

Campus roundup

Lane-Liebeler debate

The long-awaited debate between Mark Lane, Warren Commission critic and UCLA acting law professor Wesley Liebeler, one of the 14 assistant counsels to the Warren Commission, will take place at noon today in the Student Union Grand Ballroom.

Arrangements for the debate have been pending since Oct. 9 when Lane was at UCLA as the first speaker of the Associated Students Speakers Program.

Author of "Rush to Judgment," a critical analysis of the Warren Commission Report, Lane has spent over two years studying the Report and interviewing witnesses all over the country.

Prof. Irving Bernstein of the political science dept. will moderate the debate: "Resolved: The Conclusions of the Warren Commission Report are Valid."

Twelve minutes opening statements, nine minute rebuttals followed by six minute rebuttals, a 25 minute question and answer period and four minute closing statements will be the policy for the debate.

Sponsored by the UCLA Associated Students Speakers Program, the debate is open to UCLA students only and identification will be checked. END

D.B. -- 1/26/67

Lane

DB photo by Norm Schindler

Liebeler

DB photo by Norm Schindler

DB photo by Norm Schindler