

Assassination Probe Report Months Away

By LESLIE H. WHITTEN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24—

The commission investigating the death of John F. Kennedy has received "thousands" of pages of raw data from the FBI sources close to the commission disclosed today.

The mass of investigatory material has led the seven-man presidential commission to the conclusion that it probably will be months before a final report can be issued.

Some of the commission members—four Congressmen, two distinguished private citizens—Warren as chairman—plan to dig through the data themselves. Some work will be done during the holidays, one source said.

FORMED NOV. 29

Former Solicitor General J. Lee Rankin, counsel for the committee, is organizing a legal staff to help the commission in the gigantic task of studying the data. The commission was named by President Johnson Nov. 29.

An FBI-Justice Dept. summary of the data was turned weeks ago. It was made up of five volumes, each one half inch thick.

But the summaries have not proved enough.

SEEK DATA

Chief Justice Warren said a week ago that the commission was asking for the raw data on which the summaries were based.

He earlier had said the commission might have a preliminary report for the nation, but he has no such plans now.

The commission plans no meeting before January. It was learned, and has no present plans for public hearings.
