1. On 7 December 1967, Subject was given a copy of two pages of his notes and requested to translate the notes and give an explanation of how he obtained the information. A copy of the notes, which are in Russian, is being retained with the original of this memorandum. Subject furnished the results to the undersigned on 8 December 1967.

2. Due to the amount of material being prepared by Subject and the work involved in preparation of transcripts, at the present time a detailed review and formal typing of the memoranda prepared by Subject is not possible. It will be completed at a later date and a separate attachment will be prepared for each specific case.

3. For the present, a copy of the memoranda furnished by the Subject on 8 December 1967 is attached and it is believed the writing of the Subject can be read by recipients of this memorandum.

4. These cases are being given an alphabetical designation at this time and as indicated above, a supplemental memorandum will later be prepared with a separate attachment on each specific case. Basically, the attachment covers the following cases:

- (a) [Redacted] - Possibly [Redacted]
- (b) [Redacted]

1. On 4 December 1967, Subject was given a copy of two pages of his notes and requested to translate the notes and give an explanation of how he obtained the information. A copy of the notes, which are in Russian, is being retained with the original of this memorandum. Subject furnished the results to the undersigned on 5 December 1967.

2. In view of the large number of cases (fourteen) contained in the above attachment, time has not permitted even a cursory review which would permit some additional explanatory remarks. A review will be conducted later and a supplemental memorandum prepared at least identifying some of the cases in the attached memoranda.

3. For the present, a copy of the memoranda furnished by the Subject on 5 December 1967 is attached and it is believed the writing of the Subject can be read by recipients of this memorandum.

4. These cases are being given an alphabetical designation at this time and as indicated above, a supplemental memorandum will later be prepared with a separate attachment on each specific case. Basically, the attachment covers the following cases:
