 elected to the post of YCL secretary in our shop after the former person received C.P. membership, usually on easy-going fellow if you don't get him ratted, he takes his YCL duties seriously collecting dues on every other pay day (which are on the 5th and 20th of the month) of 1% of the total paycheck, 100 rubles = 90 copecks, he checks off names and is responsible for turning for posting directives handed down by the YCL factory committee, and for helping to draw up the list of DROOZHNIKS who shall have the duty during this month, DROOZHNIKS are volunteer civilians, who patrol streets and parks as peace and order keepers, they are given a special card which they carry and when on duty wear red arm bands, they help to subsidize the police in its more routine work, such as walking a beat in a usually quiet district, DROOZHNIKS always walk in groups of threes and fours, often women and girls are seen in this capacity, this custom is relatively new, it is not generally used except on Saturdays and Sundays, when there are ^{large} groups of teenagers and a large number of drunks to be seen. Both these ^{types} of groups are up the downtown at least, partly due to their volunteer efforts.

 Besides helping draw up the list of DROOZHNIKS is their respective shops. YCL secretaries are expected to set high examples of work and political preparedness to their fellow members, and to help the shop and section leaders get to know their workers.

In mind the young communist headquarters is a long grey cement factory building on "_____ " Krasnoarmi" St. or in English "Red Army Street" district, the building is honey combed with 200 rooms, an auditorium and meeting hall.
 300 people are permanently employed here to do the work of the YCL, also, here is the central committee of the YCL of Khabarovsk.
 They review cases of expatriation and ~~no~~ direct party requests.
 The actual political influence of this committee is almost nothing since the C.C. YCL in all cities are directed by the C.P. headquarters in their respective cities.
