

When the actors have given their last drama,
And the minstrel made his last pun;
When the film has shown its last picture,
And the scoreboard displayed its last run;
When the crowds seeking pleasure have vanished
And gone out in the darkness again—
When the Trumpet of the Ages has sounded,
And we stand up before Him — what then?

When the bugle's call sinks into silence,
And the long-marching columns stand still;
When the captain has given his last orders,
And they've captured the last fort and hill,
And the flag has been hauled in from the mast-head,
And the wounded afield have checked in,
And a world that rejected its Savior,
Is asked for a reason — what then?

WHAT THEN?

When the plants of our mighty cities
Have turned out their last finished work;
When our merchants have sold their last yardage
And have dismissed the last tired clerk;
When our banks have raked in their last dollar
And paid out their last dividend;
When the Judge of the earth says, "Closed for the night."
And asks for a balance — what then?

When the choir has sung its last anthem,
And the preacher has made his last prayer;
When the people have heard their last sermon
And the sound has died out on the air;
When the Bible lies closed on the altar,
And the pews are all empty of men,
And each one stands facing his record —
And the Great Book is opened — what then?
