SUBJECT: REQUESTS BY HOUSE SELECT COMMITTEE ON ASSASSINATIONS (HSCA)
FOR RETURN OF FINGERPRINT CARDS ON HSCA STAFF MEMBERS

HOUSE SELECT COMMITTEE ON ASSASSINATIONS

Reference my memorandum to Mr. LaPrade dated 6/29/78 and my memorandum to Mr. Mintz dated 7/13/78 which reported the temporary return to the HSCA of fingerprint cards on HSCA staff members.

PURPOSE: This is to report the final disposition of the HSCA fingerprint cards.

DETAILS: As reported in the referenced memoranda, thirty-two (32) applicant fingerprint cards, which had previously been submitted by the HSCA to the FBI in connection with background security checks of HSCA staff members, were returned to the HSCA at the written request of Congressman Louis Stokes, Chairman, HSCA. It was noted at the time that Congressman Stokes' requests indicated that the return of the cards would be on a temporary basis.

105-121 DE-30 62-117290-1399

As the HSCA is scheduled to go out of existence on 12/31/78, on 12/12/78 I telephonically contacted Mr. Robert C. Morrison, Director of Security, HSCA, who had previously been instrumental in making the arrangements for the return of the HSCA fingerprint cards, to determine when the cards would be returned to the FBI. Mr. Morrison advised that he had discussed the matter with Mr. G. Robert Blakey, Chief Counsel and Director, HSCA, and it had been decided that the cards would not be returned to the FBI but rather would be retained by the HSCA. Accordingly, the Identification Division will treat the returned HSCA fingerprint cards as having been purged and returned at the request of the contributor.

SUBJECT: House Select Committee on Assassinations

PURPOSE: To advise of a request by captioned committee for appropriate Bureau personnel to review the findings and conclusions of the committee with regard to its inquiry into the assassinations of President John F. Kennedy and Dr. Martin Luther King.

REC-51 62-117290-1409

DETAILS: On 12/8/78, G. Robert Blakey, Chief Counsel of captioned committee requested Special Agents Ronald Heller and Drew J. Clark that the FBI provide appropriate Bureau personnel to consult with his staff regarding the sensitivity and accuracy of the findings and conclusions of the committee. This consultation will be restricted to a review of the sensitivity and classification problems that will appear in the committee's final report and also for obvious errors in fact. On 12/12/78, Professor Blakey, in consultation with Special Agent Danny O. Coulson, Legal Counsel Division, advised that this consultation should take place in committee space and that no copy of the draft will be allowed to leave the premises.

2 DEC 29 1978

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Records Management Division designate appropriate personnel familiar with classification matters and the investigation into both assassinations to participate in this consultation.

Subsequent contact with Mr. Blakey determined that the committee material will be available for review beginning at 9 am, 12/14/78. In addition, Mr. Blakey advised the material prepared by the committee will touch on Organized Crime, Cuban and Soviet matters, as well as forensic matters. Mr. Blakey agreed that it would be appropriate that Bureau personnel familiar with the above be included in the group selected to review the committee material beginning at 9 am, 12/14/78. In light of this development, steps have been taken to secure personnel from Criminal Investigative Division who are familiar with the Organized Crime and Cuban aspects, Intelligence Division to address both Cuban and Soviet aspects and Laboratory Division regarding forensic matters. These personnel, together with document classification experts and Agent personnel familiar with both the Kennedy and King assassinations from the Records Management Division, will constitute Bureau representation to review the committee material. This effort is being coordinated by SA Drew J. Clark, Records Management Division.

NOTE: On December 5, 1978, HSCA Staff Counsel Kenneth Klein accepted delivery of a copy of a photograph labeled "Lift from rifle-Commission No. 139." A December 5, 1978, F.D. Silas, Jr. to Mr. Herndon memorandum, captioned as above, recorded Laboratory assistance rendered to Committee representatives which enabled HSCA to locate the precise area of the rifle from which the latent lift was obtained. This response has been delayed in order to record delivery of a second photograph to the HSCA, however, the Committee has not seen fit to accept delivery as of this writing. This response has been coordinated with Latent Fingerprint Section, Intelligence Division, and the Scientific Analysis Section, Laboratory Division.

Enclosed are the original and two copies of a memorandum responding in full to a December 22, 1978, HSCA letter of request.

NOTE: This response has been coordinated with Legal Counsel Division (LCD) and Administrative Services Division (ASD). SA Heller, Legal Liaison and Congressional Affairs Unit, LCD, has advised that the former Agents listed in the Committee's request have been released from employment agreements, briefed by LCD and the Committee advised of their availability. Inspector Illig, ASD, has authorized dissemination of certain information to HSCA since some pertinent documents and information were located in personnel files of former Agents de Brueys and Griffin and former clerk Walter. It is noted that de Brueys was interviewed by the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence on January 8, 1976, and thereafter submitted a January 20, 1976, letterhead memorandum re his appearance. It is also noted that certain excisions have been performed on several documents to be delivered to the HSCA in order to preclude an unwarranted invasion of the privacy of former Agents since the reasons for their disciplinary transfers to Dallas Division, three and five years prior to the assassination of President Kennedy, are not deemed material or relevant to the Committee's inquiry. The reason for the excisions will be plainly marked, as necessary, on the Committee's copy of the documents. New Orleans airtel to the Bureau dated January 2, 1979, captioned as above, states no extant record available re Walter's working or not working at New Orleans Field Office on August 10, 1963.

This is to confirm that an HSCA staff member has been advised concerning the availability of former Special Agents [REDACTED] Arnold J. Brown, (b)(7)(c) Manning C. Clements and Henry A. Schutz.

PURPOSE: The purpose of this memorandum is to advise of a recommendation from Chairman, HSCA, to the Attorney General that additional processing work and analysis be done on a film taken just before the Kennedy assassination.

DETAILS: By letter dated 1/8/79 (attached) to the Attorney General, HSCA Chairman Stokes recommends that the Department of Justice conduct digital image processing work to enhance the quality of a segment of movie film taken by Charles Bronson a few minutes before the assassination of President Kennedy. It is also suggested that the Department of Justice retain experts from HSCA "Photographic Evidence Panel". A list of members was attached to the Chairman's letter.

the shots said that the shots had come from the knoll, no thorough investigation was made of this area.

"VERY FEW of the witnesses who thought the shots had come from the knoll were questioned and no full examination was made of photographs of the knoll area for indications of a second assassin. . . . The investigation of the threshold question was thus a limited and relatively superficial one which never pursued answers to many important questions."

The Warren Commission found only three shots were fired, all from the rear of the presidential limousine.

The commission said the first shot — called by conspiracy buffs the "magic bullet" because of its seemingly convoluted course and "pristine" condition — hit Kennedy in the back just below the neck, passed through into the back of Texas Gov. John B. Connally, smashed through Connally's rib, out his chest, hit his wrist and lodged in his leg.

taken such a circuitous course. "There could not have been a lone assassin with that Mannlicher-Carcano rifle, serial C1766, not if he were the world's best rifleman, and Oswald was one of the poorest."

City in October 1963 and identified by the CIA as Lee Harvey Oswald. (The man in that picture has been studied by the House Committee and conspiracy theorists and no identification has been made.)

The sources said the FBI disputed this conclusion because it did not take into account the possibility that there could have been two independent gunmen present — Oswald in his perch above and behind the president and a second gunman in front of and to the right on the "grassy knoll."

FBI officials, it was reported, asked Blakey last week when he disclosed the new evidence whether there also was evidence that the two supposed gunmen were working as a team. The point was raised with Blakey by the FBI that if there was a second sniper on the grassy knoll this did not mean for certain the marksmen were conspirators.

Investigators said the FBI says it never found anyone at the Dallas scene who claims to have seen anyone on the knoll with a gun or running away with anything resembling a rifle.

NO WITNESS or expert, including the committee photographic panel, was able to testify that the photograph depicted a man with a rifle on the hillock.

The House committee is required by law to complete its work by Dec. 31, the day it goes out of existence. However, the full report might not be available for several weeks.

The committee may have to rewrite major portions of the 600 pages it has prepared on the Kennedy case in light of the new acoustical findings.

It has been generally accepted that Lee Harvey Oswald fired three shots from the sixth-floor window of the Texas School Book Depository after the president's car passed his vantage point and headed toward the grassy knoll ahead and to the right of the motorcade in Dealey Plaza in Dallas, Texas.

But the findings of the FBI and the Warren Commission that Oswald was a lone assassin were thrown into question Monday when acoustical experts informed the House committee that there is a 95 percent certainty that there was a fourth shot fired at Kennedy from the grassy knoll.

BLAKEY, the chief counsel of the committee, said that if there were two gunmen firing from two different vote on the wording of the reports on who killed Kennedy and Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and how the murders were committed.

The new acoustics findings were presented to about seven committee members Monday behind closed doors by a new team of experts, Mark Weiss and Ernie Oskenoski of Queens College, N.Y. That meeting had been for the purpose of working on some of the final language of the report but when Blakey informed members that there was new evidence, the members decided they ought to hear it before any more drafting was done on the report.

WEISS AND Oskenoski reported that they had taken the tapes made from the broadcast of an open transmitter on a Dallas police motorcycle in Dealey Plaza and eliminated much of the static. They then compared the tapes of the actual shooting with test shots made under similar conditions and made "fingerprints" of the actual and the test shots. The echoes, committee sources said, were identical and provided physical evidence that four shots had been fired in Dealey Plaza as Kennedy drove by.

The tests, according to the committee, showed that the third of the four shots was the one that came from the grassy knoll.

Rep. Harold Sawyer, R-Mich., who first disclosed the new evidence publicly in a radio interview, said the experts synchronized the recordings of the real shots with the film of Abraham Zapruder.

"It was a grisly thing to see," said Sawyer. "It appeared to me that there was some movement of the president's head in conjunction with the third shot."

BUT SAWYER said he was not yet ready to accept the new evidence as conclusive even though other committee sources said the evidence "cannot be ignored and cannot be explained."

The new information indicates only that there were four shots fired, that the third one came from ahead of the president's entourage while Oswald was firing from above and behind, and that all four shots were supersonic. Sawyer said this meant that all four shots were fired from rifles, since virtually all rifle bullets travel faster than the speed of sound while pistol bullets do not.

The dilemma created for the House committee is that it may leave which not only the victims but the families suffer.

Q: Has that happened?

A: In fact, it has happened in every case. In the long run it was counterproductive. The terrorism of the Palestinians hasn't recovered one square foot of Palestine for the Arabs. And the terrorism of IRA has not brought the reunification of Ireland any closer. Indeed, it's made it almost inconceivable, so much so that the majority of the Irish population doesn't want this boiling cauldron of a providence to come into it anyway.

Q: More generally, you've written about kidnapping as both a criminal's and terrorist's tool worldwide. Do you see it growing?

A: I don't think so. However, I don't think it will ever disappear. What will happen is that, although it pays in the short term, it doesn't pay in the long term, so each individual terrorist movement will be relatively short-lived, as has been the case, and it will lose its support.

Q: You've expressed concern about the American Freedom of Information Act, which permits an individual to see confidential files held on him by the government. What is your concern?

Number of Shots Fired at Kennedy Is Critical Assassination Question

Yet in its final report the Warren Commission concluded:

"In contrast to the testimony of the witnesses who heard and observed shots fired from the depository, the commission's investigation has disclosed no credible evidence that any shots were fired from anywhere else."

In support of that conclusion, the panel noted that no cartridge cases were found on the hill and no credible reports were received from witnesses.

The grassy knoll — it is actually just a small, grass-covered highway bank — was to the front and right of Kennedy's limousine as it turned onto Elm Street and into Dealey Plaza, and any shots from there would have come from ahead. The shots from the depository building came from behind.

A GOOD DEAL of the controversy has come over the Warren Commission's refusal to accept the testimony of many witnesses. To have accepted testimony of shots from the knoll would have led the commission to conclude there were two assassins.

Private investigators into the case have long maintained that the commission should have heeded this testimony. Lawyer Mark Lane in his book "Rush to Judgment" maintains that of the estimated 400 witnesses in Dealey Plaza that day, 90 were asked by police where the shots came from and 56 replied that the shots came from the grassy knoll.

"Witnesses heard shots come from the knoll. Witnesses saw smoke on the knoll. One witness even smelled gunpowder behind the fence," Lane wrote. "There is some evidence that one or more shots may have been fired from the book depository, as the Warren Commission maintained. It is considerably less compelling than the evidence suggesting that shots came from behind the fence."

TO CONTEND, however, that shots came from the knoll is not to say that no shots were fired from elsewhere. But it is impossible to contend at one and the same time that some shots came from the fence and that a lone assassin — Oswald — fired from the book depository window.

"As the commission was to remain faithful to the latter conclusion, it had first to prove that no shots came from the knoll. In attempting to do so, the report cited evidence out of context, ignored and reshaped evidence and — which is perhaps worse — oversimplified evidence."

Edward J. Epstein, author of "Inquest," says that "despite the fact that almost all the witnesses on the knoll or with a view of the knoll who expressed an opinion as to the source

THE SECOND BULLET, the commission maintained, went wild, hitting the pavement and wounding a bystander.

A third bullet, the fatal one, struck Kennedy in the back of the head, the commission reported.

After examining movie film made by Abraham Zapruder, former Haverford College Professor Josiah Thompson concluded there were actually four shots — the first from the book depository, the second from the roof of the nearby county records building, a third shot that hit Kennedy in the back of the head and a fourth that hit him in the head and was fired from the front — presumably from the area of the grassy knoll.

Pictures taken by another cameraman, Orville Nix, though hazy, show what appears to be a man pointing what could be a long-barreled pistol from a cream-colored Rambler station wagon parked behind the fence at the top of the knoll. One witness later told investigators he had seen a commotion in that area. But photographic analysis has not substantiated that theory.

IN A 1975 article in New Times magazine, Robert Sam Anson said that a policeman who ran to the hill after the shots were fired told the FBI. "I pulled my gun from my holster and I thought, 'This is silly. I don't know who I am looking for,' and put it back. Just as I did he (the man at whom Smith had been pointing his weapon) showed me that he was a Secret Service agent."

"There is only one problem. The Secret Service's own records show there were no Secret Service men on the grassy knoll," Anson wrote.

"Indeed, a lot of people were where they shouldn't have been that day. Winston Lawson, the Secret Service agent responsible for the choice of the Kennedy motorcade route, later reported that motorcycle outriders were posted on the 'left and right flanks of the president's car' (a position that would have made a cross-fire more difficult).

"But as the films of the motorcade clearly indicate, the motorcycles were posted well to the rear of the president's car, and according to the Dallas police were positioned there at Lawson's own instructions. After the shooting, the doors of the school book depository were sealed; a man was 'trapped inside' who didn't belong there. He was James W. Powell, an Army intelligence agent."

OTHER CONSPIRACY BUFFS have long contended that Oswald could not have acted alone and fired three bullets in quick succession as the Warren Commission maintained. Nor, they contend, is it likely that the so-called "magic bullet" could have maintains Harold Weisberg, the author of "Whitewash."

But the House Assassinations Committee, during public hearings this fall, produced experts to show that one assassin could have fired the three shots and even that the "magic bullet" could have done its damage and emerged relatively intact.

In one analysis of the Warren Commission's findings, Sylvia Meagher concludes that there "is a considerable body of evidence suggesting that shots were fired from the grassy knoll on Elm Street."

SHE MAINTAINS that the Warren Commission bent over backwards to avoid testimony and photographs it possessed when it concluded that the only shots came from the book depository.

The groups and individuals looking into the Kennedy assassination have suggested a Persian market of theories, from mundane to exotic, concerning the nature of the conspiracy.

Most theories center around Cuba, organized crime or the CIA.

These range from charges that the assassination was backed by either anti-Castro or pro-Castro groups, or Castro himself. Anti-Castro groups were angered with Kennedy, feeling betrayed by a lack of air support during the Bay of Pigs invasion. Others point to pro-Castro groups and even Castro, angry at Kennedy for embarking on that invasion and for attempts by American intelligence agencies to assassinate Castro. (Those attempts were never reported to the Warren Commission.)

OTHER THEORIES revolve around plots by organized crime figures to stop government investigations of the Teamsters Union and Mafia funding; a plot by Texas oilmen against Kennedy; a conspiracy by right-wing groups such as the Ku Klux Klan.

And they include the bizarre: an effort by Kennedy to have himself killed because he had some sort of incurable disease; a plot by Lyndon Johnson to take over the government.

It has even been suggested that the fatal shot came from a Secret Service agent's revolver, either by mistake or on purpose.

Hugh MacDonald, who was Barry Goldwater's chief of security in the 1964 campaign, wrote a book in which he maintained that he had met the real assassin — a professional killer he called "Saul." MacDonald said Saul was the man photographed outside the Cuban Embassy in Mexico
