Notes in OLC Safe on Warren Commission Documents

The OLC safe contains some handwritten and typewritten documents about six inches thick prepared by Dudley Chapman. These notes summarize documents collected by the Warren Commission which were not made public. According to Mr. Chapman, the law requires that every five years the documents be reviewed to see what additional documents can be released. The notes are therefore being retained in the OLC safe should the occasion arise when OLC may be asked again to participate in the required review.
