Jersey Bund Brings Own Beer to Camp

ANDOVER, N. J., July 31. (A. P.).—Members of the German-American Bund brought their own beer to Camp Nordland yesterday for the celebration of New Jersey's German-American day. The bund's application for renewal of the camp's liquor license is pending before the State Alcoholic Beverage Control Commission.

Yesterday the bund members marched through the camp, wearing gray shirts and black ties. Their trousers and shoes varied in color.

Fritz Kuhn, national bund leader, and William Kunze, national publicity director, gave addresses, Kuhn urging his listeners to "fight Communism."
