...And no wonder. RUSH

questions millions of Americans are asking about the Warren Commission Report.

Mark Lane Rush to Judgment

A critique of the Warren Commission's inquiry into the murders of President John F. Kennedy, Officer J. D. Tippit and Lee Harvey Oswald
Introduction by Hugh Trevor-Roper

"Well-documented, persuasive. . . .
a powerful case for the proposition that the Commission committed numerous errors in admitting, evaluating, and excluding evidence."
— New York Times Book Review

"If one-tenth of these facts should prove to be significant, then the work of the Warren Commission will be judged by history to be a scandal worse than Teapot Dome."
— NORMAN MAILER, Front Page, Book Week

"Other critics have covered much of the same material that concerns Lane, but none have been more thorough and painstaking."
— San Francisco Examiner & Chronicle

"Lane has proved his point against the Commission. It just did not do its job properly. . . . What is needed now is a commission to investigate the Warren Commission and its findings."
— FRANCIS RUSSELL, The National Review
