SUMMARY FROM JAPANESE

Title: ~~Bungei-Shunju~~ (Literary Spring and Autumn)

Date of Publication: May 1, 1964

Publishes: Yoneki Kobayashi

Publishing Office: The New Bungei-Shunju
Company, 8-4 Ginza, West,
Chuo-ku, Tokyo, Japan

This magazine is a monthly literary magazine with no political overtones. Previous issues have been received.

This issue contains an article entitled "Oswald et le FBI" (Oswald and the FBI) on page 214, which was written by Thomas Buchanan and translated from French into Japanese by Yukio Kudo under the title "Oswald is Not the Real Assassin." This article is the first of a series based on Buchanan's book, "Les Assassins de Kennedy," ("The Assassins of Kennedy") Copy Right: By L'Express, 1964.

Following the Buchanan article is another article entitled "Oswald the Impossible Assassin" written by Joachim Joesten and translated from English into Japanese by Fumio Matsuo under the title, "I Killed No One," Copy Right: By Opera Mundi, 1964. The Japanese translation of this article is also included in the May, 1964, issue of Bungei-Shunju, but contains no mention of or references to the Bureau. It takes the position that Oswald could not have killed President Kennedy. An editorial remark points out that Buchanan includes Oswald as one of the assassins, whereas Joesten holds that Oswald could not have been involved.
