ANDREW ORBAN, retired former Inspector Detective Bureau, South Bend, Indiana Police Department, advised that approximately 12 to 14 years ago while he was working in the Detective Bureau as a Detective Sergeant, with Captain FREMONT LEMMIER, former Chief of Detectives, deceased, they interviewed JACK RUBENSTEIN at South Bend Police Department. RUBENSTEIN was suspected of scalping Notre Dame University football tickets. RUBENSTEIN was from Chicago and was working the local hotels apparently trying to sell tickets. Insufficient evidence was obtained to arrest RUBENSTEIN and no report was made relative to this interview.

In either Fall of 1953 or Fall of 1954, ORBAN made a trip to Texas to return an auto thief to South Bend, Indiana, from an unrecalled town located about 80 miles northwest of Dallas. After picking up this individual he stopped at the Dallas Police Department where he left subject overnight on a Friday night. Detectives from Vice Squad, Dallas Police Department, names unrecalled, after taking ORBAN to a hotel, later took him to a "afterhours joint" toget a drink. Detectives did not enter this club. He did not recall the name of the place but was of the opinion it was in the outskirts of Dallas. ORBAN described this as a rough place and crowded with theatrical-type people. Upon entering, JACK RUBENSTEIN saw him and called him by name. He then entered in conversation with RUBENSTEIN for approximately 30 minutes and sat with him at a table. During this conversation, RUBENSTEIN admitted he had scalped Notre Dame tickets at South Bend.

Several showgirls came in and RUBENSTEIN asked them to sit down at their table but did not introduce them to ORBAN. ORBAN described RUBENSTEIN as "fast buck operator."

RUBENSTEIN mentioned nothing which would permit ORBAN to evaluate his loyalty to the U.S.

The following morning when ORBAN picked up his prisoner, the Captain of the lockup at Dallas Police Department advised RUBENSTEIN's place had been raided and his lockup was full of customers. ORBAN did not recall if RUBENSTEIN was arrested and did not see him at the lockup that morning.

ORBAN personally checked all South Bend Police Department records with assistance of Records personnel, but was unable to identify name of individual returned nor determine date of this incident.

ORBAN did not know or recall the name of LEE HARVEY OSWALD.

MEYER RAPANITZ, Apartment 21, 140 Albert Street, furnished the following information concerning JACK RUBENSTEIN: FLA.

PANITZ has been employed in the gambling profession most of his life. He obtained gambling work when he moved to Dallas, Texas, in 1944. PANITZ is presently employed as a box man in the casino at the Thunderbird Hotel, Las Vegas, Nevada.

PANITZ met JACK RUBY in 1947. He knew RUBY's true name to be JACK RUBENSTFIN. PANITZ considered himself a good friend of RUBY's during the time he knew him, which was from 1947 to the summer of 1958, when he left Dallas.

RUBY was the type of person that wanted people to agree with him and he would get into arguments: with persons who disagreed with him. RUBY was not a violent person, however. RUBY always had ideas about discovering a new entertainer. RUBY would promote or back some entertainer but never was successful, to PANITZ's knowledge, of discovering a star.

RUBY made a good living operating the Vegaterias Club in Dallas. Because of this employment and business, he was acquainted with many people in Dallas. RUBY hired off-duty Dallas policemen on weekends as bouncers at his club. RUBY was acquainted with a good many of the Dallas Police Officers and the Dallas police knew RUBY.

RUBY was an honest business man and had a forward type of personality. RUBY had a bug for attending public events, and he was always trying to meet people.

PANITZ has no knowledge as to the politics of RUBY.

PANITZ has not seen RUBY since 1959 in Niami Beach, Florida. PANITZ talked with RUBY about five or six months ago by phone while passing through Dallas, Texas.

Mrs. DONNA RAPKIN, wife of DAVE RAPKIN, 412B Broadway, San Francisco, advised she visited Dallas, Texas, in 1961 to look for entertainers and talent for her club. She said she was in the Theater Lounge, a Dallas night spot, with JACK COLE and was introduced on this occasion to JACK RUBY. She had not previously seen him nor has she seen or heard from him since that time. She stated that RUBY indicated he was in the process of opening a club in Dallas known as the Carousel Club, and he discussed the availability of talent for this club in the San Francisco area. Mrs. RAPKIN was unable to recall anything further concerning RUBY.

Mrs. RAPKIN could not account for a telephone call from RUEY's place of business in Dallas to the Moulin Rouge, unless it could have been a call by booking agents JACK COLE or PAPPY SHOALS, made on one of the many pay shows at the Carousel Club, to San Francisco. She said there is also a possibility that one of the girls who have appeared at the Moulin Rouge might have some acquaintances in Dallas who could have called at the Moulin Rouge telepione.

JOSEPH P. ROSSI, Real Estate, 231 Mercantile Continental Building, Dallas, Texas, voluntarily advised as follows at Browns-ville, Texas, on November 25, 1963.

RUBENSTEIN, were both born in the 24th Ward in Chicago; however, they did not know each other until about eleven years ago when they met in Daling. RUBY had the Silver Spur Club and later the Vegas Club. ROSSI said that he does not know any of RUBY's family but knows that they are Jews and that JACK RUBY observes Jewish religous customs.

ROSSI knows of no consection between JACK RUBY and LEE. HARVEY OSWALD.

ROSSI described RUPY as having a bad temper and as being highly emotional. ROSSI said that he had heard that RUBY cried when he learned of the death of the late President FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT at Warm Springs, Georgia. RUBY was described as being very anti-Communist but not a member of any "right wing hate groups". In politics, ROSSI described RUBY as being "a 24th Ward Chicago JAKE ARVEY Democrat". ROSSI knows of no connections on the part of RUBY with gamblers or organized crime except to know some of these "characters" personally. ROSSI said that he knows of the friendships or relations that RUBY ever had with anyone of Dallas Police Department.

ROSSI last saw RUBY in Dallas on November 20, 1963, at which time RUBY discussed opening a new club and wanted ROSSI to invest money in the club and perhaps help in the management of the venture. RUBY talked of future plans at that time in a manner to indicate that he did not anticipate getting into any sort of trouble.

ROSSI said that when RUBY was identified over the television as the man who killed OSWALD that ROSSI's first thoughts were that RUBY was the type emotional enough to do that sort of thing. ROSSI believes that RUBY's motive in killing OSWALD was the over simplified solution of a simple and emotional man for obtaining justice in the case.

ROSSI noted that persons who had seen OSWALD killed by RUBY

H. SCOTT SHURIAN, 11717 Darlington Street, West Los Angeles, telephone No. GR 8-1752, telephoneally contacted the Los Angeles Office on November 29, 1963, and gave the following information:

He is presently a news reporter for radio station KMPC, Los Angeles, California, and in 1958 was a news reporter for radio station WFAA, Dallas, Texas. This station was around the corner from the Carousel, an establishment owned by one JACK RUBY. He was introduced to RUBY by DICK MC GRUDER, who was a news writer at that time for station WFAA. He secured a membership card for the Carousel Club but did not pay any initiation fees. He explained that this was because RUBY liked to surround himself with radio personalities.

He knew of no political connections of RUBY but advised that he read that RUBY could be convinced to assist either right or left wing extremists if this would make him a "big man."

RUBY is a close associate of LOUIS MACWILLY, a gambler in the Dallas area, who is reputed to have "syndicate connections." MACWILLY is also alleged to have gambling interests in Cuba. RUBY was also a close friend of the owner of the University Club in Dallas, whose name he cannot recall. He stated that this was in 1958 and the owner was a small-time gambler in the Dallas area.

He could not envision RUBY having any political notions one way or the other and knew of no connections with the Fair Play for Cuba Committee.

He knew of no police connections with the Carousel. Club and could not recall other associates or girlfriends of RUBY.

His impression of RUEY was that he was not exactly an emotionally stable person but constantly felt inferior. RUEY demanded that his employees respond instantly to any commands.
