

Jan Valtin Asks Olson for Pardon

7-4 8/21/41
SACRAMENTO, Calif., Aug. 20 (U.P.).—Richard Krebs, better known as Jan Valtin, author of "Out of the Night," today applied to Governor Culbert Olson for a pardon. Krebs, a native German who joined the Communist party, served a prison term at San Quentin and was paroled. He now faces deportation charges to Germany and friends say a pardon would aid him in his fight to remain in the United States. William Allen White, the Emporia, Kans., editor, recently urged Olson to issue the pardon.
