While I have no recollection of the date on which I prepared the attached addition to prior appeals from their content and the fact that rust appears where the binder clip hold the pages together it must have been some time ago. Since then I have provided you with additional details from other records.

It appears that I intended sending this with other such appeals and that this was set aside for the making of copies that still are not made. When they are I will attach them and send this with them. I hope this will be possible for my wife soon.
