

Q. Would you describe your reasons for this being true?

A. Ever since Jack was a child he was quick to use his fists to settle an argument and would not apply reason or diplomacy to resolve his differences with other persons.

(At this point Mr. Ruby volunteered information that his brother Jack had borrowed $5,500.00 from him in the year 1955, for the purpose of paying off a Federal Tax deficit.) "In the year 1956, I asked for my money back and could not reach an agreement with my brother Jack regarding the money. Following this in either 1956 or 1957 I brought suit against my brother Jack for the aforementioned sum and took a judgement in a civil court in Dallas, Texas. My sister Marion also loaned my brother Jack money and I believe the amount was $5,000.00 but I do not remember the year."

Q. Mr. Ruby would you submit to a polygraph examination to any and all questions asked in this statement and any other questions I might decide to ask you in the future?

A. Yes.

Q. Mr. Ruby do you know the names of any close friends of your brother other than Ralph Paul?

A. No, I do not.

Q. Can you give me the names of any of his associates?

A. Ned Weisbrod, Dallas, Texas, Sam Lasser, Dallas, Texas

Q. Anybody else?

A. I told the FBI years ago Jack knew in Chicago a Sam Gordon. The last I heard he was residing in San Francisco. Andrian High is another one, and he is from Oklahoma but I do not know the city but probably Mr. Lasser can furnish his address.

Q. Did you talk to your brother Jack any time during the week preceding the death of President Kennedy?

A. No.

Q. Did your brother Jack at any time discuss President Kennedy's announced visit to
