

Dear Jim, 1996: good faith, due diligence, compliance, discrimination 10/4/76

My friend Emory Brown is great! He's practically a mind reader. He is certainly a time's nicker with the mailing he duplicated to you, received here today.

This stuff is fantastically suited to our immediate needs on many legal points. I assume you will not have time to go over it before Friday so I'll have it all written out.

Whatever there was after the first page of Kelley's letter to him of 9/17 he forgot in this set,

Yeah, Emory is even a lily-gilder!

Goes back to your questioning of Howard on how they fake statistics.

Here you have Emory saying, that lily-gilder, that he is not making the request under FOIA so they call it FOIA anyway. They process it as that. He tells them again that it is no FOIA, so they process his appeal under FOIA, too.

In both cases it is after mine were filed and remain unprocessed. Both cases meaning request and appeal.

To make it even more fantastic they give him the Tippit stuff they have not yet given me. He did not use FOIA and I did. He write after I did. He did not appeal, I did. They have not even acknowledged my appeal after about 4 months.

Even on the masking what Emory sent is magnificent.

12/20/75
He make protest about unjustified masking, the judge agrees and tells them they have to justify. Wiseman tells me he'll see me in court first and after all these many months no explanation, no justification, no response to the judge by AUSA Dugan or anyone else. But Emory merely writes a letter saying naughty, naughty and lo the mighty Kelley comes back with an explanation that it is wrong and copies of the unexpurgated pages. Meanwhile he charges Emory not a penny for anything.

There is even an explanation I'm sure Emory had no way of spotting of the possibility that Kilty's perjury was accidental, which bears heavily on the need for first-person evidence. In Kelley's 9/17 he says "the only metal fragment (my emph) examined by neutron activation analysis were..." Naturally cloth and glass and concrete are not "metal fragments."

I'm not saying that Kilty's perjury was accidental. I'm merely saying that from some file record it could be.

This stuff is also great for 75-226.

There is a dybbuk inside those FBI types. They even say that what we got from them, wrung from them in court, comes from the Nichols file.

If I did not know that everyone in the FBI loves everyone in the whole country I'd suspect they do not love me.

Best,
