

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

JAMES H. LESAR,

Plaintiff,

v.

Civil Action No. 77-0692

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE,

Defendant.

REPORT TO THE COURT

On June 9, 1978, at a hearing held on the parties' cross motions for summary judgment in this Freedom of Information Act action, the Court expressed a concern pertaining to certain document segments which had been withheld from plaintiff on the grounds that their disclosure was barred by a Court Order issued by Judge John Lewis Smith, Jr. in the consolidated cases of Lee v. Kelley, Civil No. 76-1185 and Southern Christian Leadership Conference v. Kelley, Civil No. 76-1186 (D.D.C. 1977).

In response to the Court's concern, and in response also to plaintiff's indication at that hearing of his theretofore unexpressed intention to contest such withholding, defendant has undertaken a complete review and reprocessing of all document segments heretofore withheld pursuant to Judge Smith's Order.

As is indicated in the Supplemental Affidavit Of Michael E. Shaheen, Jr. ("Supplemental Shaheen Affidavit"), which is filed herewith, the vast majority of these segments are of such character that their disclosure would constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy; they therefore continue to be withheld by defendant, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. §552(b)(7)(C). See Supplemental Shaheen Affidavit at ¶5.

The remainder of these segments, which have been found upon reprocessing not to contain personal privacy information, appear on fifty-two different pages of the documents at issue. All such segments, with the exception of one category of information discussed immediately below, are hereby disclosed to plaintiff and placed into the record of the Court through the filing herewith of expurgated copies of these fifty-two pages.^{1/} See Supplemental Shaheen Affidavit at ¶6 and Attachment B thereto.

On fifteen of these fifty-two pages, however, there appears information which constitutes the contents of certain conversations which were electronically recorded by the Federal Bureau of Investigation between 1963 and 1968; defendant considers itself bound by Judge Smith's Order not to disclose such information. See Supplemental Shaheen Affidavit at ¶7 and Attachment A thereto.^{2/} Consequently, this information continues to be withheld by defendant and is identified by the designation "Court Order" which appears where appropriate in the margins of fifteen of the fifty-two document pages

^{1/} The fifty-two expurgated document pages filed herewith should be deemed replacements for the counterpart document pages which were filed with the Court on February 1, 1978 as part of defendant's Vaughn showing.

^{2/} Upon reprocessing, defendant has employed a comparatively strict interpretation of Judge Smith's Order. For example, information pertaining to the general subject matter of an overheard conversation has not been deemed to be within the scope of the Court Order, as an examination of the submitted document pages should readily reveal. It should also be evident upon inspection of these documents that several of the segments withheld by defendant pursuant to the Court Order are quoted passages of the actual conversations themselves.

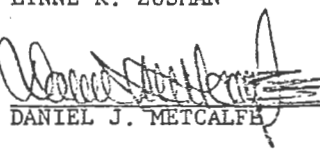

filed herewith. This information is of course available for the Court's in camera inspection as the Court deems appropriate.

Respectfully submitted,

SUPPLEMENTAL AFFIDAVIT OF
MICHAEL E. SHAHEEN, JR.

I, Michael E. Shaheen, Jr., am the head of the United States Department of Justice Office of Professional Responsibility, with the title, "Counsel on Professional Responsibility." The following statements are made upon personal knowledge and information made available to me in the course of my official duties.

1. On February 1, 1978, I executed a previous affidavit, which was filed in the above-captioned civil action on that same date. As was indicated in this previous affidavit, I am generally familiar both with this Freedom of Information Act action and with those documents sought by plaintiff which are presently in the custody of the Office of Professional Responsibility.

2. As was further indicated at pages three and nine of my previous affidavit, certain segments of these documents were withheld from plaintiff on the grounds that they were of such character that their disclosure was barred by a Court Order issued by Judge John Lewis Smith, Jr. in the consolidated cases of Lea v. Kelley, Civil No. 76-1185 and Southern Christian Leadership Conference v. Kelley, Civil No. 76-1186 (D.D.C. 1977) (attached hereto as "Attachment A"). Such withholdings were identified on the expurgated documents released to plaintiff and filed with the Court by the designation "C.O." placed in the margin of these documents.

3. It is my understanding that there recently arose a question concerning the propriety of withholding such segments of information absent specific determinations that they are individually exempt from disclosure under the Freedom of Information Act.

4. Consequently, each and every such segment of information heretofore withheld pursuant to this Court Order has now been individually reviewed and reprocessed under the Freedom of Information Act.

5. Upon such review and reprocessing, it has been determined that the vast majority of these segments are of such character that their disclosure would constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy and that no countervailing public interest in their disclosure exists. In most instances, this information pertains to the personal life of the late Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., and as such involves the privacy interests of Dr. King and his family. In the remaining instances, the information pertains to personal matters of those who were associated or connected with Dr. King in a personal or professional context. All such segments, constituting the totality of all segments heretofore withheld pursuant to the "C.O." designation with the exception of those segments described below, are now withheld on personal privacy grounds pursuant to 5 U.S.C. §552(b)(7)(C).

6. The remaining segments of information heretofore withheld pursuant to the "C.O." designation were found not to be of such character that their disclosure would constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. These segments comprise portions of fifty-two different pages of the documents at issue and, with the exception of those segments further described below, they are hereby disclosed to plaintiff through the attachment to this affidavit of an expurgated copy of each of these fifty-two pages ("Attachment B").

7. There remains one additional group of segments which, upon reprocessing, is neither withheld on privacy grounds as described in paragraph five, above, nor is hereby disclosed to plaintiff as described in paragraph six. These segments, which appear on fifteen different document pages, are those which do not contain personal privacy information yet nevertheless constitute the contents of certain conversations (of a non-personal, mostly political nature) among Dr. King and his personal and professional associates which were electronically recorded by the Federal Bureau of Investigation between 1963 and 1968. Because of Judge Smith's Court Order prohibiting any departmental disclosure of the "contents" of such conversations (see "Attachment A" at page four), I am prohibited from disclosing this information. Accordingly, these segments, each of which appears on one or another of the fifty-two pages upon which information is otherwise disclosed, continue to be withheld from plaintiff and can be identified through the designation "Court Order" which appears where appropriate in the margin of the expurgated documents attached to this affidavit.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER

Bernard Lee, former assistant to Dr. Martin Luther King, and the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), headed by Dr. King until his death in 1968, are suing Clarence Kelley, Cartha DeLoach, William Sullivan, John Mohr (executor of the estate of Clyde Tolson), and two unknown (and unserved) FBI agents for violation of rights guaranteed them under the First, Fourth, and Fifth Amendments to the Constitution of the United States. Specifically, Lee alleges that defendants surreptitiously tape-recorded his conversations in a room at the Willard Hotel in 1963 and that a copy of the tape was sent to Mrs. King in 1964. He further contends that other of his conversations have unlawfully been recorded since that time, including some after the enactment, in 1969, of Title III of the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act, 18 U.S.C. §§2510-2520. SCLC complains that, "beginning in 1963 and ending in the Fall of 1968", defendants eavesdropped on the conversations of the organization's employees. It too contends that recordings of these conversations have been made available to the news media and others outside the FBI. Both plaintiffs seek money damages and request that all records of the monitored conversations be destroyed or impounded.

~~Doc. 1185-1186~~

Defendants' Motions to Dismiss, now before the Court, raise several substantial defenses. However, in view of the fact that the Court now finds the damage claims to be barred by the statute of limitations, consideration of the other defenses is pretermitted.

When suing either under Rivens v. Six Unknown Named Agents of Federal Bureau of Narcotics, 403 U.S. 388 (1971), or under Title III, plaintiffs are governed by the most analogous statute of limitations of the state in which the Court sits: Holberg v. Arbrecht, 327 U.S. 392, 395 (1946); Johnson v. Railway Express Agency, Inc., 421 U.S. 454 (1975); Ernst & Ernst v. Hochfelder, 44 U.S.L.W. 4451 4459n.29 (1976); Forrestal Village, Inc. v. Graham, No. 76-1314 (D.C.Cir. January 13, 1977). In this case, the three-year District of Columbia statute controls. Pub.L.88-241, 77 Stat. 509, 12 D.C. Code §301(8). The statute began to run when plaintiffs actually discovered, or in the exercise of due diligence should have discovered, the operative facts of the cause of action. See Lewis v. Denison, 2 App.D.C.

387 (1894); Holsberg v. Ambracht, supra.

Starting in the mid-1960s and reaching a peak in 1968 and 1969, at the time of former Attorney General Robert Kennedy's campaign for the Presidency and thereafter, the nation's leading newspapers were rife with accounts of buggings of Dr. King. See Exhibit A to Federal Defendants' Motion to Dismiss. Under these circumstances, plaintiffs' avowal that they had no knowledge of the source of the tapes until the 1975 report by the Senate Select Committee on the FBI is not well taken. Accordingly, the motions to dismiss the amended complaints are granted.

With reference to the custody of the intercepted conversations, an inventory of all such records shall be presented to the Court, and the records themselves shall be turned over, under seal, to the Archivist of the United States. See 44 U.S.C. §2101 et seq.

Therefore, it is by the Court this 3/2nd day of January 1977.

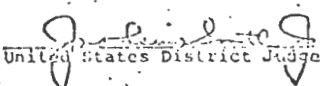

ORDERED that the Motions by defendants Clarence M. Kelley, Cartha DeLoach, William C. Sullivan and John P. Mohr to dismiss the Amended Complaints be, and the same hereby are, granted; and it is further

ORDERED that, within ninety (90) days of the date of the entry of this Order, the Federal Bureau of Investigation shall assemble at its headquarters in Washington, D.C., all known copies of the recorded tapes, and transcripts thereof, resulting from the FBI's microphonic surveillance, between 1963 and 1968, of the plaintiffs' former president, Martin

Luther King, Jr.; and all known copies of the tapes, transcripts and logs resulting from the FBI's telephone wire-tapping, between 1963 and 1968, of the plaintiffs' offices in Atlanta, Georgia and New York, New York, the home of Martin Luther King, Jr., and places of public accommodation occupied by Martin Luther King, Jr.; and it is further

ORDERED that at the expiration of the said ninety (90) day period, the Federal Bureau of Investigation shall deliver to this Court under seal an inventory of said tapes and documents and shall deliver said tapes and documents to the custody of the National Archives and Records Service, to be maintained by the Archivist of the United States under seal for a period of fifty (50) years; and it is further ORDERED that the Archivist of the United States shall take such actions as are necessary to the preservation of said tapes and documents but shall not disclose the tapes or documents, or their contents, except pursuant to a specific Order from a court of competent jurisdiction requiring disclosure.

(b)(7)(E)*

[REDACTED]

This installation consistently furnishes examples of communist influence or attempted communist influence on King and on the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, which is not available through any other source. This information is widely disseminated to other Government agencies and frequently to the White House. A few examples of information furnished to the White House are as follows:

OBSERVATIONS:

King is the foremost civil rights figure in the country and has an international following. A number of his key advisors as well as some officers in the Southern Christian Leadership Conference have been Communist Party members or affiliated with other subversive organizations. This surveillance indicates the extent of influence being exerted on King by these individuals. It reveals the part these individuals play in policy-making decisions with King; assistance which they render King in his writings and speeches; and the advice and counsel they give King in his declarations concerning United States foreign policy.

RECOMMENDATION:

In order that the Bureau may carry out its responsibilities on uncovering and disseminating all information indicating communist influence in racial matters, including the increasing tendency to merge peace issues with civil rights, it is mandatory that we maintain coverage of King. Thus, it is recommended this technical surveillance be retained.
