JL; State (Vines) 6/22 re cable referred by CIA

7/14/77

It would be difficult to find a more ludificus case that this silliness.

Now they are claiming that the State Depriment has a law-enforcement purpose in Canada.

There seems to be a new affection for ($\frac{3}{R}$) as an exemption. While I think the only valur of this particular document is for ridicule, we are getting this E stuff with more regularity and as a substitute for other exemptions on which we have beaten them. What makeout investigative method can be "disclosed" in an unclassified cable that probably reports the well-known fact that the Naunties did an investigation.

In this case it would be hard to even claim a law-enforcement purpose from anada after Ray's capture. They didn't even need a Canadaan to testify to the false passport.

Having it and him was enough with an arresting officer-London not Canada.

I den't recall getting this from FBI or DJ, both included in distribution.

Maybe if I want to gouse myself temorrow I'll appeal.

Meanwhile, let us be alert to the claim to (7)(E).

This looks like the beginning of a new turn in playing games with the Act.

For all this time we never hear of it and now three times in a week.

With all the traffic from England and Portugal CIA refers this one documents to Mur. Bur. Affairs - a Canadian document. Nothing from England or Portugal?

And all the cookie-pushers have to confer on it yet.

Someone wanted to withheld. The upper right-hand corner reads *CAN (b)($), not any part of it.
