"BUND" ENTHUSIAST SAYS NEGROES ARE O. K. WITH LEADERS

It was Sergeant Haeser of the West 135th Street Station, who led the onslaught against the rioters who mounted the speakers' platform and tried to "obliterate" leader Fritz Kuhn of the German-American Bund Monday night, when the loud-lunged Nazis held their meeting to celebrate George Washington's birthday anniversary. "Brother" Kuhn just missed getting his "konk" busted by the rioters and, police say, he might have been laid out for keeps.

To prove the "brotherly love" of the Nazis, a person who said she was Dr. Maria Livingston Mills of the Iriquis Hotel phoned The Amsterdam News Tuesday and enthusiastically stated that "Brother" Kuhn declared in his address that "we can live peacefully with Negroes." She also reported him as saying that "Negroes have never rebelled." And, the doctor went on "our definition of Aryanism is Christianity."
