UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION
Dallas, Texas
April 6, 1977

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY,
NOVEMBER 22, 1963,
DALLAS, TEXAS

On March 2, 1977, Robert J. Potrykus, Chief, Intelligence Division, Internal Revenue Service, Dallas, Texas, hand-delivered a letter to Ted L. Gunderson, Special Agent in Charge, the Dallas FBI office. The letter is on Internal Revenue Service stationery, and states as follows:

"Dear Mr. Gunderson:

"Recently, [REDACTED] in the Dallas Intelligence Division, received information from a confidential informant that might be helpful in the investigation of the Kennedy assassination.

"The informant stated that on the morning of the assassination, Ruby contacted him and asked if he would 'like to watch the fireworks.' He was with Jack Ruby and standing at the corner of the Postal Annex Building facing the Texas School Book Depository Building at the time of the shooting. Immediately after the shooting, Ruby left and headed toward the area of the Dallas Morning News Building.

"If you desire, Group Manager [REDACTED] can be available to discuss this matter with your agency. [REDACTED] can be contacted at 749-1801.

"Sincerely yours,

"/s/ Robert J. Potrykus
Chief Intelligence Division"

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY

On the afternoon of March 2, 1977, Special Agent [REDACTED] Dallas FBI office, attempted to telephone [REDACTED] but he had already gone home for the day.

On the morning of March 3, 1977, Special Agent [REDACTED] Dallas FBI office, telephonically contacted [REDACTED] Internal Revenue Service, Intelligence Division, Dallas, Texas, concerning the information in the above letter. [REDACTED] advised that it is a policy of the Internal Revenue Service that before the Internal Revenue Service can release the identity of an informant, that it has to obtain the consent of the informant. He will attempt to contact his informant and obtain this consent. He will contact Special Agent [REDACTED] as soon as he has contacted his informant. Once the consent is obtained, he will introduce Special Agent [REDACTED] to the informant, in order that the FBI can interview him. This informant has been out of town quite a bit, and it might take a few days to contact him.

During the afternoon of March 4, 1977, [REDACTED] advised that his informant is [REDACTED] and that he is in his office now. He is sending [REDACTED] to the FBI office to be interviewed, and that [REDACTED] will be at the Dallas FBI office at 2:30 PM, March 4, 1977.

At 2:25 PM, March 4, 1977, [REDACTED] who furnished his address as [REDACTED], telephonically contacted Special Agent [REDACTED] and stated that on the way to the FBI office, he bumped his lip, and that it is bleeding severely. He said he found out a few days ago that he has cancer of the lip, and also has a herpes sore in the area where his lip is bleeding. He stated that he will be at the FBI office at 8:00 AM on March 7, 1977, to furnish the information.

[REDACTED] did not personally appear at the Dallas FBI office on March 7, 1977, nor did he telephonically contact the office in an effort to make other interview arrangements.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY

At 3:00 PM, March 7, 1977, Special Agent [redacted] telephonically contacted [redacted] residence. A woman, who identified herself as [redacted] advised that her husband was not at home, and that she would give him the message to contact [redacted]

On the afternoon of March 7, 1977, efforts were made to contact [redacted] Internal Revenue Service, Dallas, Texas, but his secretary advised that he is at a meeting all week long. A message was left to have [redacted] contact Special Agent [redacted]

On March 14, 1977, [redacted] Internal Revenue Service, Intelligence, Dallas, Texas, telephonically contacted Special Agent [redacted], FBI, Dallas, Texas, and advised that he was at a school all last week, and therefore, could not get in contact with Special Agent [redacted]. He was advised that [redacted] to date has not made himself available to be interviewed by the Dallas office of the FBI. [redacted] advised that [redacted] has been furnishing information to Internal Revenue Service in connection with a special enforcement program that Internal Revenue Service Intelligence has concerning the criminal element. [redacted] has furnished information to Internal Revenue Service on local Dallas bookmakers. [redacted] advised that as far as he knows, that the information that [redacted] furnished has been reliable. [redacted] advised that when he last talked to [redacted] on March 4, 1977, that [redacted] asked him that if he talked to the FBI, what use would be made of the information. [redacted] told [redacted] that he might get a free trip to Washington to testify before a Congressional Committee concerning his information. [redacted] stated that [redacted] might have had second thoughts after he told him that.

[redacted] advised that several weeks ago, specific date unrecalled, he met [redacted] at the restaurant located on the twenty-fifth floor of the Manor House, Commerce Street, Dallas, Texas. [redacted] stated that [redacted] talked to him about [redacted] a former stripper in one of Jack Ruby's nightclubs. This conversation led to [REDACTED] discussing his knowledge of Ruby. [REDACTED] told him that on the morning of the assassination, Jack Ruby called him on the telephone and asked him if he would like to go to the Presidential Parade with him, and if he would "like to watch the fireworks." [REDACTED] said that he was with Jack Ruby and standing at the corner of the Postal Annex Building facing the Texas School Book Depository Building, at the time of the shooting. Immediately after the shooting, Ruby left and headed toward the area of the Dallas Morning News Building, without saying anything to him.

[REDACTED] also told him that after Jack Ruby was arrested for killing Lee Harvey Oswald, that he was also arrested on an unrelated criminal charge, and incarcerated at the Dallas County Jail. [REDACTED] got to know Ruby better in the County Jail, [REDACTED] and as Ruby's mind began to deteriorate, he would perform services for him, like bring him his food and reading material, because Ruby became very suspicious and felt that someone was trying to poison his food and do him harm.

[REDACTED] advised that when he initially got the information from [REDACTED] he put this information in a memorandum for the Internal Revenue Service National Office to be disseminated to Congressman Downing's Committee. The National Office returned the memorandum to Dallas, Texas, and told Internal Revenue Service to disseminate the information to the FBI in Dallas.

[REDACTED] advised that he has not seen the memorandum since Robert J. Potrykus, Chief, Intelligence Division, Internal Revenue Service, Dallas, Texas, had it prior to delivering the letter to the FBI in Dallas. [REDACTED] was requested to furnish a copy of the memorandum to the FBI, but he did not respond to that request, and stated that he did not know where the memorandum was. [REDACTED] will attempt to call [REDACTED] to determine why he has not made himself available for interview.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY

[REDACTED] is being transferred to [REDACTED] Texas, as of March 15, 1977, and can be reached at [REDACTED]

Special Agent [REDACTED] FBI, Dallas, Texas, telephonically contacted [REDACTED] residence during the morning, afternoon, and evening hours on March 11; March 14; March 15,; March 21; March 22; March 24; April 4; and April 5, 1977, but no one responded.

On March 22, 1977, Special Agent [REDACTED] FBI, Dallas, Texas, personally went to [REDACTED] residence, [REDACTED], but no one could be located at the residence. A message was left at the residence for [REDACTED] to contact [REDACTED]

On March 28, 1977, Special Agent [REDACTED] telephonically contacted [REDACTED] residence, and his wife answered the telephone. She stated that she gave him the message to contact Mr. [REDACTED] and that she also received the note that Mr. [REDACTED] left in the mailbox. She advised that her husband has been out of town, and should be home sometime this week. She advised that she will give him the message to contact [REDACTED]

On April 5, 1977, [REDACTED] Special Agent, Internal Revenue Service, Intelligence Division, Fort Worth, Texas, telephonically advised that he has utilized [REDACTED] as an informant since March 4, 1976, and another Internal Revenue Service Agent had contact with him beginning sometime in December, 1975. [REDACTED] advised that Internal Revenue Service has been using him in their special enforcement program concerning illegal criminal activities. As a result of information furnished by [REDACTED], Internal Revenue Service has opened up approximately fifteen tax investigations, and thirty audit examinations. He advised that in the past he has considered [REDACTED] reliable, but that he does not know whether or not [REDACTED] was truthful concerning the information he furnished about Jack Ruby. He advised that he has not personally talked to [REDACTED] since March 4, 1977, and that [REDACTED] has not returned his telephone calls. [REDACTED] advised that he has talked to [REDACTED] wife twice since

JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY

March 4, 1977, and left a message with her for [REDACTED] to call him. The last time he talked to her was last Wednesday or Thursday, and she told him that [REDACTED] was in the [REDACTED] area, trying to "make a buck here and there."

[REDACTED] stated that on March 4, 1977, [REDACTED] gave him every indication that he was going to keep his appointment with the FBI, and told him that he knew where the office was located. He advised that the possibility exists that [REDACTED] might have been untruthful, or he could have gotten cold feet because of all the publicity surrounding the reinvestigation of the President Kennedy assassination.
