

March 9, 1964.

Dear Jack,

This is just a note to tell you that some one who lives a long way away and whom you have never met is in your corner pulling for you. I know you are a good man and I wish the very best for you.

This afternoon on the television I heard that your Rabbi and your sister come to see you every day. I am glad they do. I am sure you have a wonderful sister.

Again, I and a lot of other people are for you and hoping for you.

Sincerely
A friend
