150 NEW NAMES FOR SHAW JURY

Source Reports Connally Will Testify

The prosecution and the defense have a new list of 150 names from which to choose two alternate jurors when the conspiracy trial of Clay Shaw resumes Monday in Criminal District Court.

A jury of 12 men was completed Saturday. Peter M. Tatum, a maintenance mechanic, was the final juror chosen, after 110 prospects were reviewed.

Selection of the alternates and disposal of one motion must be finished before the prosecution unfolds its case. Asst. Dist. Atty. James Alcock said he expects to make opening remarks Tuesday.

Houston officials have notified DA Jim Garrison that former Texas Gov. John Connally and his wife will testify as witnesses for the state, according to a confidential court source. Connally earlier said he would not come to New Orleans for the trial willingly.

The Connallys, who were riding in the car in which President John F. Kennedy was shot in Dallas, were among several witnesses called by the state. The subpoenas indicated that events dealing with the assassination would come up in the trial.

The prosecution, however, has refused to state clearly if it intends to link the assassination with the alleged New Orleans-based conspiracy. A Washington, D. C., judge has instructed Garrison to make clear by Wednesday any supposed link if Garrison expects the judge to declare the secret Kennedy autopsy records relevant to the trial.
