Senate Committee May Investigate Native Fascists

Propaganda Inquiry Has Informal Approval Of Administration

By Kenneth Crawford 1741

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Hopes for a hard-hitting investigation of native American Fascist organizations and their foreign alliances are pinned on a resolution now pending in the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate. The resolution, which has been approved informally by Administration officials and Senate leaders, is temporarily stalled by the absence from Washington of its sponsor, Senator Josh Lee of Oklahoma. The Senator's health recently forced him to take a vacation. He is resting on a ranch in Oklahoma, but will return to Washington soon.

His resolution provides for investigation of foreign and subversive propaganda by a select committee of the Senate. Following the custom of the Senate, Vice - President Wallace will appoint Senator Lee chairman of the committee if the resolution is adopted, as it doubtless will be. The need for a committee equipped with sub-

Although no formal resolution for framed, a committee was appointed to in touch with the Mayor before that in committee will try to get him to declarate will try to get him to declarate before that time.

The significance of the meeting, as appeared to political observers, was labor's strongest political group was behind the TWU in its campaign againe city. And at the meeting were sold hands in the labor movement as Le Hollander, former Councilman from Brolym, a power in the Amalgamated Cloth Workers, Jacob S. Potofsky of the semion, Fred Umbey of the ILCWU when Huggins of the Paper Makers, A.

Old Hands Vote

lίΨ