Another half ton of FBI documents on the 1963 assassination of President Kennedy will be made public Wednesday, with the file on the slaying "open-ended" and a congressional investigation still under way.

The first installment in the massive 200-volume FBI assassination file, costing $188,000 to compile, was released last month. The 40,001 pages exploded no time bombs but revealed the incredible efforts expended by an army of FBI agents in running down every tip and rumor on the Nov. 22, 1963, murder.

The second installment, 58,000 pages, will cover the continuing investigations from September, 1964—where the first installment left off—up to recent times. An FBI spokesman, who has seen all the material, said the documents to be released Wednesday will contain nothing dramatically new.
