Dear Paul,

I am so pleased to hear from you, but surprised to hear that you would shed it. But I feel as I thought that you could tell it by looking at my face and the way I touched your towel to you. I guess that for some stupid reason I hoped that you might have felt the same way. Stupid of me I know but that just goes to show you that you can't trust your self. Believe me you I tried to stop it from happening but there is no stopping some things like that. You can die to your mind but not to your heart.

Well I guess there enough of this Foolishness now to get on to some thing of importance. First Congratulations and Best of Luck id Hope you all the Happy in the World. Had I re. tried redly tried to find Lib. & Co. but Finding it is very Hard to find Lib. & Co. you will be what I was doing and as I told you I am working here in a club it is called the Carousel Club and to tell you the truth I don't really care for it but it is a living I would like to see you real soon but think it would be best all the way around if I don't try. But Darling my heart cries out against this. If I for what I want to I'd be back there as quick as I can but I know that it would be no good.
