Coughlin Urges Dictatorship as 'Lesser Menace'

Herald 3-1/8/40
DETROIT, Jan. 7 (U.P.).—The Rev. Charles E. Coughlin asked in his radio talk today if, under certain circumstances, "it is possibly true that the retention of democracy would have proved a greater menace than the adoption of a dictatorship."

The Priest quoted portions of President Roosevelt's recent address before Congress, and a conclusion "that the continued mismanagement of domestic affairs in the United States will produce results in our homeland similar to those which have appeared abroad."

Coughlin said Mr. Roosevelt had pointed out that dictatorships originated principally from "the necessity for drastic action to improve internal conditions where democratic action, for one reason or another, has failed to respond to modern needs and modern demands."
