Garrison Probe

NEW ORLEANS—A former assistant of District Attorney Jim Garrison in the investigation of President Kennedy's assassination may have to go to court to find out what he is charged with stealing.

William H. Gurvich, who quit the investigation last June, was charged with stealing an object valued at $19 through a vague bill of information signed by Garrison.

James L. Alcock, an assistant district attorney, said that Gurvich would have to file a motion for a bill of particulars to get more specific information. But he added that the charge "probably relates to the master file in the Kennedy case."
