Guns Were Loaded

VAN NUYS, Calif.—Costumed guests at a Halloween party laughed as a man burst into the crowded apartment followed by a man with a gun. They thought the shooting was a realistically clever skit.

One guest said, "When the man fell down and was moving and mumbling on the floor we all thought, gee, this guy is really putting it on."

But Kenneth A. Linstrand, 32, wasn't acting. He was fatally wounded. Police have virtually no clues on the identity of the killer.

Much the same type of tragedy took place in Northern California in the mining town of Columbia where there was a gold country celebration — whooping, drinking and firing of pistols.

"Everybody was supposed to have blanks in his gun," Sheriff Miller Sardella said. But someone didn't. And Alvin Pecchenine, 54, of Angels Camp was killed.
