the investigators to the Chief's office for a proper and respectful review of procedures to be used, and Police Department officials to be present during the interview. It was with this view in mind that I reported to Chief Lumpkin what had transpired. He ordered me to make this report immediately.

I asked them as they were leaving if anything was said that was contradictory to please contact me for clarification, since I did not completely trust my memory on some of the matters.

Respectfully submitted,
