Mrs. Chandle Handler identified herself as the sister of Joseph Zack's wife. She denied the testimony of Zack that his wife and child were "held" in Russia to insure that he did not talk. Mrs. Handler said correspondence from her sister disproved Zack's testimony. Mrs. Handel's story was that when Zack came back to this country from Russia instead of sending fare for his wife and child to return, he cohabitated with another woman. Whereupon Mrs. Handler informed her sister and was told by Mrs. Zack that she had a good job and preferred to stay in Russia. Mrs. Handler further said, "When he became a stool pigeon, Bruscka, the other women, left him in disgust."
