

C. Do you feel that in the case of Oswald radio and television equipment and reporters interfered with the normal legal procedures involved in such a case?

D. In your opinion, is there any conflict apparent between the "right of the public to know" (that is, to be informed concerning news events) and the rights of the individual to due process of law, as far as the coverage of possible crimes by radio and television is concerned.