Dear Mr Oswald

Mr Justice is on hand for a few weeks, as pointed up to thank you for the War tips.

Your kind offer is most welcomed and from time to time we shall call on you. These matter like War tips are most useful at moments and other public places to call the attention of newspaper readers that the "Warrior" is available.

Best wishes for a peaceful New Year.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Friends

We received your notice of change of address and in looking over your old mailing plate and not finding one our only conclusion that either it was pulled over this age when mail was returned to us or that your subscription has long since expired.

In any event, we are enclosing a renewal form and a copy of our current literature asking for you to catch up with. We hope to hear from you soon so that we may again have your name amongst those who continue to support the efforts of our Committee.

Respectfully,

Dear Mr. Oswald:

Your letter to the WORKER has been referred to me for reply.

It is good to know that movements in support of fair play for Cuba has developed in New Orleans as well as in other cities. We do not have any organizational ties with the Committee, and yet there is much material that we issue from time to time that is important for anybody who is concerned about developments in Cuba.

Under separate cover we are sending you some literature.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Friend:

We are in receipt of the samples of reproducible work you sent us.

We deeply appreciate your offer to do this type of work for us as your contribution to our activity. We are putting this material on file so that we can make reference to it in the event that any such need arises.

Thanks again.

Dear Friends

Thank you for your prompt reply. Enclosed are your card and receipt, along with our things and valises.

Your interest in helping to form an FPOB Chapter in New Orleans is gratefully received. I shall try to give you some basic information so as that you may have a better picture of what this entails.

For one thing, I am enclosing a copy of our Constitution and By-laws for all Chapters and Student Chapters. You will note that there is considerable authority for an organization our size. We try and let all Chapters operate according to the local requirements. Usually, there is a minimum regulations which must be met.

(All Chapters can receive literature in bulk at a discount rate and recall at the retail price and use the proceeds for further Chapter activities) Credits is extended and returned to not required with the order. We do expect payment within a reasonable period so that we may continue our end of the operation.

It would be hard to criticize of a chapter with as few members as seem to exist in the New Orleans area. I have just gone through our files and find that Louisiana seems somewhat restricted for Fair Play activities. However, with what is there perhaps you could build a larger group if a few people would undertake the discipline responsibility of concrete organizational work.

We certainly are not at all adverse to a very small Chapter but certainly would expect that there would be at least twice the amount needed to conduct a legal executive board for the chapter. Would this be possible we could readily issue a charter for

Dear Lee:

This morning I was speaking with one of our professors who heard the talk you gave to us. He thought that you made a number of good points. One of these was your criticism of speculation in the capitalistic system. He equated stock speculation with gambling. It seems to be another form of it. Another point was your criticism of exploitation which occurs in capitalism. On both these points, speculation and exploitation, the Pope has spoken strongly against them in the past 70 years.

On the other hand, the professor to whom I am referring thought that you hadn't made sufficient application. Applying the criticism of speculation and exploitation in our country, it seems that these things are regulated. In the instances where certain individuals do overstep their bounds, it seems that such occurrences are practically inevitable in a free society. If we are going to have freedom rather than strict regimentation, then the government will naturally find it very difficult to curb all abuses. The difficulty with communism is that it suppresses freedom, as you indicated, in order to obtain efficiency.

You mentioned that there are good and bad points in each system and that possibly the best system would be a fusion of the good points of both capitalism and communism, something approaching socialism. It seems that socialism might work in a small society but again, when we apply this to our own country, it appears that we are very complex and that it would be very difficult for the government sufficiently to control such a complex society as ours along the lines of socialism. Also here again, socialism seems the sacrifice of freedom in practice if it is going to work. Freedom seems to be a fundamental human value precious to every man. I think that freedom can be retained and yet we can still have a just economic, political and social system. Of course this requires that each man live up to the obligations and responsibilities of respecting the freedom of other men and exercising his own freedom in a just way. Perhaps it is more difficult to achieve a just social order by relying on individuals to show initiative and responsibility in respecting rights and living up to duties, but it seems that a society based on respect for justice and individual worth is much more lasting and solidly founded and more in accord with man's nature.

The Pope beginning with Leo XIII in 1878 and continuing up to the present day have given considerable thought and energy in trying to think through to a solution of economic and social and political abuses. You might get some ideas from the enclosed articles as to how the Pope has been trying to work out the problem as well as some stimulation to your own thinking on the matter. That's about all for now. Give my regards to Marian.

Dear Mr. Oswald:

This is just a very brief note to express my thanks for the talk you gave us on Russia Saturday, July 27th. I feel that I came away from your talk with an understanding of the Russian people as a people, with ideals, goals, problems--normal, everyday human beings, something that is quite easy to forget with all the threats of war hanging in the air. I find your talk has helped to make me a broader and deeper person, more universal and sympathetic in my thinking. I hope in the future both America and Russia can draw closer to one another and thereby increase in friendship and understanding.

I also wish to tell you that I greatly admire you search for truth and your living in Russia, and I hope you have of will find it.

You can be assured of a permanent remembrance in my prayers and sacrifices, you, your wife, and your family.

With sincere regards,

Dear Lee and Yvonne:

None of the House of Studies during the summer months we have a series of lectures on various subjects given by different persons from the neighboring areas. These subjects usually deal with art, literature, economics, religion, politics, etc. We usually have a speaker every one or two weeks on a Saturday or Sunday night. Since we are studying philosophy, most of us are interested in the various phases of Communism, as this is a very timely and pertinent subject. We were hoping that you might come over to talk to us about contemporary Russia and the practice of Marxism there. A number of speakers have already been contacted and have definite dates on which they will speak. The best time for us to have you speak, if you are willing, is on Saturday night, July 27. The talk usually begins at 7:00 and lasts for about an hour. Then there is a five minute intermission and the speaker returns for a question period which may last a half-hour or so. When I say that we would like to have you speak on contemporary Russia and the practice of Communism there, this is only a general idea of mine. Of course we want you to choose whatever topic you like concerning your travels in Russia and to present the talk and the material in whatever way you like. It can be as informal as you like and a narration of your own observations. In other words, don't feel that it ought to be very formal and theoretical. Also, when I say that the talks usually last for an hour, I don't mean that it has to be that long. This is rather by way of a time limit. You may use whatever notes you may wish to prepare. In short, do it the way you feel you want to do it and be assured that we want you to feel at home in talking to us.

We have about 90 men who are studying philosophy in the House usually about 25 or so will attend these talks. We hope that you will accept our invitation and I think you will find it a good experience, as I'm sure we will very much appreciate your presence. I wrote my family today telling them that I planned to invite you for this occasion. They had already told me on their last visit that they hoped to invite you to come over with them when they come here sometime. I asked them if they wouldn't mind arranging to make a visit here for the same occasion so that you could come together. I told them that I would ask you to call them to make plans about this or else for them to call you. Of course we hope Yvonne will come too. You can let me know what you think about the matter and ask any further questions you may want to know about the situation. Drop me a line when you get a chance.

Sincerely,
Paul P. Rogers

Lee Oswald,

John Gregory gave me permission to leave this letter with him in his office. If you should return, he kindly consented to give it to you.

As I'm sure you know by now, I would like to talk with you. It is not my intent to stir the waters of your personal controversy or to subject you to ridicule. I do not pretend, either, to offer consolation for what you did, because I do not know why you did it or how you feel.

But whatever your reasons for defecting, I think people can be made to understand it. It seems apparent that your reason for leaving no longer outweighs your desire to live in America.

You would be surprised how many people still link the name Lee Oswald with "traitor" and "buccaneer." You will find in your search for employment that those who don't remember the name nevertheless will think of some cause for not hiring you when they learn your background.

Personally, I do not condemn blindly. And I do not believe in trial by newspaper. I do believe that where sympathy ends, understanding follows.

You are still married to a cute girl and have a small child. You come from the plain vanilla strain of people. You are idealistic, want to express yourself, maybe write.

I am still married to a cute girl and have a small child. I came from the plain vanilla strain of people. I am idealistic (two years out of college) and am a writer.

No one bothers under the skin. So say you are a writer would be a terrific blow to my own pride. I believe you are a man of convictions. But I don't know for sure because I have not been offered a chance even to shake your hand.

Please talk it up, on the phone, in person, at your house or at mine—just talk. Not to give me a chance to take quick notes and write a hurried news story—just to talk. I could help you in writing any writing you might be working on. As a free-lance writer myself, I happen to know that selling words is like selling anything else; the buyer needs to be hoodwinked with a wee little "with a bang" short for Scripps-Bowdoin's El papers, the full meal could well turn out to be a story in a national magazine, even a book and possibly a movie.

Dear Mr. Oswald:

We have received your letter of March 24. Thank you for writing again. The clipping was very interesting also.

Because of your young age and location, we are sending you news to the Young Socialist Alliance for further correspondence. I am sure that they will be able to inform you about what the youth in the movement are doing. Their address is P.O. Box 471, Cooper Station, New York 3, New York.

If we can be of any more help, please write again.
With best wishes,

Sincerely,
Joseph Task
