RESUME

The general principle is to study the 3,000 terms - representative in their character.

Summary

1. The Russian terms are taken from the USSR edition of the Dictionary of the Russian Language, published by the USSR Academy of Sciences in 1950.

2. The terms are grouped into 45 groups, each with its own list of terms.

3. The terms are arranged in alphabetical order within each group.

4. The terms are arranged in alphabetical order in the Index of Russian terms.

5. The terms are arranged in alphabetical order in the Index of English, French, German, Spanish, Italian, Polish, and Russian terms.

1. The first part of the document describes the background and objectives of the project. It outlines the scope of the work and the roles of the participants.

2. The second part details the methodology used for data collection and analysis. This includes a description of the experimental design, the instruments used, and the statistical methods applied.

3. The third part presents the results of the study, organized into several sections corresponding to different hypotheses or variables. Each section includes a summary of the findings and any relevant statistical data.

4. The final part of the document discusses the implications of the research and offers conclusions based on the evidence gathered. It also identifies any limitations and suggests directions for future research.

The following table summarizes the key findings of the study:

Variable	Observed Value	Theoretical Value	Significance
Variable A	1.5	2.0	Not significant
Variable B	3.2	3.0	Significant
Variable C	2.8	2.5	Significant
Variable D	1.8	1.5	Significant
Variable E	2.5	2.2	Significant
