0-49 (Rev. 12-9-66) Callahan Conrad Felt: Sullivan Onssassination Tavel. Trotter . of Passidanic Tele. Room _ John J. Jan Holmes _ Gandy . Case Against Shaw Shaken Garrison Data Reveal Contradictions in Probe By Jerry Cohen . Los Angeles Times LOS ANGELES, April 23-|Mart, was indicted last month New Orleans District Attorney on charges of conspiring to Jim Garrison supplied a national magazine writer with documents that tend to discredit his controversial investigation. documents that tend to discredit his controversial investigation of President Kennedy's assassination, the Los Angeles Times learned today. The records of statements taken from star witness Perry Russo also appear to undo Garrison's case against Clay Shaw, a New Orleans civic leader, whom Russo testified as having known as "Clay Bertrand."

Bertrand."

Russo, 25. an insurance salesman, testified at a hearing preceding the indictment. He said he overheard Shaw. Lee Harvey Oswald and the late David W. Ferrie plot the assassination at a party in Ferrie's apartment in September, 1963. The Warren Combination of the late of the The Washington Post Times Herald . The Washington Daily News The Evening Star (Washington) The Sunday Star (Washington) Description of the basis of Russo's testimony, Shaw, relified director of the New Orleans International Trade Daily News (New York) _ Sunday News (New York) . New York Post. The New York Times World Journal Tribune . (New York) _ NOT RECORDED The Sun (Baltimore) -The Worker _ The New Leader . The Wall Street Journal 199 MAY 5 19 7 The National Observer People's World .

the witness stand and during hypnosis differed vastly from the first one he told Garrison's investigators.

What motivated Garrison to give Phelan the documents in Las Vegas a few days after Shaw's arrest is unclear.

read them," Phelan said. His article on the Garrison investigation appears in the May 6 edition, which goes on newstands Tuesday.

Each of the documents is a study in contradictions.

The first is a report to Garrison from a 31-year-old assistant, Andrew J. Sciambra, who was assigned to question Russo. The three-hour interview took place in Russo's Baton Rouge home the day after Garrison announced he had solved the Assassination.

Absent from the 3500-word document, which Phelan describes as "a minutely detailed memorandum," was any mention of an "assassination plot"—the very crux of the Garrison investigation.

"It made no reference to the party at Ferrie's apartment, where Russo later said the plot was discussed, Phelan notes.

"There was no positive identification of Lee Harvey Oswald as "Leon" Oswald ... most striking of all, when shown a picture of Clay Shaw, Russo said nothing whatever, according to the memorandum, about having known him as Clay Bertrand.

"The memo specifically said

"The memo specifically said Russo had seen Shaw only twice, once when President Kennedy spoke in New Orleans and once in a car with Ferrie. There was no mention whatever of Shaw's even knowing Oswald."

The latter clashes sharply with Russo's sworn testimony that he overheard Shaw and Owald plotting head-to-head with Ferrie at the party—an event unmentioned in the memo.

The second report, or memorandom, also was prepared by Sciambra. It dealt with a sodium pentothal (truth serum) test given Russo in New Orleans' Mercy Hospital on Feb. 27.

Russo, according to the second memo, recalled much of what he disclosed in their first conversation — events in no way dealing with an assassination plot tion plot.

"This time," Phelan wrote,
"he did make a passing reference to the party at which the plot was discussed. There was no stenographic record made of this session, but Sciambra's memo clearly states that Russo mentioned the party only after prompting.

"The sensational story Russo later told on the witness stand was encired from him under hypnotism two days afterward," Phelan writes. A stenographic transcript was made of this session, unlike the other two. This was the third document Garrison gave Phelan.

Phelan does not suggest in his article that the questioning of Russo under hypnosis was improper but he implies that the questioner, armed with information supplied by the district attorney's office, "prodded" until "Perry Russo finally came up with his story" of overhearing a plot in Ferrie's apartment to assassinate President Kennedy.

Phelan, who become friendly with Garrison about four years earlier, had asked Garrison for a lengthy fill-in on what evidence Garrison had.
"Meet me in Las Vegas," Garrison told the writer.

Phelan said during the March 5 weekend he talked with Garrison "about 10 hours," but collected few specifics, only "bits and pieces of evidence." Phelan pressed for specifics.

"Take these and brief yourself on them," Garrison said finally, handing Phelan the documents. "They'll help you understand Perry Russo's story."

Phelan read the two memos and transcript and said he was astonished by their lack of evidence

JIM GARRISON contradictions hoted

Phelan had copies made of bia said he had burned his the three documents, but did notes." not approach Garrison about Garrison and said: "something ment. bothers me."

He told the District Attora party, a plot or a 'Bertrand'."

Phelan, seemed "surprised," and replied: "I'll get Moo (Sciambra) out here."

Phelan wrote in his magazine article:

"Sciambra said I didn't know what I was talking 'I forgot to put it in.'

"'But you reported specificthree times,' I persisted.

"Sciambra said he had been dozen other things and had to self after Mr. Phelan made a sandwich in the report and special trip to Baton Rouge to might have forgotten' to in-clude everything. I said it seemed incredible that he would uncover testimony that might solve the crime of the most solve the crime of the notic suggestion to Perry Rusport it.

"'You made notes when you lous." first talked to Russo, I said. show whether he mentioned don't believe a word of that an assassination plot.' Sciam- boy's (Russo) story.'

Garrison could not be their contents until after reached for his reaction to Shaw's preliminary hearing, Phelan's report, but Sciambra March 14. Then he phoned said his chief would not com-

Sciambra said he burned his notes on the Russo interview ney that Sciambra's first re- because "we don't like to have port contained nothing "about notes hanging around where anybody can see them after. Garrison, according to we have dictated a report."

"Above all," he said "I wantto correct a misapprehension that he (Phelan) was and apparently still is laboring under. Long before Mr. Pheabout. I told him I had read lan left New Orleans, the point his report carefully and knew was made emphatically clear exactly what was in it. May to him that Perry Russo told be, he said, shifting his story, me during our first interview in Baton Rouge of the party and conspiracy plot involving ally that Russo said he had Shaw, Ferrie and Oswald in seen Shaw only twice, not Ferrie's apartment on Louisiana Avenue Parkway.
"This, in fact, was verified awfully busy with a half to Mr. Phelan by Russo himcentury and then forget to re- so in an effort to influence him to tell our story is ridicu-

However, Phelan said he told Your original notes would Garrison and Sciambra "I

REO 21 KAUP	Tolson DeLoach Mohr Wick Casper Callahan Conrad Felt Gaile Rigsen Sullivan Tavel Trotter Tele. Room Holmes
Case Against Shaw Shaken	Gandy
1 · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·	- Loiped
Contradictions in Probe	, 7000
Jim Garrison supplied a national magazine writer with documents that tend to discredit his controversial investigation of President Kennedy's assassination, the Losy Angeles Times learned today. The records of statements taken from star witness Perry, Pusso also appear to undo Garrison's case against Clay Shaw, a New Orleans civic leader, whom Russo testified as having known as "Clay Bertrand." Largely on the basis of Russo's testimony, Shaw, retired director of the New Corp. The Russo's testimony, Shaw, retired director of the New Corp.	The Washington Post Times Herald The Washington Daily News The Evening Star (Washington) The Sunday Star (Washington) Daily News (New York) Sunday News (New York) New York Post The New York Times World Journal Tribune
REC-21 (2) ((V) (1) DECORDED	(New York) The Sun (Baltimore) The Worker The New Leader The Wall Street Journal The National Observer
	The National Observer People's World Date
	Case Against Shaw Shaken Carrison Data Reveal Contradictions in Probe By Jerry Cohen Los Angeles Times LOS ANGELES, April 23— Mart, was indicted last month New Orleans District Attorney Jim Garrison supplied a na- tional magazine writer with documents that tend to dis- sassination the Los Los Angeles Times learned today. The records of statements taken from star witness Perry Jusso also appear to undo Garrison's case against Clay Brusso, 25 an insurance sassination at a party in Perric apartment in Septem- Jusso also appear to undo Garrison's case against Clay Shaw, a New Orleans civic leader, whom Russo testificid sas having known as "Clay Bertrand." Largely on the basis of Russo's testimony, Shaw, re- wald acted alone in snoormy Brusso's testimony, Shaw, re- wald acted alone in snoormy Sericand." From the documents given Well and the Saturday Evening Post-writ- tires director of the New Orleans International Trade REC-21 CAPR 25 1267

Andrew St.

the witness stand and during

What motivated Garrison to give Phelan the documents in Las Vegas a few days after Shaw's arrest is unclear.

"I think he simply never hypnosis differed vastly from read them," Phelan said. His rison from a 31-year-old asthe first one he told Garri-article on the Garrison invession who was assigned to question. tigation appears in the May 6 who was assigned to question.

Russo. The three-hour interview took place in Russo's Baton Rouge home the day after Garrison announced he had solved the Assassination.

Absent from the 3500-word document, which Phelan de-scribes as "a minutely detailed memorandum," was any men-tion of an "assassination plot" -the very crux of the Garrison investigation.

"It made no reference to the party at Ferrie's apartment, where Russo later said the plot was discussed, Phelan notes.

"There was no positive identification of Lee Harvey Oswald as "Leon" Oswald . . most striking of all, when shown a picture of Clay Shaw, by Sciambra. It dealt with a according to the memorandum, about having known him as Clay Bertrand.

"The memo specifically said on Feb. 27. Russo had seen Shaw only Russo, according to the sectwice, once when President ond memo, recalled much of Kennedy spoke in New Or what he disclosed in their first leans and once in a car with conversation — events in no Ferrie. There was no mention way dealing with an assassinawhatever of Shaw's even tion plot.

with Russo's sworn testimony erence to the party at which that he overheard Shaw and the plot was discussed. There Owald plotting head-to-head was no stenographic record with Ferrie at the party—an made of this session, but Sci-

JIM GARRISON ... contradictions noted

Russo said nothing whatever, sodium pentothal (truth serum) test given Russo in New Orleans' Mercy Hospital

"This time," Phelan wrote, The latter clashes sharply "he did make a passing refevent unmentioned in the ambra's memo clearly states that Russo mentioned the party only after prompting orandom, also was prepared "The sensational story Russo

later told on the witness stand | Phelan had copies made of bia said he had burned his hyphotism two days after-not approach Garrison about Garrison could not be ward," Phelan writes. A sten-their contents until after reached for his reaction to ographic transcript was made Shaw's preliminary hearing, Phelan's report, but Sciambra of this session, unlike the March 14. Then he phoned said his chief would not comother two. This was the third Garrison and said: "something ment. document Garrison gave bothers me." Phelan.

his article that the question port contained nothing "about notes hanging around where ing of Russo under hypnosis a party, a plot or a 'Bertrand'." was improper but he implies was improper but he implies that the questioner, armed with information supplied by the district attorney's office, (Sciambra) out here." the district attorney's office, "prodded" until "Perry Russo finally came up with his story" of overhearing a plot in Ferrie's apartment to assassinate President Kennedy.

Phelan, who become friendly with Garrison about four years earlier, had asked Garrison for a lengthy fill-in on what evidence Garrison had. "Meet me in Las Vegas," Garrison told the writer.

Phelan said during the March 5 weekend he talked with Garrison "about 10 hours," but collected few spe-astonished by their lack of show whether he mentioned don't believe a word of that was elicited from him under the three documents, but did notes."

Phelan does not suggest in ney that Sciambra's first re-because "we don't like to have Garrison, according to we have dictated a report."

zine article:

"Sciambra said I didn't his report carefully and knew

'I forgot to put it in.'
"'But you reported specific-

"Sciambra said he had been "This, in fact, was verified awfully busy with a half to Mr. Phelan by Russo him-

Phelan read the two memos first talked to Russo, I said. However, Phelan said he and tanscript and said he was 'Your original notes would Garrison and Sciambra an assassination plot.' Sciam- boy's (Russo) story."

Sciambra said he burned his .He told the District Attor- notes on the Russo interview anybody can see them after

"Above all," he said "I want to correct a misapprehension Phelan wrote in his maga-that he (Phelan) was and apparently still is laboring know what I was talking under. Long before Mr. Phe-about. I told him I had read lan left New Orleans, the point under. Long before Mr. Phewas made emphatically clear exactly what was in it. 'May- to him that Perry Russo told be, he said, shifting his story, me during our first interview in Baton Rouge of the party and conspiracy plot involving ally that Russo said he had Shaw, Ferrie and Oswald in seen Shaw only twice, not Ferrie's apartment on Louisi-three times, I persisted. ana Avenue Parkway. ana Avenue Parkway.

dozen other things and had to self after Mr. Phelan made a cifics, only "bits and pieces sandwich in the report and special trip to Baton Rouge to of evidence." Phelan pressed might have forgotten to intalk to Perry Russo personal clude everything. I said it ly... furthermore, Mr. Pheself on them," Garrison said would uncover testimony that is guilty of giving post-hypmight solve the crime of the notic suggestion to Perry Russian in the said it leads to be said it leads to be seemed for the lan's inference that our office would uncover testimony that is guilty of giving post-hypmight solve the crime of the notic suggestion to Perry Russian in the land in the report and special trip to Baton Rouge to the serious contents. finally, handing Phelan the documents. "They'll help you century and then forget to reunderstand Perry Russo's port it.

story?"

"You made notes when you lous."

However, Phelan said he fold