

Dear Jim,            Affidavit attached to summary judgement motion in 1996    9/8/77

In haste and in an effort to be brief I slipped into common usage in drafting the affidavit. In changing it around you repeated my technical error of fact.

Time, Inc., did not technically "purchase" the Zapruder film. This is the com on reference but in fact they bought the rights. They have since reverted these rights and what remains of the original to Zapruder's heirs. This was because of all the hassle it got into over airing of the film on TV. It got out from under by returning the film.

I do not think this will be or should be a problem but I alert you in case the government tries to make an issue of it.

The Statement of Material Facts and the Memorandum appear fine to me.

Best,
