

Handwritten notes in the lower right quadrant of the sketch on the right. The text is written in a cursive style and appears to be a list or a set of instructions. The notes are somewhat faint and difficult to read, but they seem to describe the components or the assembly of the object shown in the sketch.