

ACTION

No. 184 (REGISTERED AT THE G.P.O.
AS A NEWSPAPER)

"BRITAIN FIRST"

September 2, 1939

FULL REPORT
OF MOSLEY'S
PEACE
MEETING

Pages 9, 10, 11

FOR BRITAIN, PEACE AND PEOPLE

No War for Jewish Finance

Peace Drive Fund Appeal

Response to the urgent appeal for funds last week has been splendid; in fact, the cost of the vast number of leaflets already issued has just been met by the generous subscriptions of many who have made real sacrifice in this hour of Britain's need.

But millions more leaflets are required. All over the country demands are coming in. You know this is a poor Movement, and Headquarters simply has not the money to meet this demand.

So subscribe, and subscribe now. Send in pounds or pennies; provide the munitions for the fight for Peace.

Send subscriptions to:—
The Director General,
1 Sanctuary Buildings,
Westminster, S.W.1.

"Action" Sold Out

LAST week's issue of Action, despite our greatly increased print order, was sold out over the weekend. In view of this fact and the increased interest that the people are showing in the Peace policy of British Union, Districts, Action sellers and newsagents are warned that it is advisable that all increased orders should be sent in immediately.

The print order has again been increased for this issue, but present demand indicates that even this order may not be sufficient to meet the incalculable demand.

So order now and see that you have sufficient copies to meet your local demand. Do not wait till later in the week and disappoint not only yourself but also those who desire to read British Union case for Peace.

BRITISH UNION STANDS SOLID AGAINST ANY WAR—EXCEPT IN DEFENCE OF BRITAIN AND OUR EMPIRE. TO OUR PEOPLE WE EXPOSE AND DENOUNCE THE VILE CONSPIRACY OF THE MONEY POWER TO BRING WORLD WAR IN THE VENDETTA OF JEWISH FINANCE

No one threatens Britain or the Empire. On the contrary, those whom our rulers prepared to fight have again and again offered to negotiate a permanent Peace and understanding with our country. We are in the present position because the Parliamentary Parties have displayed but two capacities—to meddle with the affairs of other nations and to neglect those of Great Britain.

They say the interests of humanity are threatened; they mean the interests of their financial masters. The interests of humanity are not served by perpetuating the inhuman conditions of the peasants of Poland, who are sweated by an alien finance to pile up the profits of usury and to undercut and destroy the Western standard of life. The interests of humanity are not served by the continued subjection of a great German minority to an alien tyranny. The interests of humanity are not served by preserving for ever the indefensible clauses of the Versailles Treaty; which all Parties, and particularly the Labour Party, have admitted to be unjust, until they saw, in its maintenance, an opportunity to serve their masters, even if it cost the lives of a million Britons.

They say the British people are united in this iniquity. They lie—and they know it. The British people have never been consulted. When and where have they given any verdict in favour of war for the maintenance of the present system in Poland? What evidence do they possess that the British people accept their argument in favour of this war?

The only evidence of popular opinion has been provided by British Union rallies, which have been the mightiest public demonstrations of the people's feeling ever witnessed in this land. It is the only evidence because it is the only opportunity afforded the people to express an opinion at all.

The evidence presented by these vast meetings of unanimous masses show the British people solid against this war. Why is so much of the Press at such pains to suppress this evidence? Because they employ a campaign of cold and calculated lies to pretend that the British people desire this war. Never before have they shown themselves so plainly as the yelping jackals of Jewish Finance. They have not even the wit to hide their disappointment when a Peace move seems likely to succeed! Their groans of misery almost echo from their pages when they feel they may be cheated of their war.

But in their last desperate effort to execute their masters' feud, they give the game away. The eyes of the British people are opening; the day of reckoning is coming. Seven years of British Union struggle approaches a testing ordeal and a decisive hour. Stand fast, my comrades and companions. Come what may, you have lit a flame in Britain which all the dark corruption of Jewish Money Power cannot extinguish. Alone you stand undaunted in face of the war conspiracy. Alone British Union marches to this decisive struggle, for all lesser things are gone.

So alone in all great hours of British history has ever stood the undying spirit of the English in the forms of those who feared nothing and cared for nothing except the life and honour of Britain and her people.

In dark hours, before, that spirit has been gloriously victorious. In face of all evil and material forces of the earth—through the final struggle—it shall not fail.

OSWALD MOSLEY

Press Sabotages Peace?

Prime Minister's Charges

EVEN the Prime Minister, whose Government owes its existence to the Press, was driven, in the House of Commons, to protest against the recent Press excesses. He was evidently fearful that future Press excesses, whether in reckless irresponsibility or deliberate sabotage, would make hopeless any effort at peace.

For the time being, at any rate, he appears to be pursuing the peace efforts from which he was previously so weakly driven by the clamour of the Press and the war faction which owes its whole strength to the support of the Press.

The actual words of Mr. Chamberlain in referring to certain past incidents in the Press were as follows:

"The first thing he would like to do would be to urge the Press to exercise the utmost restraint. At such a time it was quite possible for a few thoughtless words to wreck the whole of the efforts which the Government were making to obtain a satisfactory solution of present difficulties. He had heard of what purported to be a verbatim account of the Note despatched to Hitler. Such an account could only be an invention from beginning to end." (Press account of Mr. Chamberlain's speech in House of Commons, 29.8.39.)

Below is printed a denial of some Press statements over the official wireless:

"The reports which have appeared in the Press as to the contents of Herr Hitler's communication to the British Government are entirely unauthorised and quite inaccurate" (Official wireless statement, 7.8.39.)