Rebuff Nazi Apologist

(Special to the Record)

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 5—Colin Ross, chief propagandist for Adolph Hitler in America, learned today that this city with one of the largest German populations in America has no sympathy with Nazi ideals.

A lecture, scheduled to have been given by Ross Sunday night on the German occupation of the Sudetenland, was cancelled by directors of the German-American social center, following emphatic protests from several labor and veterans organizations.

This rebuke to Ross follows a booning accorded the Nazi apologist when he spoke in Chicago before the Council on Foreign Relations Tuesday. Chicago citizens hissed Ross and yelled "liar" when he defended Nazi persecution of the German Jews and attacked democracy.

The St. Louis groups charged that Ross is a paid propagandist of the Nazi government.
