

Judge John C. Casey

From this batch of abstracts and examination of the underlying records it appears that in some respects my recollection was flawed and that Ray's robbery conviction was not reversed at about the time he escaped.

Here again, there are improper withholdings in the abstracts in the usual and predicted effort to hide the impropriety of the withholdings in the underlying records. What is withheld also is disclosed, as in 44-38861-4760 (St. Louis 44-775, which also makes for unnecessary confusion. The (b)(5) claim is inappropriate.

3848. (7)(C) claim only is made for withholdings pertaining to Ray's motion, as in "(obliterated) motion to set aside this conviction" and pertaining to "Ray would stand good chance of reversing his conviction," which is preceded and followed by obliterations.

3919 (in). The obliteration (again (7)(C)) follows "MOTION STILL PENDING BEFORE ST. JEROME JOHN C. CASEY." The OPR note for this serial includes, "...advise Judge John C. Casey, Vir Judge, planned to enter public order dir Ray to appear and prosecute his pending motions to vacate his sentence." This content is withheld from the underlying record, which concludes that Ray, "IF ALIVE, MAY REALIZE HE CAN BEAT ARMED ROBBERY RAY, BECAUSE HE HAS GOOD CHANCE OF BEATING THE KING RAY BEFORE A SOUTHERN JURY AND GIVE SELF UP."

3932. Total withholding of content, (b)(5). There is no claim that nothing is reasonably segregable because that form was not used.

The nature of the FBI's withholdings and FOIA practices is indicated by Serial 4005, which was reprocessed. As provided initially this is among the withholdings: "RE JUDGE JOHN C. CASEY. CASEY STILL HAS MOTION TO DISMISS SUBJECTS MOTION TO VACATE UNDER ADVISEMENT. NO PUBLICITY NOTED."

What is disclosed indicates that claims to exemption are subterfuges to hide what can be embarrassing and is not within any exemption.
