Jury Deliberates Plot Case; No Verdict Hint

Fourteen defendants charged with conspiracy to overthrow the United States Government in the so-called Christian Front case were still waiting for the verdict this afternoon.

The jury of 11 men and a woman took time out for lunch and set to work again without giving any indication of whether a decision might be near. Judge Marcus B. Campbell, presiding in Brooklyn Federal Court, gave the jury an early recess last night so they could get some extra sleep, but called them back for the third day of deliberation at 10:30 a.m.
