

FBI Head Warns Youth Against Communist Peril

New York, May 4 (NS) — J. Edgar Hoover, warning that Communist groups "are reaching out to extend their insidious influence into the field of youth training," tonight called on patriotic youth leaders to counteract the menace. The chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation told the annual meeting of the Boys Club of America.

"Already in some of our large cities through youth recreation centers operated by Communist groups they are reaching out to extend their insidious influence into the field of youth training.

"Obviously, the Communist technique of providing recreation centers also provides the opportunity to seek covertly youthful converts under the guise of providing them with entertainment."
