HW 2/22/78

It occurs to me that if there is the indicated hassle over this you might want also ~~to~~ to go into the services they could have had and did not want once they engaged me in the King case.

This fits with the pieties of Griffin Bell on his receiving the OPR report and out offers of that time, with a critical analysis of the withholdings as well as the content of the CRD and OPR reports and what I could have told them of what is missing in the FBI's records I've received, not just specific examples of withholdings which I told them at the outset would be limited to giving you illustrations of kinds of wrongful withholdings.

If they force us to litigate this we can use it for advancing the entire matter, by trying a different case, so to speak, the case of their King investigation as well as of their current official attitude toward it and the assassination itself.
