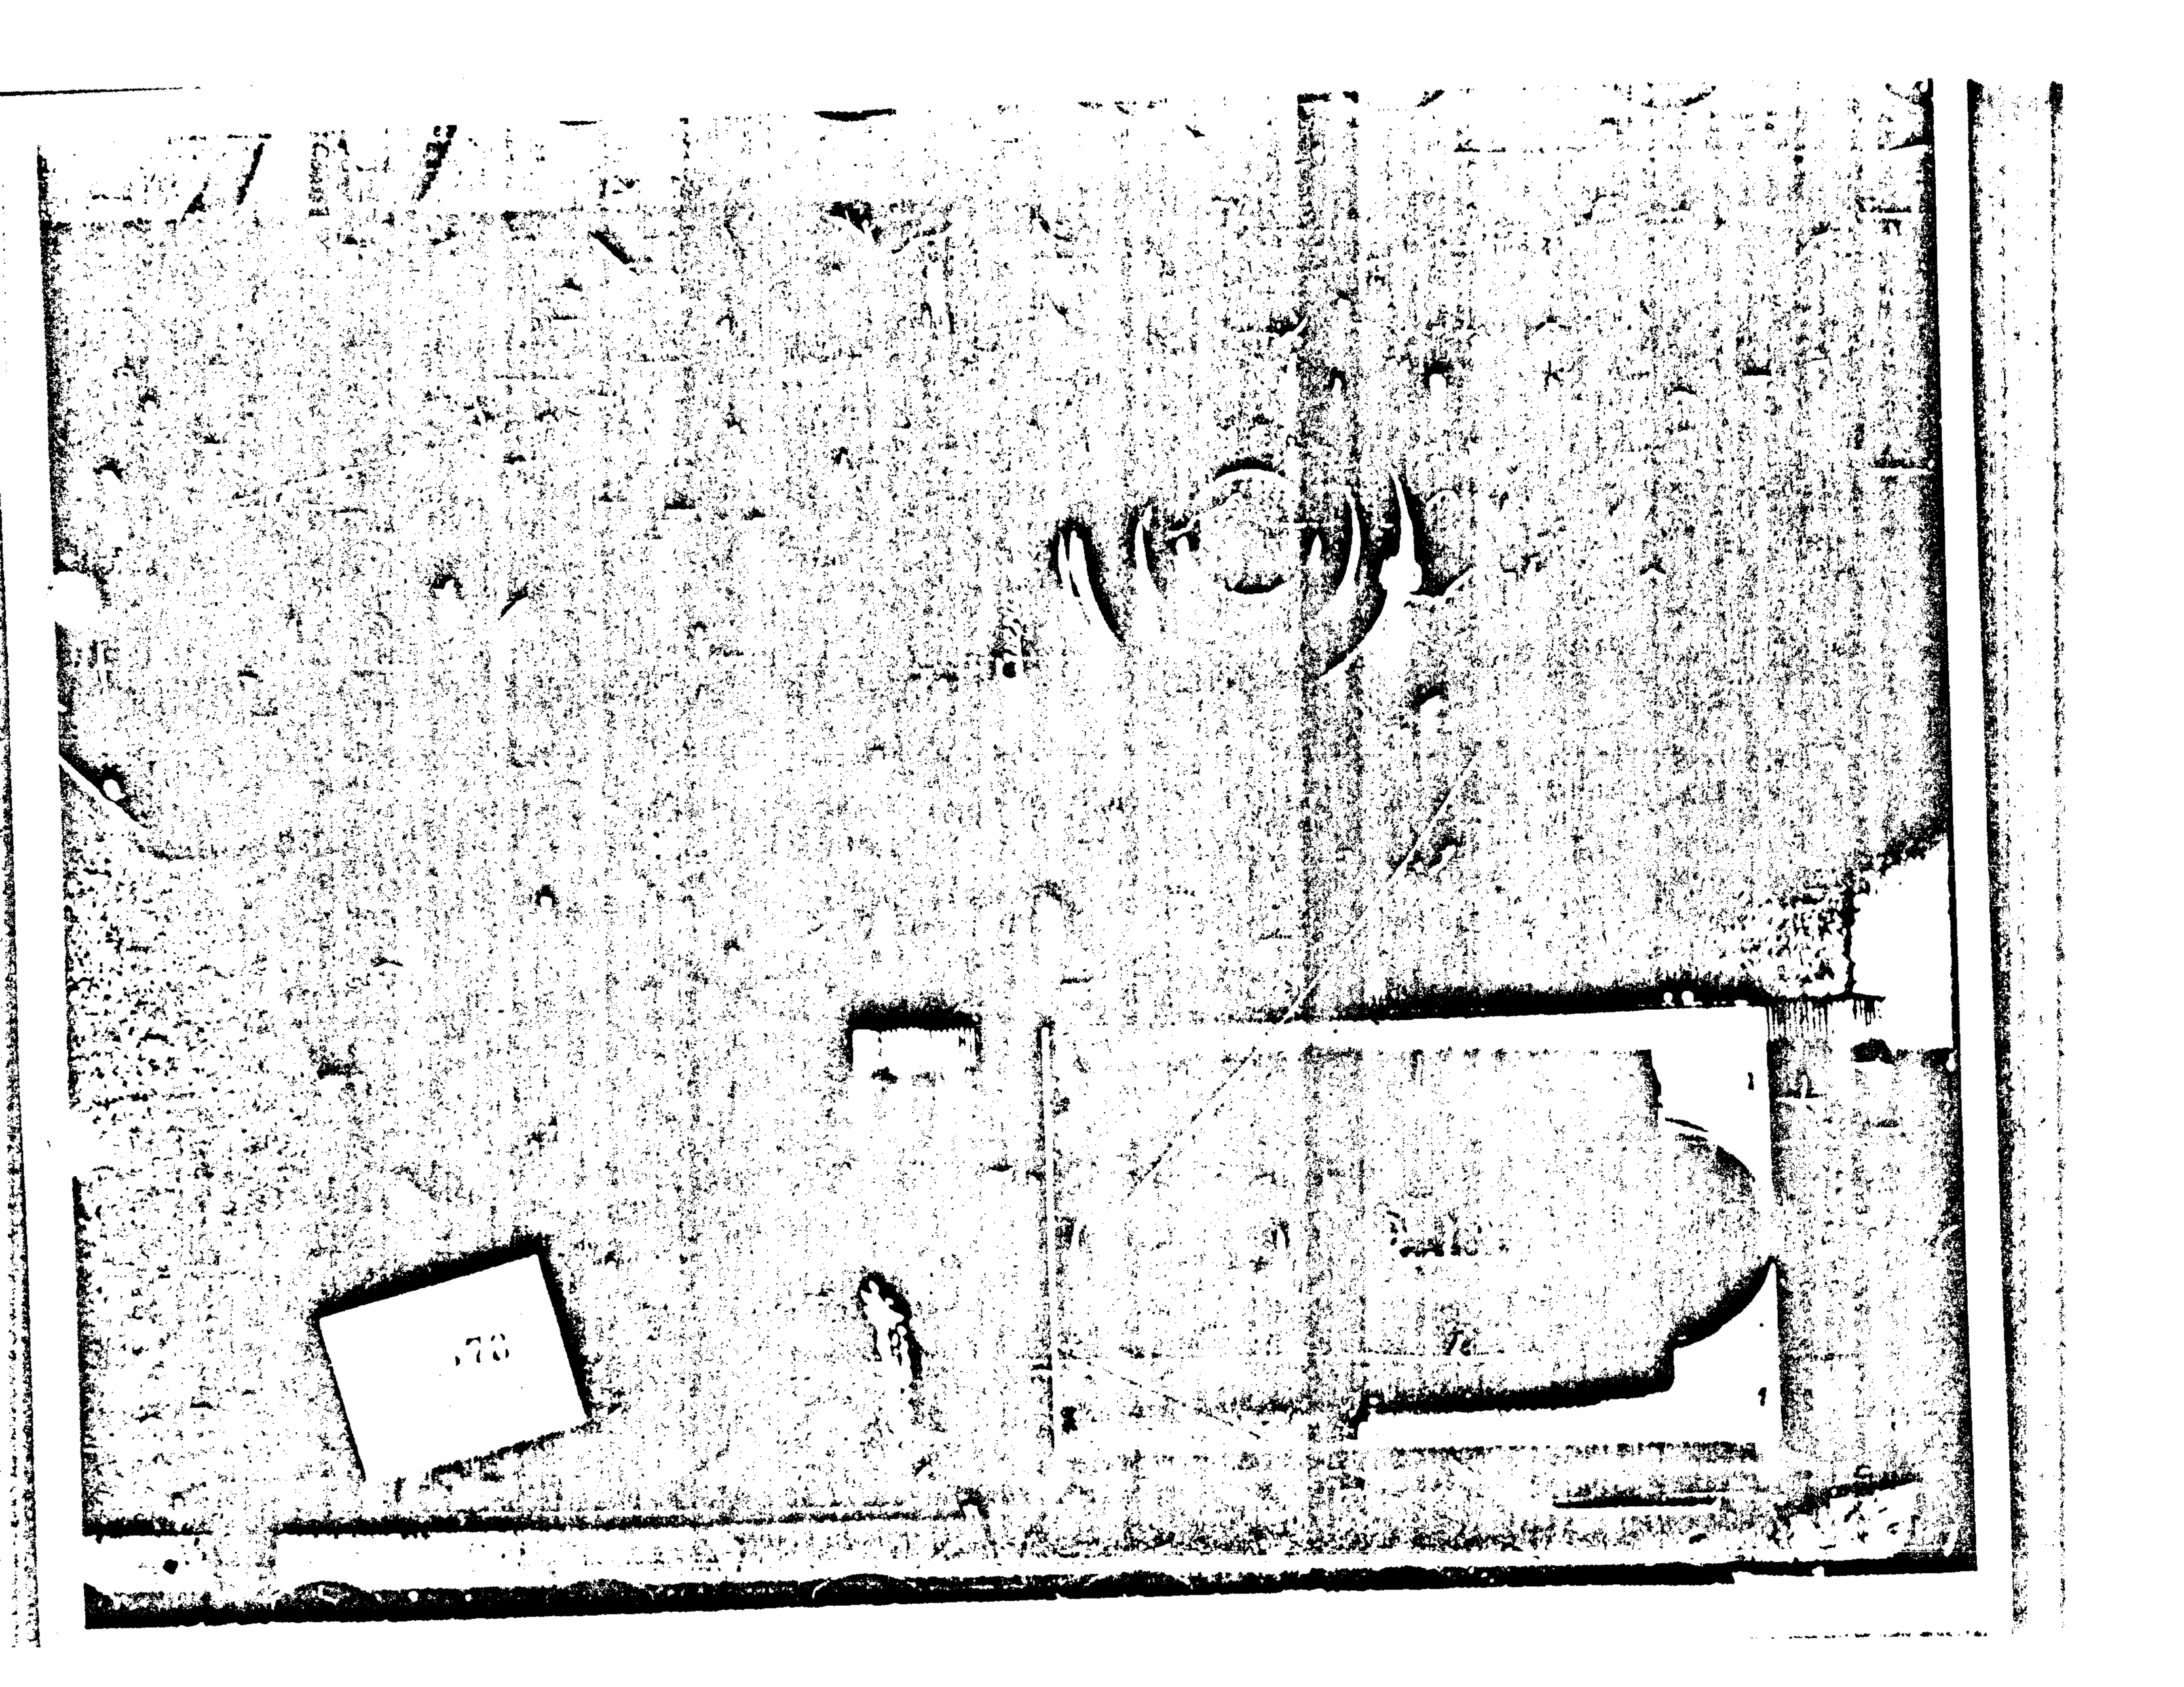


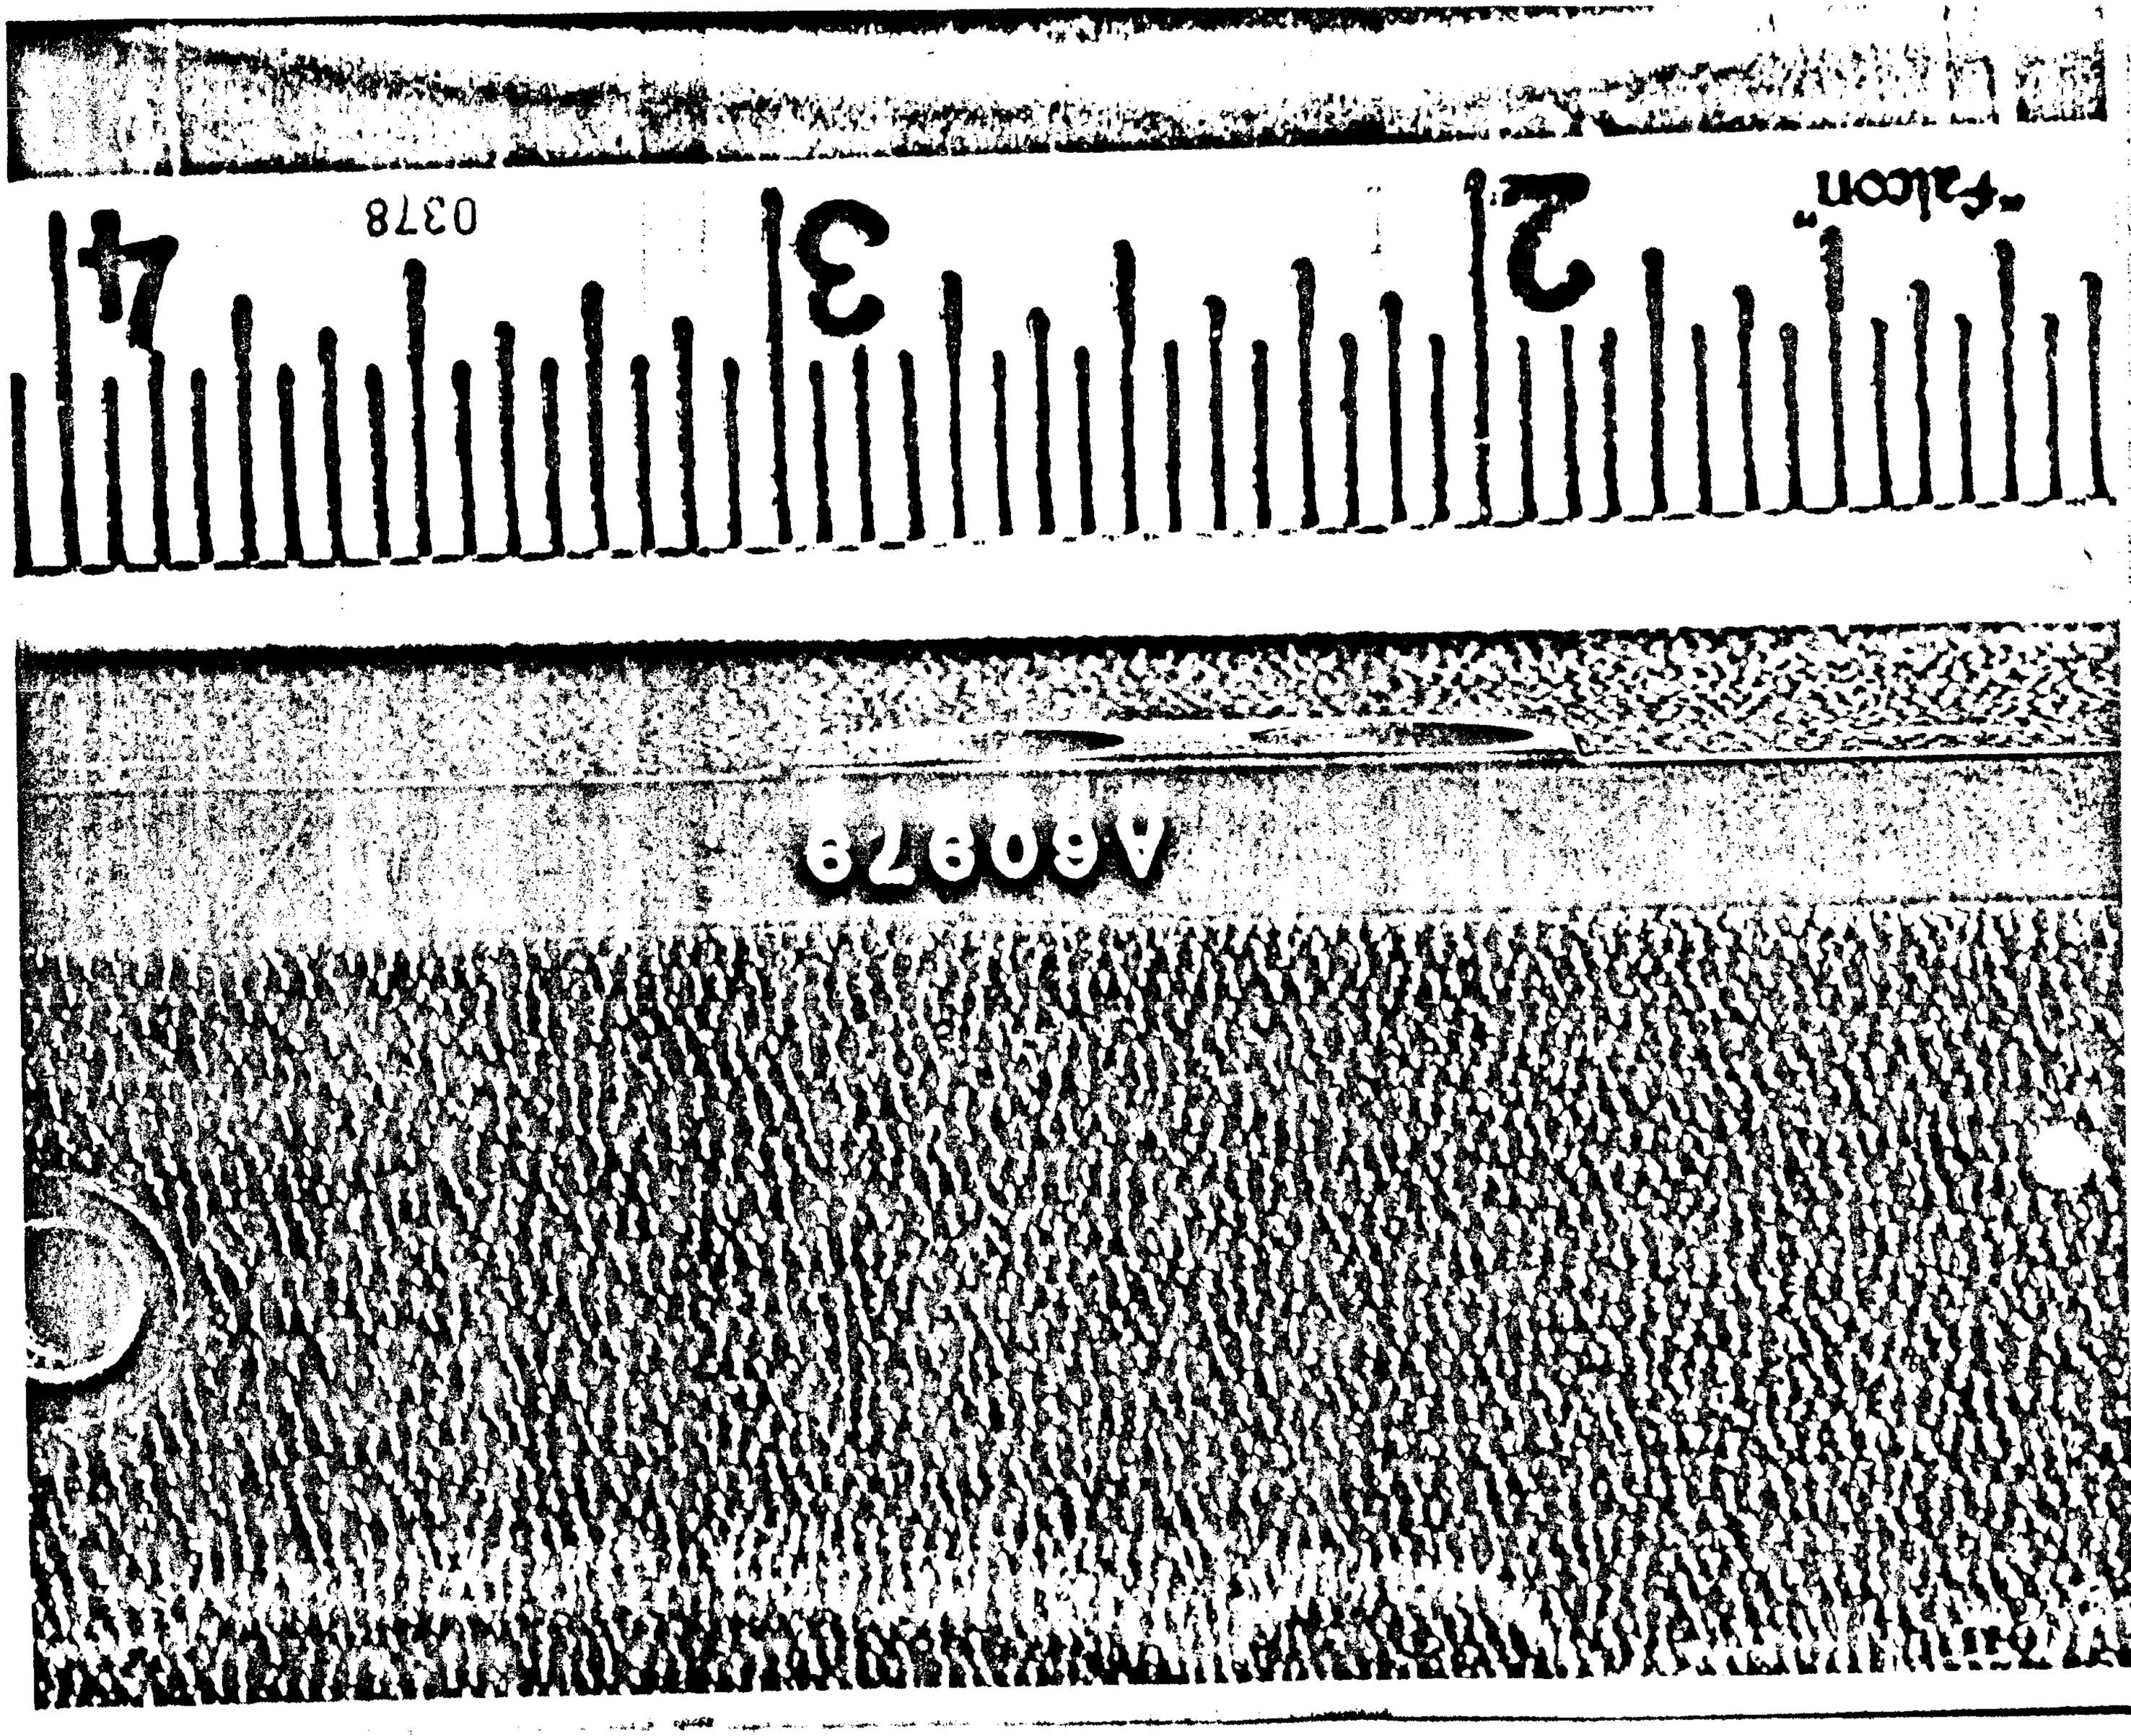


ASA
50
DIN
18
311

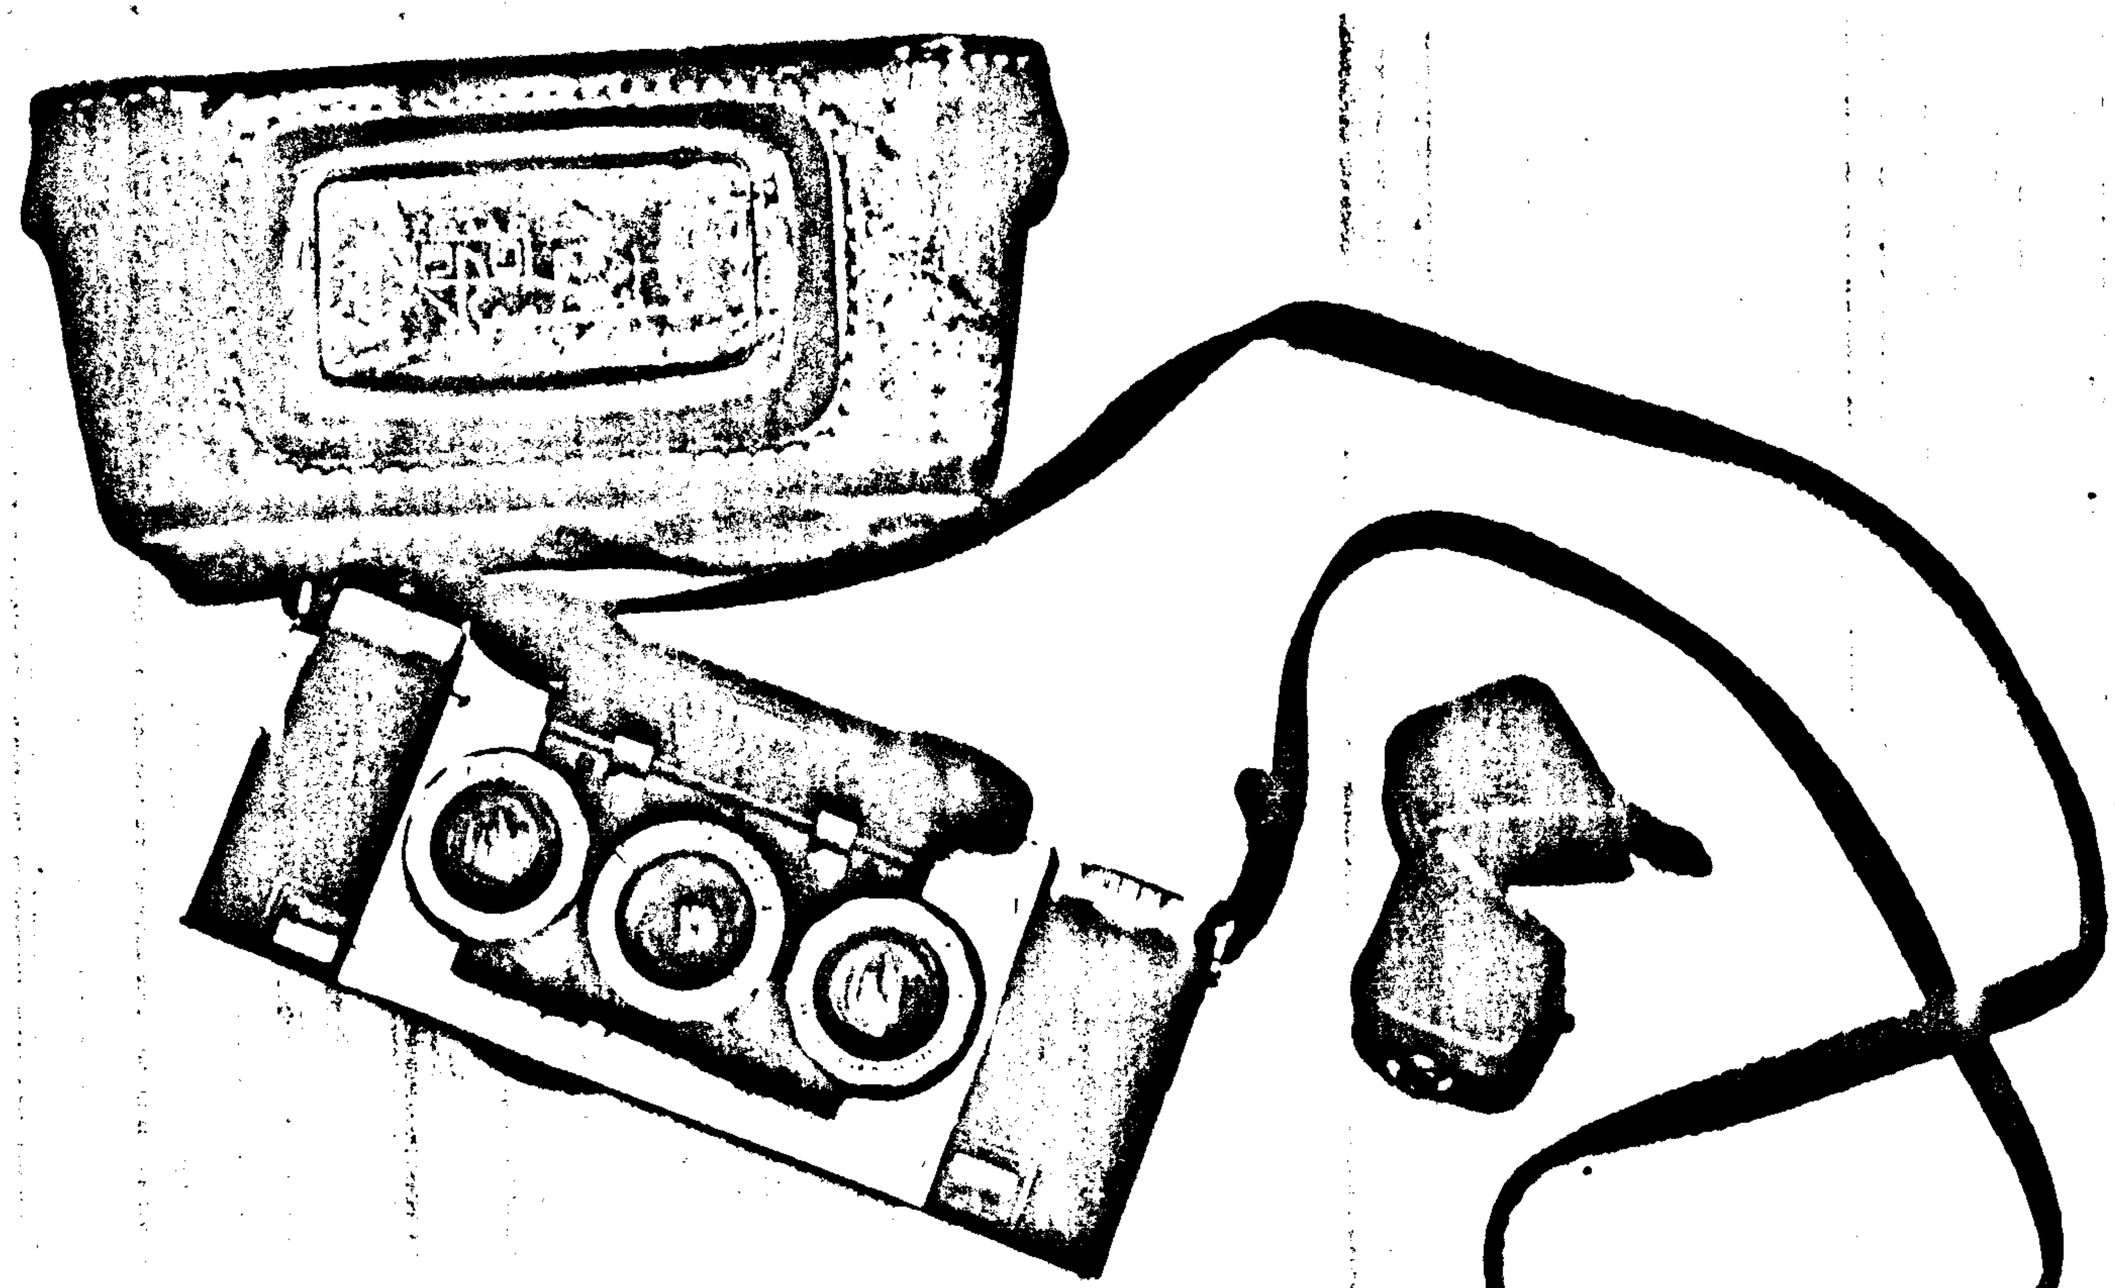


Kodak
Kodak
Kodak

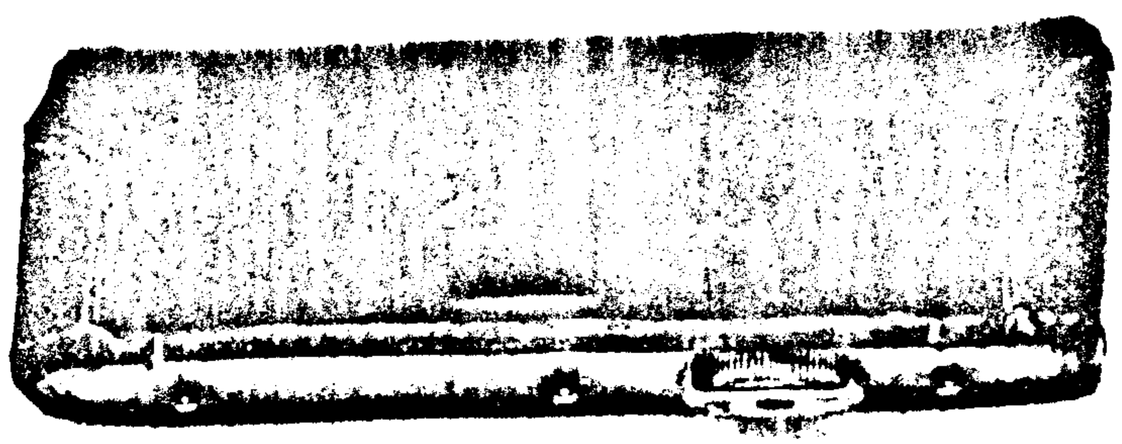


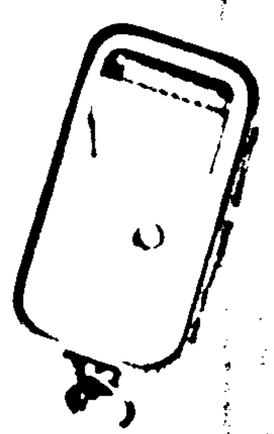


A609729
0378
"falcon"

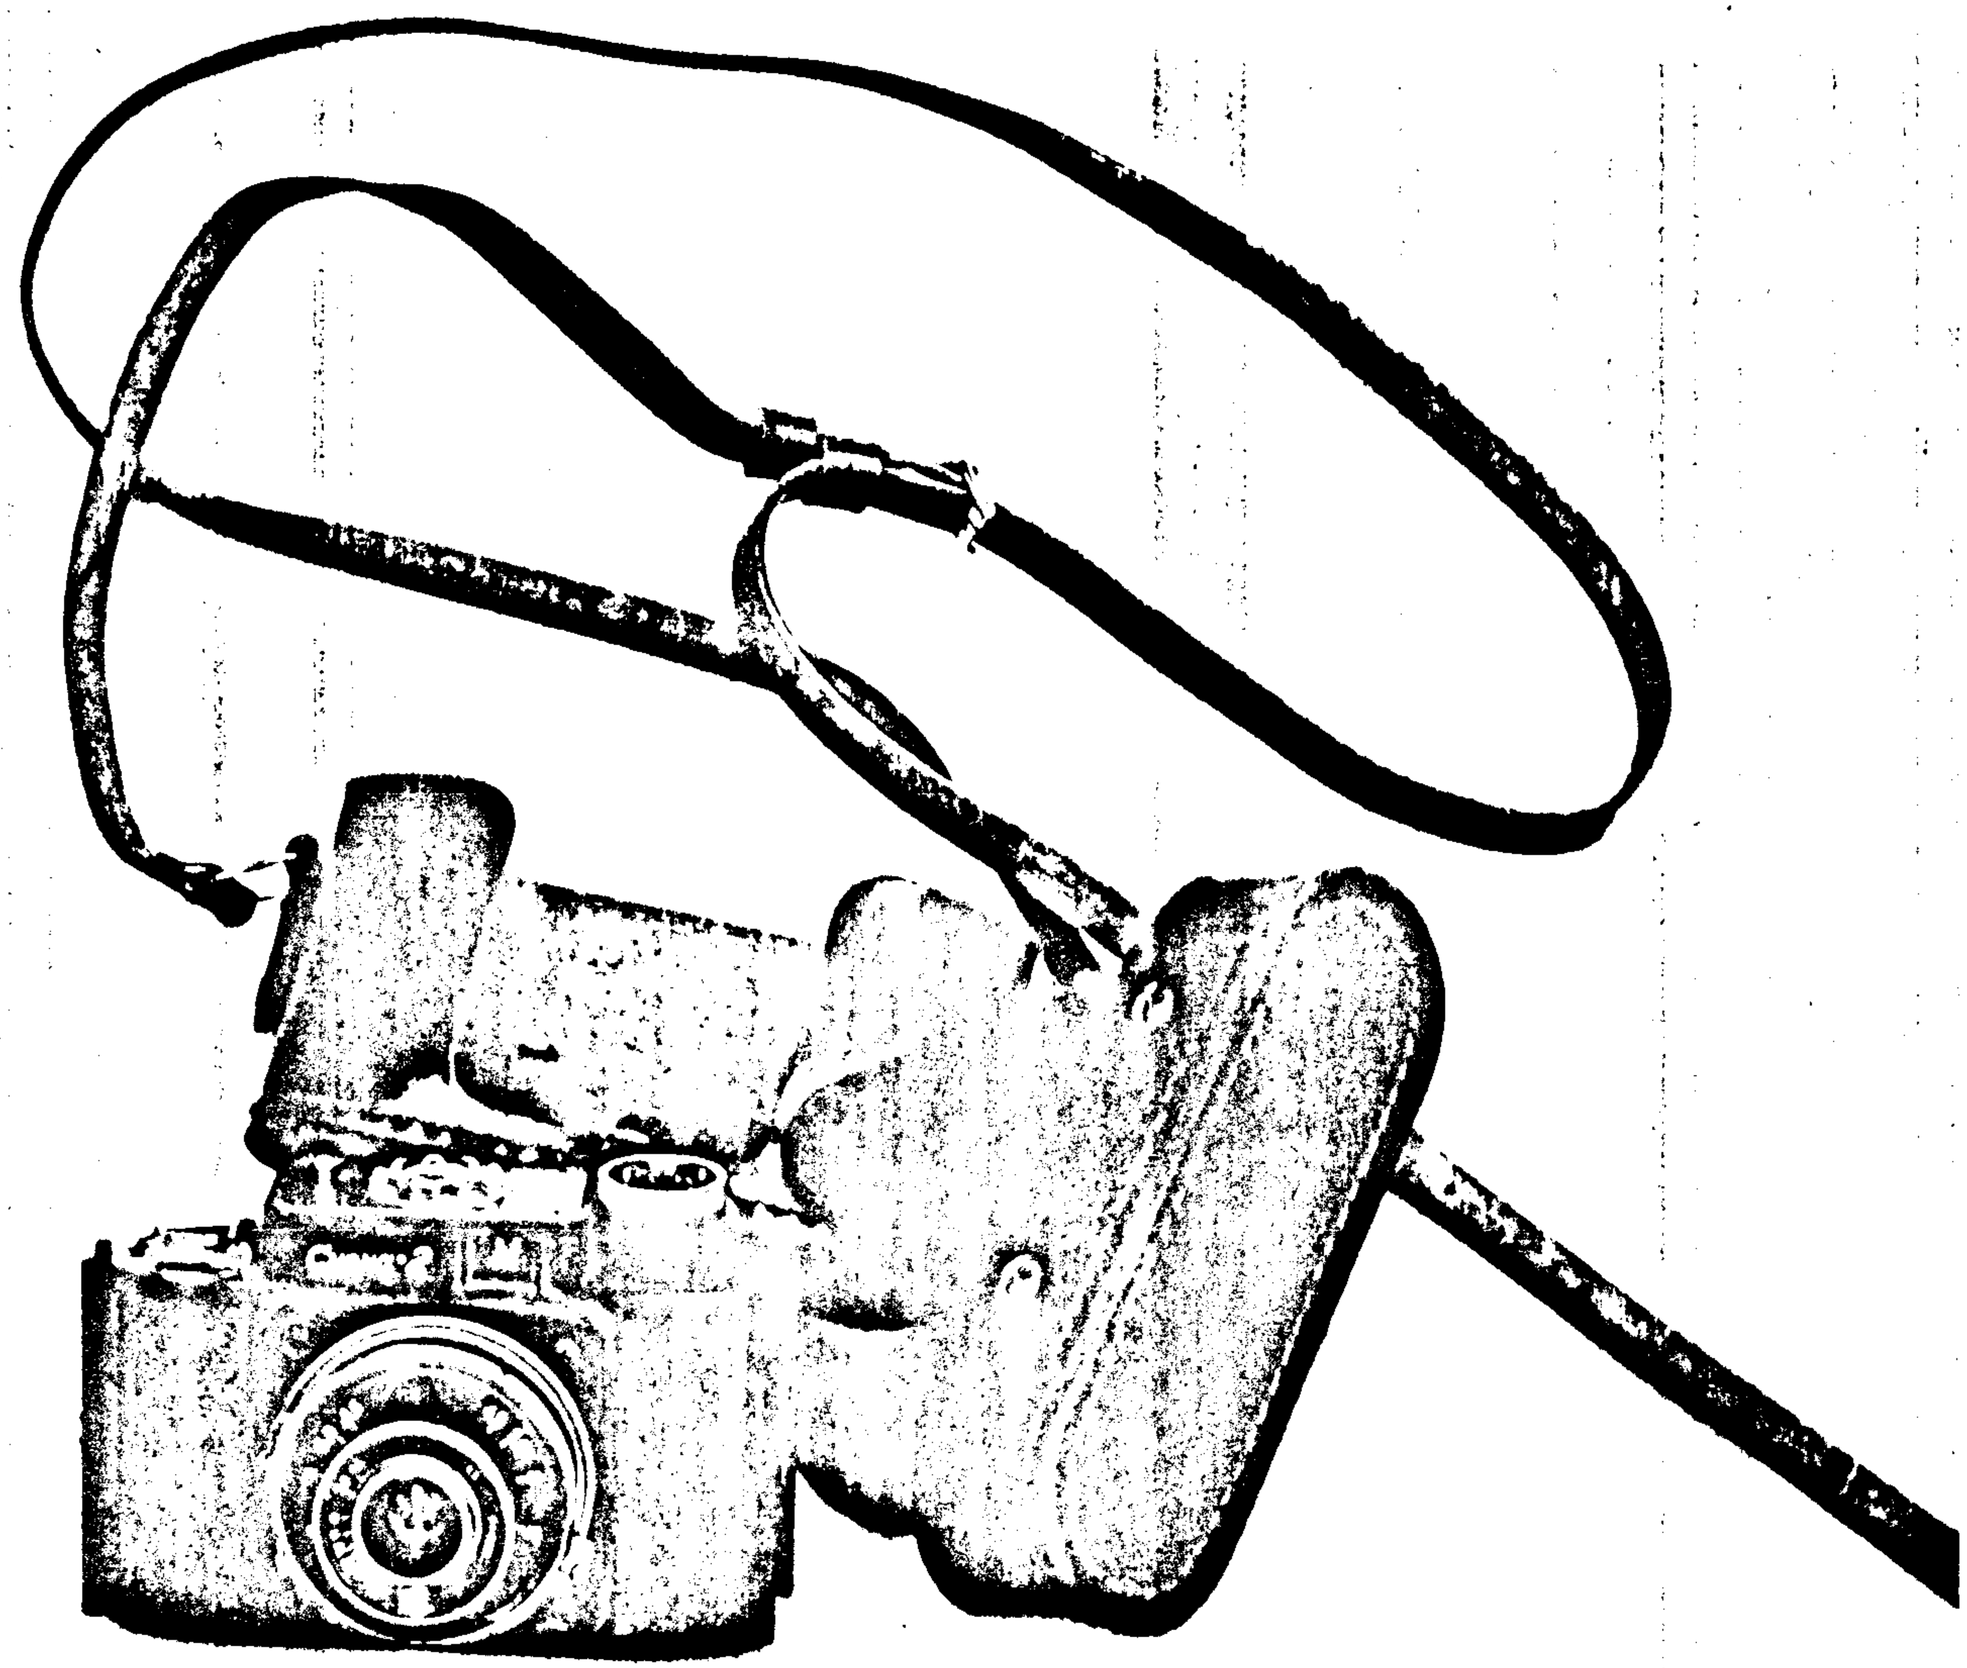


0378





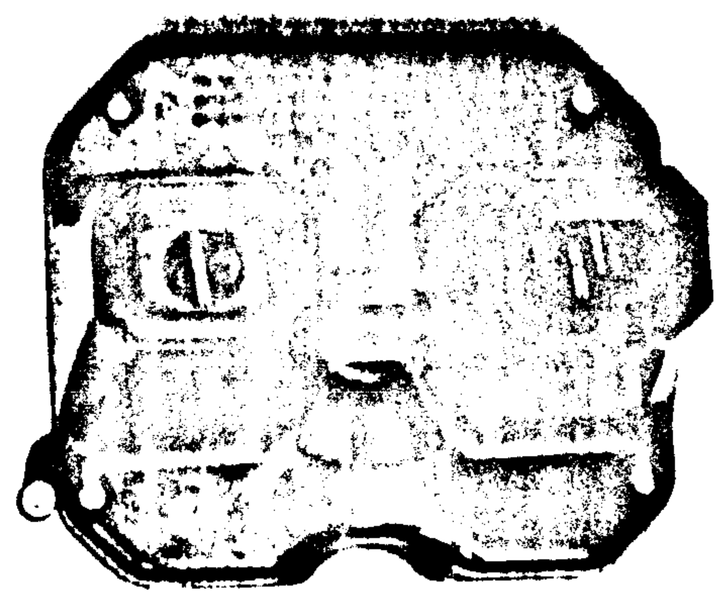
0375

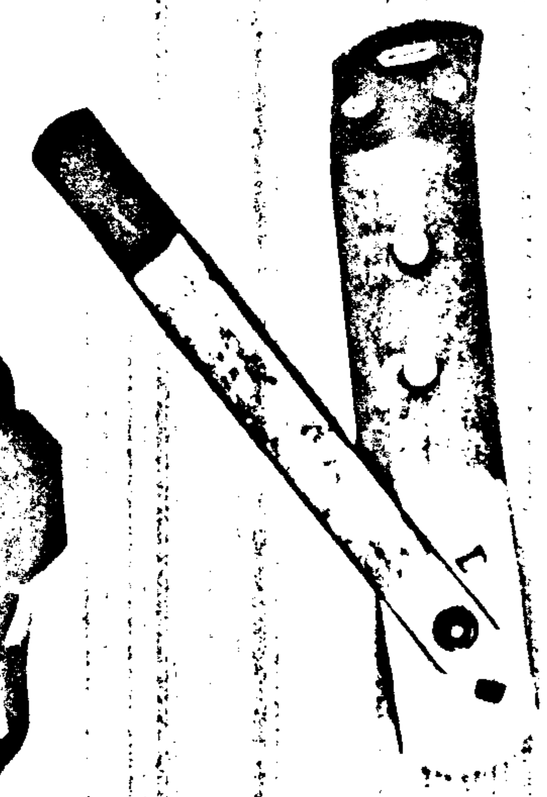


0378

№ 627259

0378





409

A STUDY OF THE USSR AND COMMUNISM:

AN HISTORICAL APPROACH

A STUDY OF THE USSR AND COMMUNISM:

AN HISTORICAL APPROACH

by

Alfred J. Rieber
Associate Professor of History,
Northwestern University

and

Robert C. Nelson
Staff Correspondent,
The Christian Science Monitor

Classroom Advisors,
Spencer J. Kelly, John Partridge, and Donald Miller
Maine Township High School
Park Ridge, Illinois

SCOTT, FORESMAN AND COMPANY
Chicago · Atlanta · Dallas · Palo Alto · Fair Lawn, N.J.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Page

Author's Introduction

To the Teacher

Chapter 1 THE USSR: LAND AND PEOPLE 6
Land · Climate · Soils · Rivers and Ports · Mineral resources · Nationalities · Republics · Summary

Chapter 2 HISTORY OF RUSSIA TO 1917 20
Earliest Times: Kievan Russia · The Mongols · Rise of Muscovy · Ivan the Terrible · Time of Troubles · Romanov rule begins · Peter the Great · Enlightened despots · Decembrist insurrection · Reforms · Revolution and war · Summary

Chapter 3 THEORY AND DEVELOPMENT OF COMMUNIST IDEOLOGY 34
Karl Marx: The origins of Marxism · Russia's revolutionary tradition · Nikolai Lenin · Trotsky and the "Permanent Revolution" · Stalin's "Socialism in one country" · The Khrushchev stage of Marxism · International communism · Titoism · Maoism · Summary

Chapter 4 POLITICS AND GOVERNMENT IN THE USSR 50
The party and the state · Dictatorship of the party · The party after World War II · Khrushchev's success · Party structure adjusted · The state and the system of soviets · The First Constitution · Constitutional rights versus Soviet reality · The people under communism · Summary

Chapter 5 ECONOMICS IN THE USSR 124
Economic problems the Bolsheviks faced · The need for industrialization · Collectivize and industrialize · The First Five-Year Plan · More Five-Year Plans · Khrushchev's reforms · Growth in the Soviet economy · Taxation · Summary

Chapter 6 CULTURAL AND INTELLECTUAL LIFE IN THE USSR 164
Marxism-Leninism, the constant guideline · The pattern of cultural revolution · Purge in the arts · Rewriting history · Church, family, and state · The new guidelines · The Thaw · Cultural exchange · Soviet science · Soviet education · Summary

Chapter 7 THE USSR AND INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS 200
Peace-at-any-price diplomacy · "Socialism in one country" in action · The Cold War · Soviet foreign policy after Stalin's death · Khrushchev and the Communist bloc · Summary

Chapter 8 THE WORLD'S RESPONSE TO COMMUNISM 236
The wartime coalition · The Truman Doctrine, the Marshall Plan, and containment · The Korean War · Liberation and massive retaliation · Pragmatism and flexibility · U.S. policy and the underdeveloped world · The U.S. and communism at home · Conclusion

Index 286

The Smashing NEW James Bond!

THE SPY WHO LOVED ME

LIVE AND LET DIE

410

Sunday, November 1, 1959 The Dallas Morning News Section 1—9

'JUST A KID'

Texan in Russia: He Wants to Stay

MOSCOW (AP)—Lee Harvey Oswald, 20-year-old former Marine from Fort Worth, said Saturday he wants to become a Russian citizen.

He said he renounced his U. S. citizenship in a letter to the Soviet Embassy here.

Oswald said he had applied for Russian citizenship at the Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

He said he had written the letter renouncing his citizenship after he had been questioned by Soviet officials.

Oswald said he had been questioned by officials of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and the Ministry of Internal Affairs.

He said he had been questioned for two days.

Oswald said he had been told he could have a decision on his request in a few days.

He said he had been told he could have a job in a factory while his request was being considered.

Oswald said he had been told he could have a room in a dormitory

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN TEXAS— DAILY AND SUNDAY OVER 250,000 COMBINED DAILY

FORT WORTH STAR-T

A Fort Worth Owned Newspaper

SEVENTY-NINTH YEAR, NO. 27 | FORT WORTH, TEXAS ★ Where the West Begins ★ SATURDAY

Oct 31

Ft. Worth Man Asks Red Citizenship

Passport Turned in At Moscow

BY JACK DOUGLAS

Lee Harvey Oswald, 20-year old ex-marine from Fort Worth now in Moscow, turned in his American passport and asked for Soviet citizenship Saturday morning.

Oswald, whose mother and brother live here, strode into the American embassy, according to Star-Telegram wire service reports, slapped down his passport on the consul's desk and said:

"I have made up my mind. I'm through."

His mother is Mrs. Marguerite Oswald, a widow who lived at 126 Bristol Rd. until about two months ago, a brother, R. L. Oswald, lives at 7313 Davenport.

Oswald's decision, even his presence in Russia, came as a big surprise to his family here.

Thursday Morning, January 2, 1960

OSWALD 'OK' [illegible]

City Mother Gets Note From Russia

A skimpy note from Russia built few hope Wednesday for a Fort Worth mother.

Mrs. Marguerite Oswald, [illegible]

Pamphlet Case Sentence Given

[illegible]

...ssociates in Congress, it now seems virtually certain that the President will not ask for the proposed supplemental appropriation of $10,000,000 for this fiscal year, and that his request for next year will be far below what the Draper committee proposed.

EX-MARINE REQUESTS SOVIET CITIZENSHIP

MOSCOW, Oct. 31 (AP)—A former marine from Texas told the United States Embassy today that he had applied for Soviet citizenship.

"I have made up my mind. I'm through," said Lee Harvey Oswald, 20 years old of Fort Worth, slapping his passport on the desk.

The embassy suggested that he withhold signing papers renouncing his citizenship until he was sure the Soviet Union would accept him.

Mr. Oswald is the third American in recent months to apply for Soviet citizenship upon arriving in Moscow. Nicholas Petrulli of Valley Stream, L. I., filed a renunciation form, then changed his mind and decided to keep his United States citizenship. Robert Webster of Cleveland, Ohio, completed formalities for taking Soviet citizenship ten days ago.

The rest of this dispatch was held in censorship.

Mr. Oswald's mother, Mrs. Marguerite Oswald, lives in Fort Worth. His sister-in-law, Mrs. R. L. Oswald of Fort Worth, said he got out of the Marines about a month ago and returned to Fort Worth for a visit.

MORE ABOUT CITY YOUTH DEFECTS

Continued From Page 1

...Oswald was discharged from the Marines a year ago. Mrs. Oswald said Lee Harvey was born in New Orleans. He has a half brother, John Pic, 31, who lives in Fort Worth.

Young Oswald was discharged from the Marines at the Cherry Point base, N. C., where he was a radio operator. He was stationed in Japan.

Young Oswald was discharged from the Marines Oct. 1 and went to Los Angeles. He said he hoped to leave for Europe in a few days.

Lee Harvey Oswald said Saturday he was a Marxist and had been a member of the Communist Party in the United States.

The Soviet government accepted Oswald as a permanent resident of Russia. He said he had applied for Soviet citizenship and was waiting for a reply.

The Soviet government gave him a job in a photo processing plant in Minsk, a place where many foreigners live.

Oswald said he had been in Russia a year and was "very happy." Nobody had contacted him since he had been in Minsk, he said.

Young Oswald said he had been a member of the Communist Party in the United States for a year and had been a member of the Communist Party in Russia for a year

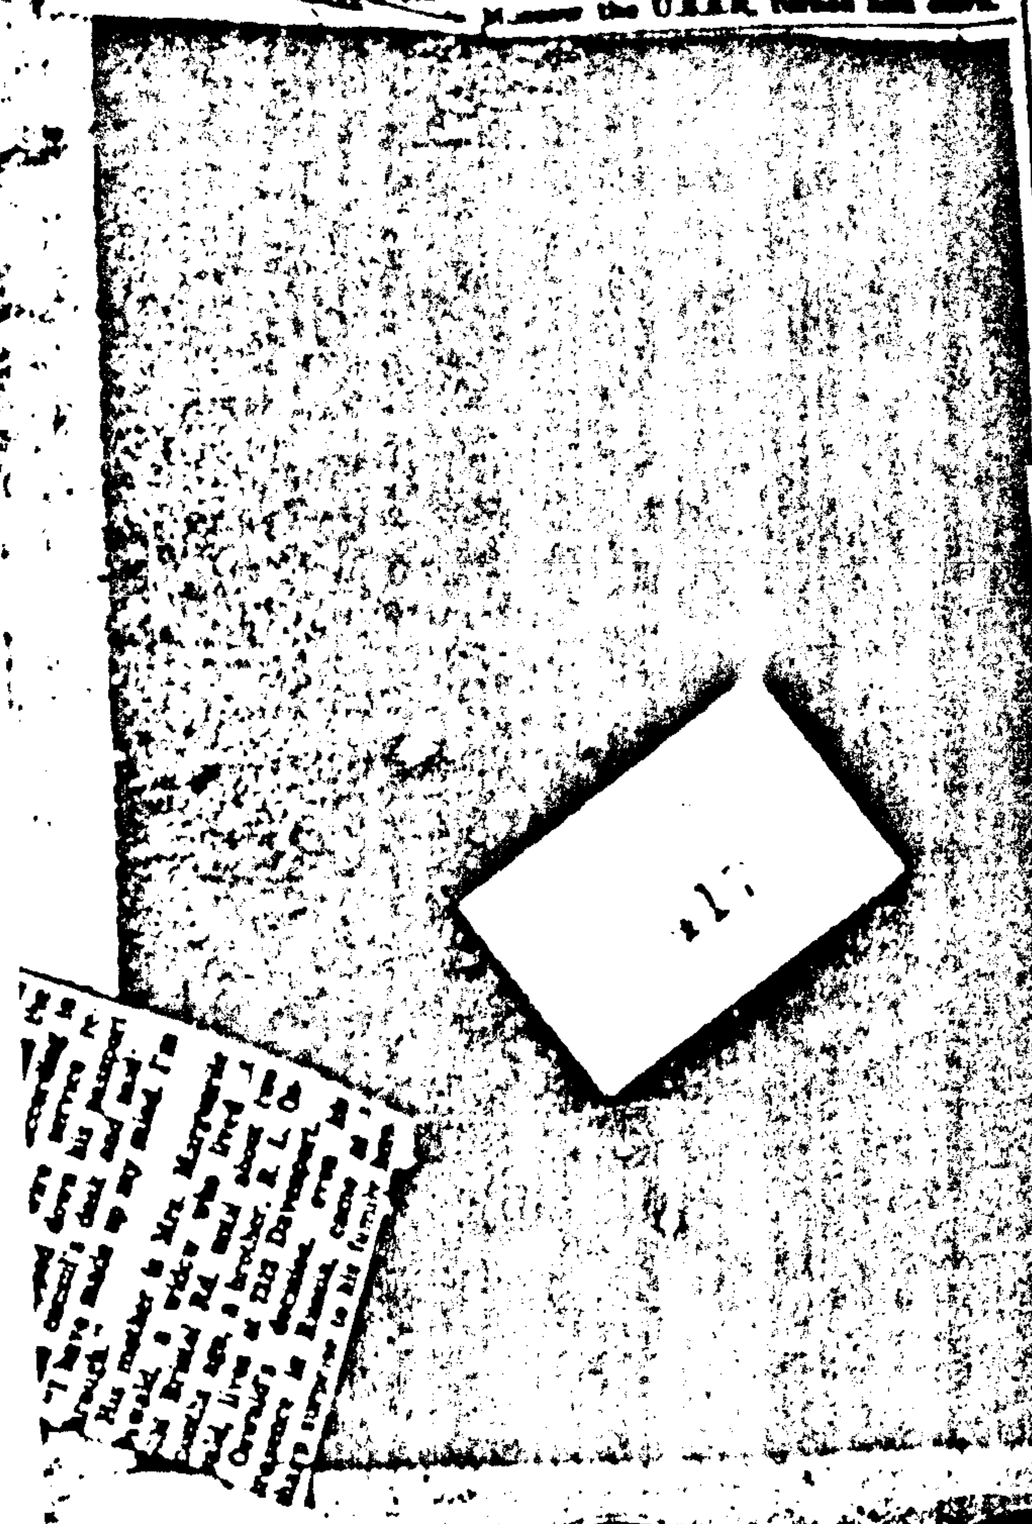
The Fort Worth Press SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1960

Mother Not Disappointed in Son for His Action

Russia Rejects Fort Worth Man's Bid

Russia has rejected Fort Worth's Lee Harvey Oswald, his mother learned.

The 20-year-old ex-Marine who applied for Soviet citizenship in Moscow the U.S.S.R. turned him down.



But he indicated he will remain in Russia anyway as a political exile.

In Fort Worth, his ailing, 53-year-old mother described her son as an "average boy with above average intelligence who perhaps wanted more out of life than he was getting."

Lee in Moscow said that a poverty-stricken childhood prompted him to take up Marxist ideals.

HIS MOTHER, Mrs. Marguerite Oswald told THE PRESS her son's childhood had just been poverty-stricken but middle-class.

"Like most Americans, we lived from paycheck to paycheck," she said.

His mother is the widow of a World War I combat veteran who died before Mrs. Oswald gave birth to Lee. The father, also named Lee, was an insurance man at the time of his death.

Lee's mother said he is a graduate of Arlington Heights High, who joined the Marines when he was 17. When he was released from active duty two months ago he had saved $1000. That's what paid for his trip to Russia where he announced on Oct. 31 that he was renouncing his American citizenship.

MRS. OSWALD said her son was bored at school because he was brighter than most students. He loved books, she said, and he read constantly.

But the developing capitalist hater liked to play Monopoly.

He liked movies, but reading best, she said.

"I would much rather read the sort of headlines that are appearing now than headlines that Lee had killed somebody or become a dope fiend or something like that," she said. "He's never given me any trouble," the mother added.

"He was always interested in history and news. When he was still in grammar school he ran to me delighted to tell me the English Queen Elizabeth had given birth to a son. That's the sort of boy he was," she said.

IN MOSCOW, Lee told United Press International: "I saw my mother always a worker, always with less than we could use. In the Marine Corps I observed the American military in foreign countries. Most Russians would call imperialists.

"I was with conscripts from Japan and conscripts of a country so imperialistic, I would not want to live in that country, and be a worker, [illegible] exploiting workers."

He said he began his study of Communism when he was 18 Karl Marx' work "Das Kapital" really turned him to Communism, he said.

His mother said she was not disappointed with her son's action. "It was something he thought out for himself. He is an adult. He has been in the service. He is capable of making his own decisions," she said.

It's his privilege to make his own decisions. That's what we preach in the United States isn't it?—that people have a right to make decisions," she said.

SHE INDICATED the decision was a political and not a criminal one. She confessed that she has no politics herself.

"I never thought much about these things," she said.

[illegible] youth, Lee appeared to [illegible]

STAR-TELEGRAM

MONDA Monday Morning.

HEY, WAI FOR ME!

—By Harold Maples, Star-Telegram Staff Cartoonist

LTR