

FASCIST ORGANIZATIONS-
ITALIAN-AMERICAN

From Within the Gates, Nation,
July 27, 1940, pp. 73f.

Perhaps the most influential of the Italian-American groups is the Lictor Federation, which swallowed most of the 189 branches of the now defunct Fascist League of America. Other important Italian propaganda agencies are the Dante Alighieri Society, the American-Italian Union, the Italian Historical Society, the Cons of Italy, and the International Confederation of America.
