

Why Are You Offended ?

A young man looks upon a lovely young lady; her ways, looks, and character entices him to desire her. Out of the love of his heart he woos her - sometimes with sweet messages from his soul - sometimes with a gift. Although his gifts are not perfect: it may be a 10 cent gift, but it's not the price of the gift that counts it's the fact the love from the very depth of his soul has been expressed. Later on he gives her other gifts wooing her on to love him. If she is a faithful and appreciative lady she will appreciate each and every individual gift that is bestowed upon her, her unbiased, wholehearted acceptance of these gifts without reservations, makes her more worthy for him. Out of the rivers of love from his heart he floods his Love One with other gifts as time goes by; Her whole hearted acceptance of all he has to offer Proves her worthy as his Bride. Then on Some Great Day out of Jealousy and zeal for her he snatches her up for his Bride with fear someone will steal his precious one from him. She brings forth offspring to and for him, and he is the head of the household. She accepts all he has to offer - if he has poverty and happiness, riches and sadness or what ever it is she accepts it unbiased without reservations. This is symbolic of a type of church bringing forth offspring to the Lord and the Lords faithful Bride.

Another young man sees a lovely looking young lady and woos her with love from the depth of his soul, with sweet words. Outwardly she acts as tho she accepts his sweetness but inwardly she dislikes this and that of his sweet words. He woos her with gifts, one she likes another she dislikes. As time goes on she is flooded with his love and gifts, but she dislikes almost everthing he has to offer now and she is willing to accept some gifts and others she is offended at. When he accepts her as his bride and she brings forth offspring she is rebellious and she teaches disrespect to her offspring; who are offended on ever hand at the head of the household. She has not and does not accept all good things unbiased and without reservations - a - contemptuous winch, she turns out to be unworthy, unfaithful and undeserving to receive his inheritance. This is symbolic of an unfaithful church who becomes offended at the messages, love, gifts, and mercy of a True and Living God Who Created them in the beginning, Whos Mercy Abounds Forever Amen. She doesn't accept all the gifts, God - G A V E - her, unbiased without reservations; she finds faults with this gift and that gift Until the Potency of the Message is Lost - As she is Lost, L O S T .

Then the third young man seeks his bride in like manner. His words of love disgust his would be bride, the more gifts given her the more disgust she shows and the more offended she becomes with his expressions of love to her. So finally she says to herself, "I have him wrapped around my little finger and no matter how I treat him he will always come back for more punishment." So she goes whoreing after other men until she becomes a plain old filthy prostitute only deserving of total rejection. So she never becomes a bride and never brings forth offspring to her true lover. This is symbolic of the church that cleaves to her lover partly but worships idols and places all her hopes in idols.

Now when the Perfect One Comes, Our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ of Nazareth, Which one of these Brides or Churches do you suppose He will choose? Since He is Perfect He will accept Only that which is Perfect: The - First - Bride Because she was faithful in All Things. Jesus in like manner will snatch His Bride up to keep His Bride from being deceived and tempted by the deceiver, or become the devils bride with his church.
