

Assassination Report Due in September

WASHINGTON (AP) — Indications are that the commission investigating the assassination of President John F. Kennedy will not make its report before sometime in September.

The commission, headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, has accumulated a mass of evidence that some members want to review further before a report is issued, sources said Tuesday.

With Congress driving for adjournment before the Democratic National Convention starts Aug. 24, Senate and House members on the commission are limited in the time they can give to the commission's work.
