MOTION FOR LEAVE TO FILE REPLY
BRIEF, TIME HAVING EXPIRED

Comes now the appellant, Mr. Harold Weisberg, and moves the Court for leave to file his Reply Brief, time having expired. As grounds for his motion, appellant represents to the Court as follows:

1. Appellant's Reply Brief was due on August 27 by virtue of a previous extension of time.
2. Appellant's counsel has worked on the brief day and night, including the weekend, since August 24th. The only exception to this was the morning of August 31, when he had a doctor's appointment which took up the entire morning.
3. The brief took longer than he had anticipated in large part because of the tedious and time-consuming chore of combing through the voluminous record in this case to properly cite pertinent parts. (This case is seven years old and has been before this Court twice before under the amended Freedom of Information Act.)

For the foregoing reasons, appellant asks that his motion for leave to file out-of-time be granted.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES H. LESAR
